Q. IV. What Ministers have DIED since the last Conference?

A. 1. In Great Britain, the thirty-three following:—

(1.) MARTIN YOUNG; who was born at Radstock, September 10th, 1813. From his birth his mother dedicated him to the Lord; and in the subsequent careful training of her son she showed the sincerity of her purpose. His early life, though unstained by flagrant vice, was spent without the realization of inward religion. At the age of twenty-one he went to Canada, as a land-surveyor, but on his arrival he changed his plans and established a school. There, far from home, and separated from his former associates, he reflected upon the counsels and prayers of his departed mother, turned with a broken heart to God, and found mercy through the atoning Saviour. He at once joined himself to the Wesleyan-Methodist Society, and soon began to preach that truth to others which had made him free. At the outbreak of the Canadian rebellion he returned home, and opened a school at Faversham, which he conducted with success until he entered the ministry in 1841. After spending a short time in the home work, he was appointed to Jamaica, where he ministered with great acceptance and usefulness for eleven years. He then resumed the work in England, and continued in it till the Conference of 1868, when failing health compelled him to retire as a Supernumerary. He was eminently devout in spirit, and though extremely reserved in manner, his amiable disposition, uniform seriousness, and unimpeachable integrity, combined with a mature judgment, gained for him the affection and confidence of his brethren, as well as the esteem and respect of the people to whom he preached the Word of Life. He entered the ministry with a mind stored with general information, and being a diligent student in theology, became "a workman that needed not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth." His sermons, which indicated careful preparation and considerable mental ability, were characterized by powerful appeals to the conscience, manifesting his deep concern for the salvation of those to whom he preached. His few years of retirement were beclouded by great mental depression, arising from physical causes; but he never lost his hold upon the promises of God, or the blessed hope of eternal life. His end was very sudden. On the 23rd of September, 1872, he was abroad, attending to some matters of business, and retired to rest as usual, but before midnight his happy spirit had escaped to the Paradise of God. He died in the sixtieth year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry.

(2.) George Turner (a); who was born at Norton, near Sheffield, in 1801. He was converted to God in his nineteenth year, entered the Wesleyan-Methodist ministry in 1824, and for forty-four years was uninterruptedly engaged in our full ministerial work. During his public life he was appointed, as Superintendent, to some of the most important of our Circuits, and was, at different times, Chairman of several Districts. He was profoundly attached to Wesleyan-Methodism, and was both a lucid expositor and an able defender of its principles; his pen was ever ready in behalf either of its polity or doctrine, and, on his retirement in 1868, the Conference addressed to him an official letter of thanks "for his efficient services in the spread and defence of Methodism." His personal character stood very high. An upright man, he spurned with indignation any approach to intrigue, dissimulation, or over-reaching. He was of a noble, transparent, unselfish, and confiding disposition; and while highly valuing the esteem and love of his brethren, amongst whom he made many warm friends, he was singularly free from ambition and the love of applause. His private life was to the end an example of cheerful piety and industry. His home-character was lovely; affectionate and thoughtful, he was the light, as well as the head, of the household. As a preacher, the range of the topics on which he was wont to dwell was comprehensive, and adapted to the times. He was a thorough theologian: it was not his habit to turn aside from a subject because it required long-continued and profound thought, or from a text because it demanded much study and exact criticism. In the pulpit he pursued his theme with logical correctness and force; so that it was often an intellectual treat, as well as a spiritual feast, to hear him. He was not given impatiently to expect immediate visible results from his delivery of the Gospel message, but was content to wait trustfully when these seemed to tarry. As a pastor he was attentive, judicious, and sympathizing; as a friend his honour was always worthy of reliance, and his judgment of confidence. As an administrator of Connexional affairs he was calm, wise, and prudent; and in critical times showed great ability and dignity. As an author he excelled: his "Constitution and Discipline of Wesleyan Methodism," and his work on "The Divine Validity of Infant Baptism as Administered by Pouring or Sprinkling," are text-books on these subjects. He was a valuable contributor to the "Wesleyan-Methodist Magazine," and other periodicals. His logical method and luminous style were adapted to convince the reader.

Mr. Turner's last days were such as became the close of a life so pure, useful, and honourable. He was afflicted with heart-disease; but his mind retained its vigour, while the ripening of the fruits of the Spirit within him became very evident. He keenly felt the deprivation when it was found necessary for him to cease from preaching. The fatal illness was short, and free from pain. His demeanour in his last hours was tranquil, reverent, and devout: he "endured, as seeing Him who is invisible," waiting patiently, with confidence in his Redeemer, till his change came. The last sentence he uttered was, "Let some one pray." As the prayer ended he responded, "Amen," and shortly afterwards his spirit quietly entered into rest. He died at Sunderland, September 28th, 1872, in the seventy-first year of his age, and the forty-ninth of his ministry.

(3.) Joseph Lowthian; who was born at Renwick, in Cumberland, July 28th, 1799. The son of Methodist parents, he gave himself to God in very early life. A paper written by himself in reference to that period records many gracious visitations of the Holy Spirit, his delight in secret prayer, and his sense of God's favour. For a time, however, the influence of ungodly companions led him to incline to infidelity. But he was followed by Divine grace; a sermon preached by his father induced him to go once more in sincere penitence to the cross of Christ, and he soon obtained a renewed assurance of God's pardoning love. Thenceforth his Christian course was unwavering; and though, from nervousness of temperament occasioned by long-continued bodily weakness, his religious experience was often less joyous than that of some others, he remained steadfast, and to the end enjoyed "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Of his call to the ministry he had no doubt; to use his own words, "Every other path seemed blocked up." From his first appointment, which was to the Brecon Circuit in the year 1822, to the year 1860, when he was compelled by failure of health to become a Supernumerary, he continued a faithful and earnest preacher of the Gospel. When he could no longer perform the public work of the ministry, his diminishing strength was employed in leading classes, and in visiting members of the Society, especially the sick and aged. From such labours of love he only ceased when incapacitated by the illness which terminated in his death. For two months he lay in a state of complete physical prostration, but evidently enjoying settled tranquillity of mind. On the morning of October 17th, 1872, he finished his course so calmly that those who stood by could not tell the moment of his departure. Mr. Lowthian's preaching was characterized by unflinching fidelity to the saving truths of God's word, and by his enforcement of them upon the consciences of his hearers. But it is more particularly as a pastor that his memory will be cherished. His untiring diligence, his patience, his faithful yet tender warnings, and his gentle encouragements, won the reverence and love of those among whom he laboured; while his uniform Christian temper and conduct caused many, and especially his family and friends, to "glorify God in him." He died in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and the fifty-first of his ministry.

(4.) Edward Sumner; who was born at Epperstone, in the county of Nottingham. Under the careful training of his parents, the first Methodists of that village, he feared God from his youth, and was converted in his fourteenth year. By careful reading and close study he became a wise, able, and useful preacher of the Gospel. His sermons, which were expository and natural in their arrangement, were delivered with earnestness, and often closed with a pointed and telling application. As a Superintendent he was prompt, methodical, gentle but yet firm. He was a steadfast friend and diligent pastor, paying great attention to young men who gave promise of future usefulness; several of whom remember his judicious hints and counsel, and kind encouragement and remonstrances. In all the relations of life he showed "uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, sound speech that could not be condemned." His voice failing, he became a Supernumerary in 1851, residing in Madeley. But he still strove in various ways "to serve his generation by the will of God," interesting himself especially in promoting religious education. He projected, and ultimately completed, the "Fletcher Memorial School," at Madeley-Wood. For three years before his death his mind was beclouded, except at rare and brief intervals. When taken for death, he rallied for a moment, and said, in his former tones and voice, "Jesus!" and, "God bless you." He then relapsed into unconsciousness, till he passed away to his eternal reward. He died November the 9th, 1872, in the eightieth year of his age, and fifty-sixth of his ministry.

(5.) Henry Vyvyan Olver; who was born at Launceston, April 30th, 1790. His musical taste and skill first brought him, whilst yet a child, into connection with Methodism. He early found the Saviour's grace, and entered upon His service. As a youth he was thoughtful and studious beyond his years. Whilst he busied himself with all knowledge for professional purposes, his daily delight was in the Word of God, and in such exposition of it as may be found in the writings of Mr. Wesley, Mr. Fletcher, and the older English divines. His knowledge of the Bible was remarkably full and exact. Having earned a good degree by diligence and usefulness in the Launceston Circuit, he was summoned, with brief notice, to the ranks of the Methodist ministry by the Conference of 1812, and entered at once upon his work as a Home-Missionary Minister in the Barnstaple Circuit. Marvellously preserved in 1814 from death at the hands of a mob at Rickmansworth, then in the Luton Circuit, he lived to preach the Gospel for more than fifty years. His labours were confined to the Western Districts of England. As a preacher he was thoughtful, clear, evangelical, and earnest; and he loved to dwell upon the fulness and freeness of the Divine grace. As a pastor he was diligent and systematic in both town and village; and his fidelity and sympathy endeared him to many. In temperament, he was keenly sensitive in the presence of circumstances either friendly or adverse; and thence arose many of his greatest enjoyments and of his sorest trials. In his unselfish devotion to his ministerial duties he never faltered. When, after forty-two years spent in the full work, he was no longer able to endure its responsibility, he continued to render willing and efficient service as a Supernumerary in the Banwell Circuit, where for twelve years he usually preached twice on the Sunday and occasionally on the week-day. In 1866 he removed to Redland, in the Clifton Circuit, where increasing infirmities soon closed his public labours. Notwithstanding intervals of acute suffering, he was daily cheered by the presence and favour of his Lord; until, with a full consciousness of his dependence upon Divine mercy through the one Atonement, and with a child-like, unquestioning confidence in the fatherly love of God, he painlessly "fell asleep" on Sunday, November 10th, 1872, in the eighty-third year of his age, and the sixty-first of his ministry. His was a long life, well spent and well ended.

(6.) JOHN JOSHUA PARKER; who was born at Cambridge, in January, 1850, and was made a partaker of saving grace when sixteen years of age. Constrained by the love of Christ, he soon began to call sinners to repentance; and having a deep conviction that it was his duty to go "far hence" to the heathen, offered himself for mission work. In 1870 he entered the Richmond branch of the Theological Institution; but his health not being considered sufficiently vigorous for labour in the foreign field, he was sent to Accrington, and at the following Conference to the Leigh Circuit. He was a young man of great promise. His earnest sermons, his fervent prayers, and godly conversation, produced in a short time an impression upon the minds of those who heard him which will not soon pass away. His one purpose was to win souls to Christ, and God gave him the desire of his heart. On the 27th of October he preached his last sermon, from "Watchman, what of the night?" and those who listened to him on that occasion, felt that to him "the night" was near. He sank rapidly, until, on the 25th of November, 1872, he fell asleep in Jesus, in the twenty-third year of his age, and the second of his ministry.

(7.) WILLIAM SHAW (A); who was born at Glasgow, of Yorkshire parents, and died at Brixton, December 3rd, 1872, in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and the fifty-third of his ministry. The greater part of his ministerial life was spent in South Africa, whither he was appointed to accompany the first English settlers in what is now called the Eastern Province of the Cape of Good Hope. About three years after his arrival, his labours were extended from these British residents to the natives of the country, among whom he established missions beyond the Colonial boundary, thus laying the foundations of Methodism in that part of the African Continent. In the extension and direction of the evangelizing work both within and beyond the colonies which were successively formed, he was actively occupied for more than thirty years, and to him, under God, its present prosperous condition is very largely owing. His steady, practical piety, his calmly-fervent zeal, his patience, prudence, and sagacity, eminently fitted him for the post of General Superintendent, which he held for twenty years, and secured him the confidence and respect of all classes of the community. On his return to England he spent ten years in important Circuits; and retired as a Supernumerary in 1869, still, however, continuing to render valuable service, especially in connection with the Missionary and Education departments. In the year 1865 he was, with much cordiality, chosen President of the Conference, his brethren being glad in this manner to show their esteem for his character, and their sense of the value of his services. It was manifest that his long absence from England had not impaired his fitness for office at home; and he showed himself an able and faithful administrator in the several posts he was called to fill. Few more truly valuable men have been found in the ranks of the Methodist ministry, and none have been more generally esteemed. Devout, benign, watchful, benevolent, wise in counsel, sober in thought and speech, all his excellencies were enhanced by an habitual modesty. His declining years were happy, and his end was peaceful. His epitaph might be written in the words of Scripture, describing one of the first missionaries to the heathen, "He was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added to the Lord."

(8). Thomas Stead. This venerable man entered the ministry in the year 1812. He was born near Halifax, and received a good education. Soon after quitting school he became converted to God through the heart-stirring appeals of Methodist preachers. The late Dr., then Mr. Bunting, who was travelling in the Halifax Circuit at that time, perceived in the character of the young convert the promise of usefulness, and through his counsels and influence, Mr. Stead was induced to offer himself for the ministry. His subsequent career justified the hopes of the Church. He became an able minister and a loved pastor in the important Circuits to which he was appointed. In the formation of his mind there was no preponderating gift, but a happy balance of good qualities. In all his duties, domestic and ministerial, he was an example of fidelity and a model of exactness. The long day of his life, as it began to set, was full of evening light. To the latest hour he evinced the deepest interest in the work of God, especially as developed in the Church which he loved. The doctrines which had proved saving to him in his youth, and which he had well defended while his strength lasted, were the solace of his age. Resting safely and tranquilly in "the truth as it is in Jesus," he departed in great peace, December 6th, 1872, in the eighty-fourth year of his age, and the sixty-first of his ministry.

(9.) JOHN ROADHOUSE; who was born at Monkfryston, Yorkshire, September 20th, 1783. He was early a subject of religious impressions. Attending a Lovefeast when about eighteen years of age, he found "peace in believing." He entered the ministry in the year 1808. His offer was refused by the District Committee on the ground of the feebleness of his health; but the demand for labourers exceeding the supply, the Conference appointed him to the Stafford Circuit, where, as in other places, his ministry was greatly owned of God in the conversion of sinners. In wide and laborious Circuits, and in some cases amidst strong opposition, he did the work of an evangelist with zeal and devotion, evincing the sincerity and strength of his religious convictions. By frequent and loud preaching he lost his voice, and after twenty-eight years of faithful service, was obliged to desist from travelling, and resume, to some extent, his worldly occupation. He extricated himself from business as soon as practicable, and eventually settled in Leeds, where for many years he was a willing helper of the Circuit ministers. To Methodism he was ardently attached: he delighted in the society of his ministerial brethren, and was an earnest lover of good men. In old age and feebleness he was most exemplary in his attendance on the means of grace, and bore ready and frequent testimony to "the grace of God that bringeth salvation." Having outlived almost all his contemporaries, he died in peace, December 17th, 1872, in the ninetieth year of his age, and the sixty-fifth of his ministry.

(10.) JOHN GEDEN; who was born February 21st, 1793, at Lower Tysoe, in the county of Warwick. He was the son of Methodist parents, and received a wise and holy training. He found peace with God after a prolonged period of Divine discipline and of painful spiritual conflict. For several years he approved himself a true servant of Christ, by manifold labour and suffering as a village evangelist and shepherd of souls. In 1816, dreading the responsibilities of the ministry, yet compelled by stress of conscience to offer himself for it, he was accepted by the Conference, and the year following was sent to his first Circuit, in the Isle of Wight. From this time till he became a Supernumerary, in 1865, he discharged the duties of a Methodist minister, filling, as he advanced in life, some of the higher offices of the Connexion with exemplary diligence, fidelity, and pureness of Christian aim. His mind was robust, and in his early course he took much pains to equip himself with theological and general knowledge. He invariably preached under a profound sense of the gravity of his vocation, and his sermons combined some of the best qualities of the Christian expositor, divine, and moralist. He was a conscientious and laborious pastor, and administered public affairs with conspicuous wisdom and judgment. His love of Methodism was only second to his inflexible loyalty to the Gospel. He was transparent, modest, upright, generous, knowing nothing of selfishness, conceit, or ambition. It was the simple purpose of his life to do the will of God, and to be meet for the coming of the Master. Some years before his death his physical strength gave way, but his mind retained its force till within a very little of the end. Almost his last conscious act was a solemn ascription of "Glory to God for ever for the precious blood of Christ!" He died at Taunton, December 26th, 1872, in the eightieth year of his age, and the fifty-seventh of his ministry.

(11.) WILLIAM FOX; who was born at Attercliffe, near Sheffield, in the year 1806. When seventeen years of age he was deeply convinced of sin, and exercising faith in Christ, received the assurance of forgiveness by the Spirit of adoption. About two years after he felt called of God to preach the Gospel, and in a little while entered our ministry, with a strong preference for Mission work; but there being no opening at the time, he spent two years in Circuits at home, in one of which it is believed not fewer than a hundred persons were converted under his ministry in the course of a few weeks. In April, 1833, he sailed for Western Africa, where, for ten years, he laboured with great earnestness and success. He is remembered with much esteem by his brother missionaries as a zealous, persevering, and warm-hearted fellow-worker. After his return to this country he laboured in various English Circuits with much fervour and usefulness. As a preacher, he was sententious and pointed, and his sermons were delivered with great pathos and power. In prayer he had "power with God," and "prevailed." Through a severe illness he was obliged to become a Supernumerary at the last Conference. A violent cold, caught in December, hastened his end. His death was sudden, but peaceful. Some of his last words were the lines,—

> "Fix'd on this ground will I remain," etc;
> "Jesu, Lover of my soul," etc.

To his family he said, "Love the Lord, all of you." He died at Brettel-Lane, in the Stourbridge Circuit, December 28th, 1872, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the forty-second of his ministry.

(12.) JAMES DOHERTY; who was born at Tunstall, Staffordshire, in the year 1830. He was a subject of powerful religious influence in early life, and his conversion, which was very marked, was followed by a life-consecration to God. His services as a local preacher were highly acceptable and useful; and, having passed through a course of training at Didsbury, he entered the ministry in the year 1855. His preaching, which always aimed at a faithful exposition of God's Word, derived interest from its originality and fluency, as well as from the Divine power with which it was attended. Of gentle disposition and retiring habits, he sought no prominence but that which the discharge of duty involved, yet he acquired the sincere respect of his hearers, and the deep affection of those who knew him closely. A few years ago he was compelled by delicate health to retire for a season from the full work of the ministry. On his return to his beloved labour, he sought with increased earnestness to fulfil his course. The Master, however, had designed for him an early entrance into rest. His final illness was brief; but a few hours before his departure, he was able to declare himself resting upon Christ, and fully prepared for the great change. He has left behind him a testimony to the reality of his faith more valuable than even last words of victorious triumph, the testimony of a consistent Christian life. He departed hence, at St. George's-in-the-East, on Monday, December 30th, 1872, in the forty-third year of his age, and the eighteenth of his ministry.

(13.) John Isaac Muff, son of the late Rev. Isaac Muff; who was born at Burton-on-Trent, December 14th, 1816, and died at Slingsby, in the Malton Circuit, January 8th, 1873. He was converted to God during a gracious awakening among the boys at Woodhouse-Grove School. When eighteen years of age, he began to preach, and six years afterwards entered the ministry, the full duties of which he discharged with fidelity and success for twenty-nine years. Modest and retiring in disposition, he was a man of devout spirit, of blameless character, and of consistent life; highly esteemed by his brethren, and loved by all who knew him intimately. He was well-read in theology, and possessed a considerable fund of general information. His discourses, which were carefully prepared and earnestly delivered, were evangelical, instructive, and practical. His attention to pastoral duties was marked by great diligence; his sympathizing spirit and gentle manners eminently fitting him for this work, and rendering his visits, especially to the sick and distressed, acceptable and beneficial. He was a judicious Superintendent, an affectionate colleague, and a faithful friend. Mr. Muff possessed an accurate and extensive acquaintance with the laws and usages of Wesleyan-Methodism, was strongly attached to its doctrines and discipline, and intensely loved his ministerial work. At the Conference of 1870, through failure of health, he became a Supernumerary. His affliction was of a most painful character, often causing severe suffering for hours together; but it was borne with unfailing patience and cheerful resignation: "The joy of the Lord" was his strength. His death came unexpectedly, but he was found ready. While seated in his chair, without a struggle or a sigh, he peacefully fell asleep in Jesus, in the fifty-seventh year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry.

(14.) Thomas Shaw; who was born at Northwich, in the year 1815. Religious training, aided by a combination of favouring circumstances, led to his conversion to God when he was nine years of age. His good natural abilities having become greatly quickened by his experience of the new birth, he cultivated an ardent thirst for knowledge, and early began to exercise his gifts and graces in such spheres of Christian activity as were open to him. In his sixteenth year his name was placed upon the Local-preachers' Plan; and it soon was made evident to others as well as to himself, that he was called of God to the work of the ministry. Conformably with this conviction he devoted his energies to the preaching of the Gospel. He was favoured with a collegiate course in Theology, and in the year 1842 was appointed to a Circuit; in which, as also in thirteen others successively assigned to him, he exercised an eminently awakening and edifying ministry, to which God gave many seals. He was a diligent pastor, and greatly endeared himself to the people of his charge. In the year 1870 he was appointed to the Buxton Circuit, where he continued to toil with unabated ardour until a few weeks before he was called to exchange mortality for life. Having been laid aside by a succession of colds, and harassed by much perplexity and reiterated sorrows, his vigorous frame began to give way; and although his medical attendant considered him out of danger, and he himself was confidently expecting to resume his beloved employment on the following Sunday, on January 14th, 1873, he sweetly breathed his spirit into the hands of his faithful Redeemer, in the fifty-eighth year of his age, and the thirty-third of his ministry.

(15.) William Lord; who was born at Bacup, in Rossendale, May 11th, 1791. He was convinced of sin when a boy at school, under the ministry of the Rev. William Edward Miller. Helped by the counsels and prayers of his schoolfellow David Stoner, he found peace with God through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, and henceforth gave abiding evidence that he had become a "new creature" in Christ Jesus. He entered the ministry in 1811, and was early distinguished by his sound judgment, aptness to teach, and administrative gifts. Entrusted by his brethren with various duties involving great responsibility, he ably and faithfully fulfilled them. As Representative of the British Conference to the Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States of America, and as President of the Canadian Conference for two successive years, he rendered important service, and his "ministrations, counsels, prudence, and personal sacrifices" connected therewith, are still held in grateful remembrance. As Governor of Woodhouse-Grove School, a post which he held fifteen years, he took a fatherly interest in the sons of ministers committed to his care, and enjoyed the confidence of the parents and the affection of the boys. By his untiring energy, he was mainly instrumental in the enlargement of the buildings, and in the general improvement of the premises. He was a man of guileless spirit and blameless conversation, — gentle, genial, and benevolent almost to excess. Throughout his ministerial life he was never known to throw off the harness unless disabled by affliction. On retiring from the full work of the ministry, he still preached Jesus with unabated zeal, and was a diligent and welcome pastor of the flock. When upwards of fourscore years of age, being pressed to prolong a visit to a son, he replied, "I must get to my work." His last affliction was brought on by exposure in visiting the sick. His sufferings were acute, but his patience was unfailing. In conversation he said, "No language can describe my sufferings;" and, with unwonted emphasis, he added, "I have peace, peace, peace,—glorious peace; happiness, happiness!" His strength suddenly failing, he fell into heavy slumber, and by gentle and apparently unconscious steps, "walked through the valley of the shadow of death," to emerge into the brightness and glory of his Saviour's presence. He finished his course at Manningham, January 20th, 1873, in the eighty-second year of his age, and the sixty-second of his ministry.

(16.) Jesse Pilcher; who was born at Ashford, in Kent, and converted in early life. He entered the ministry in 1831, and after labouring a short time at home, went to the West Indies, where he remained thirteen years. In addition to his ordinary work, he, in an emergency, rendered great service in conducting the erection of numerous mission-premises. Somewhat enfeebled by a tropical climate, he returned to this country, where with delight he again ministered the Word of Life. He was subsequently Superintendent of our Irish Missions and Schools, and General Superintendent of Missions in Natal. The remaining part of his time was spent in the home work. For nearly five years he was laid aside by affliction, and confined to his house; but he still endeavoured by his seasonable words to do good to all that visited him. He was an intelligent man, a charming companion, a patient sufferer, an exemplary Christian. As a divine, he was sound; as a minister, faithful; as a pastor, indefatigable. He died at Abergavenny, on the 23rd of January, 1873, in the sixty-sixth year of his age, and the forty-second of his ministry. After the seizure which proved fatal, he was not able to speak, but his general religious experience, as previously declared by himself, was expressed in the words—

> "Not a cloud doth arise To darken the skies,
> Or hide for one moment The Lord from mine eyes."

And with this, the testimony of those who knew him best fully accords.

(17.) WILLIAM SELLERS; who was born July 29th, 1831. From a child he had the fear of God before his eyes, and was a subject of the Spirit's strivings. He was converted in early life, being enabled to rely upon his Saviour, and rejoice in the pardoning mercy of God, when present at a Class-meeting as a means of grace. He had more than average mental ability, and was of studious habits; the results of which were evident in efficient and acceptable pulpit-ministrations. In his last illness his sufferings were unusually severe, but were endured without a murmur; his patience bore testimony to the sustaining power of Divine grace. He died at Wantage, on the 31st of January, 1873, in the forty-second year of his age, and the fifteenth of his ministry.

(18.) SAMUEL BOWMAN; who was born at White-Abbey, near Carrickfergus, April 7th, 1815. His parents were godly Methodists, who brought him up in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord." He feared the Lord from his youth, and in very early life experienced the regenerating grace of God. While pursuing his studies at the University of Glasgow, he began to preach, and was called to the full work of the Christian ministry in 1837. His first Circuit was Truro, where his labours were greatly blessed to the conversion of sinners. He subsequently travelled in various parts of England and Scotland, and in every Circuit, it is believed, was instrumental in turning men from "darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God." He was a man of good natural ability, and of considerable attainments. As a preacher, he was clear and sound in doctrinal statements, fertile in illustration, and practical in aim; as a friend and pastor, he was tender, considerate, sympathizing, and faithful. His constitution, never robust, was greatly enfeebled by severe attacks of illness, brought on by arduous toil and exposure in the earlier years of his ministry. After thirty-five years of faithful service, he became a Supernumerary at the last Conference, and retired to Gainsborough, where, after a few hours' illness, he exchanged mortality for life, on Saturday, March 8th, 1873, in the fifty-eighth year of his age, and the thirty-sixth of his ministry.

(19.) Thomas Jackson; who was born at Sancton, in Yorkshire, December 10th, 1783, and died near London, March 10th, 1873. This venerable Minister entered on his probation in his twenty-first year, and died in his ninetieth, having maintained an unsullied reputation during the whole period. For twenty years he laboured in some of our most important Circuits; then for eighteen years as Editor of the Connexional publications; for the next nineteen he was a Theological Tutor, and during the last twelve he was a Supernumerary. His spotless character and high moral worth were based upon a sound conversion, and a rich, uniform, and growing experience of the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. His ministerial course presents a striking example of the value and importance of steady and conscientious labour. Without brilliant parts, and without educational advantages, he applied himself with all his heart to the improvement of such talents and opportunities as were granted to him, and with the Lord's pound he gained ten pounds. He gave "attendance to reading, to exhortation, to teaching:" he "meditated on these things, he was wholly in them," guarding against all diversions from the great work of his life; and his profiting appeared unto all. He acquired vast stores of knowledge, but he never said "It is enough;" and continued to read, write, and meditate almost to the last day of his life. His preaching was sound, instructive, and adapted to general usefulness, though most distinguished by careful exposition. He did not affect rhetorical ornament, but his appeals to the conscience were direct and powerful, and bursts of pious emotion enlivened his discussions. He had the pen of a ready writer, and for nearly sixty years it was kept in constant exercise, his various productions being all devoted to the service of religion. The exposition and vindication of Methodist doctrine, experience, and discipline were his favourite themes; but his biographical and historical writings have been highly and justly appreciated. As a Tutor he was affectionate, painstaking, and perspicuous, comprehensive and copious in the treatment of his topics, and unutterably anxious to secure and perpetuate sound doctrine. As Editor he rendered valuable service by the labours bestowed not only to sustain our periodical literature, but to provide accurate and complete editions of our standard authors. It is not surprising that his brethren delighted to do him honour, or that he should have been twice elected President of the Conference. On the first of these occasions he was remarkably sustained and blessed of God in guiding and animating the celebration of the Centenary of Methodism. His antiquarian researches contributed much to the interest and success of the movement, but his devout temper far more; making the several meetings which he attended, means of grace never to be forgotten by those who listened to him, and bringing back those days of the Son of Man which he commemorated. On the second occasion his passive graces were as conspicuous. It was a time of severe trial, but while firm in upholding our discipline, he maintained a Christian temper towards opponents, sometimes under very trying circumstances. His old age was eminently beautiful. Always calm, cheerful, benign, often overflowing with kindness and love, he carried a happy influence wherever he went, and excited universal love and admiration, so that his hoary head was indeed a crown of glory. Death had no terrors for him. Being mercifully spared from heavy and long-continued suffering, he may be said to have died of decay rather than disease; and, like Abraham, he went to his fathers in peace, and was buried in a good old age.

(20.) Humphrey Stevenson; who was born at Bestwood-Park, Notts., October 1st, 1787. Blessed with pious parents, he was converted in his boyhood, and appointed, while still a youth, leader of the class in which his mother was a member. Four years later he entered the Wesleyan ministry, and for thirty-nine years laboured in it with fidelity and success. He was a plain, sound, hard-working Methodist preacher. During twenty-seven years he was a Supernumerary, but to the last it was his joy to work in the Lord's vineyard. He delighted to meet his class, to visit the sick, and occasionally to preach. In advanced age he was characterized by great good sense, and a certain quaint humour. His life was blameless, and he was strong in faith and charity; if he could not speak well of any, he refrained from speech. Full of peace himself, he took a bright view of the state and prospects of the Church. He was no believer in the degeneracy of modern Methodism. He held that the preachers of the present day, on the whole, were as able, and quite as faithful and zealous, and the people generally as consistent as when, seventy years ago, he began his work as a Class-leader. During his last night on earth he was almost constantly praising God and singing. About four o'clock in the morning he wished the gas-light in his room to be put out, saying, "The day had come; it was all light around him." Fours hours later he passed into that city the inhabitants of which "need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever." He died at South-Shields, March 22nd, 1873, in the eighty-sixth year of his age, and the sixty-sixth of his ministry.

(21.) James Godden; who was born at Marden, Kent, in the year 1812. From very early life he was conscious of the strivings of the Holy Spirit, and when about seventeen years of age, was deeply convinced of sin under the ministry of the late Rev. Francis Collier, at Sittingbourne. On a Sabbath morning, while singing with the congregation the ninth hymn in our Hymn-Book, he was enabled to trust in Jesus for salvation. The following year he began to preach. In 1834 he was recommended from the Rochester Circuit as a candidate for our ministry, and accepted. During the next seventeen years, being favoured with uninterrupted health, he never failed to fulfil a Sabbath appointment. A genial Christian, he illustrated by his example what Mr. Wesley terms the "cheerfulness of faith." He was a diligent pastor, and a faithful and successful preacher. His discourses were characterized by originality and persuasiveness. In 1869 he was compelled, through entire failure of health, to become a Supernumerary. This was a source of great grief to him, for he intensely loved his ministerial work. As long as his strength permitted, he preached occasionally, and found much pleasure in conducting the weekly prayer-meeting at Hawkhurst, where he resided. His severe afflictions were borne with patient submission to the Divine will. The day before his death he exclaimed, "I am happier than ever I was." This good minister of Jesus Christ entered into rest on Sabbath evening, March 30th, 1873, in the sixty-first year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(22.) THOMAS BROTHWOOD; who was born in the neighbourhood of Wellington, Salop, in the year 1792. He was awakened to a sense of his sin and danger in early life, and soon afterwards, by a faith "of the operation of God," was "justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus." By the good providence of God he was removed to Dudley, where he was recognized by the venerable Joseph Sutcliffe, as one possessed of graces and gifts suited to our ministry, and by him was recommended as a candidate at the Conference of 1825. For thirty-two years he laboured in the Itinerant work. His preaching was distinguished by plainness of speech, sound doctrine, zeal, and fidelity; and the Lord crowned his labours with success. For nearly sixteen years he in the same spirit and manner discharged, as a Supernumerary, the duties of preacher and pastor in the Madeley and other Circuits. He was remarkable for his sincerity and uprightness; and was ardent in his attachments, affectionate in his disposition, and unwavering in his friendships. His last affliction was short, but very severe. He died in peace on Monday morning, April 7th, 1873, in the eighty-first year of his age, and the forty-eighth of his ministry.

(23.) THOMAS STOKES; who was born at Compton-Dando, in the Midsomer-Norton Circuit, on January 6th, 1846. His conversion to God, at the age of seventeen, was clear and well-defined, and from that period until he yielded up his spirit into the hands of God, his religious experience was deep, and his character exemplary. During a residence of three years at Didsbury, he was a diligent student, and the amiableness of his disposition caused him to be greatly loved. He was a man of sound judgment and real worth, and was eminently modest and self-distrustful. His sermons, which were chaste in composition, and full of evangelical truth, were always directed to the highest ends. When returning from an appointment in the Ludlow Circuit, in December, he caught a severe cold, which resulted in congestion of the lungs. After four months of great suffering, endured with much patience and resignation, he died, in the full triumph of faith, on the 18th of April, 1873, in the twenty-eighth year of his age, and the second of his ministry.

(24.) Jacob Morton; who was born at Bradwell, Derbyshire, in August, 1818. His parents and grandparents were Methodists, and his pious mother's influence over him was most salutary and abiding. When about fifteen years of age he was converted to God, in a revival which took place at Sheffield in 1833-4. His conversion was immediately followed by determined efforts for mental culture, and every opportunity for study was diligently used. He was first employed in the service of the Church by the late Dr. Dixon, towards whom he always cherished a deep sense of obligation for his counsel and aid, and by whom he was proposed as a candidate for the ministry. Accepted as a probationer at the Conference of 1840, his great desire thenceforth was to be a faithful and successful Methodist preacher. In the various Circuits in which he laboured his ministry was owned of God, and he won the ardent affection of the people. As a preacher vigorous and thoughtful, as a Superintendent faithful and wise, as a colleague and friend trustworthy and kind, he was in high esteem with all who were associated with him. He delighted in the acquisition of knowledge, and a wide range of subjects occupied his attention. To the study of astronomy he was especially devoted, and when resident in the Bristol North Circuit he was admitted as a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society. His last Circuit was Exeter, on his appointment to which he became Chairman of the Exeter District, and in this capacity speedily gained the confidence and regard of all with whom he came into contact. His ministry here was most acceptable, and the last services which he conducted were remarkable for the hallowed influence which attended them. His labours were brought most unexpectedly and painfully to a close. After an illness of four or five days, during which no danger was apprehended, he rapidly sank. Such was the effect of the disease from which he suffered, that no testimony of his Christian hope could be given on the last day of his life. Gently and peacefully, however, he passed to the presence of that Master whom he had served, and who had smiled on his labours. He died on Sunday, April 20th, 1873, in the fifty-fifth year of his age, and the thirty-third of his ministry.

(25.) THOMAS SHORT; who was born at South Killingholme, Lincolnshire, October 10th, 1799. He was converted to God when nineteen years of age. In 1825 he entered on the work of the Christian ministry, in which he was actively employed for thirty-nine years, occupying at times some of our more important Circuits. In 1864 he became a Supernumerary, residing first in Leeds, and subsequently at Brigg. His deportment was unaffectedly modest, and his habits were retiring. He was a hard student, had a high appreciation of the great truths of the Gospel, and was diligent and careful in preparation for the pulpit, so that he became an able minister of the New Testament. His ministry was acceptable, earnest, and effective. In the Circuits in which he laboured, he was much beloved, and his memory is affectionately cherished by many who were edified by his instructive ministrations. During his last affliction he was often exercised by strong pain, which he bore with exemplary patience, and his trust in the atonement of Christ was without the slightest misgiving. He died at Brigg, May 11th, 1873, in the sure hope of everlasting life through our Lord Jesus Christ, in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and the forty-eighth of his ministry.

(26.) SAMUEL HOPE WARDLEY; who was born at Peterborough, September 17th, 1810, and died at Colchester, May 11th, 1873. When quite a youth he left home for London, where, under faithful preaching, he received deep religious impressions, but for a time relapsed into indifference. He afterwards removed to Ramsey, where his convictions of sin were renewed, and he obtained the pardoning love of God. In 1830 he began to preach, and four years afterwards entered the ministry, in which he laboured in his several Circuits with great acceptance and success. In the pulpit he was earnest and thoroughly practical: his sermons were concise, well-arranged, and full of Gospel truth. As a Superintendent he was wise and able, and the impartial manner in which he discharged his duties won for him general respect. His attachment to Methodism was most sincere, and in an unassuming manner he cheerfully rendered valuable service to the Connexion. While of a retiring disposition, he was amiable, consistent, and truly devout. His last illness, which was brief, but of a distressing nature, was borne with great fortitude and resignation. He longed for recovery, that he might do more work for God, but bowed with entire submission to the will of his Heavenly Father, exclaiming, "My times are in Thy Hand." Some of his last expressions were, "I am an unprofitable servant, but Jesus died for me;" "All I can do is to rest upon Christ; I cast myself, with all my unworthiness upon Him." When the summons came, he was found ready, passing to his eternal rest in the sixty-third year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(27.) Evan Richards; who was born at Pwllheli, North Wales, May 13th, 1817. He was converted to God in his youth, and soon discovered talents for usefulness in the Church. His religion was genuine, and his mental character strong, earnest, and energetic. Having laboured for some time as a local preacher, with much acceptance, he offered himself as a candidate for the Itinerancy. In the year 1841 he commenced his course as a Wesleyan minister, and henceforth devoted all his energies to the fulfilment of his duties. He bestowed much labour and judgment on the preparation of his sermons, which were full of important, evangelical truth, and were delivered with earnestness and power. His constant aim was to win souls to Christ: for the welfare of the flocks committed to his care he was deeply concerned, and so taught and laboured that he might "present every man perfect in Christ Jesus." He was an ardent and faithful Methodist, and possessed a more than ordinary aptitude for the management of affairs relating to his sacred calling. For six years he was the Financial Secretary of the South Wales District, the functions of which office he discharged with fidelity and efficiency. He enjoyed the esteem and confidence of his brethren, as well as the people among whom he laboured; and by his removal the District has sustained a loss not easily repaired. For some years he was subject occasionally to severe pain and suffering, and his once strong and vigorous constitution gradually gave way. He continued, however, though sometimes with considerable difficulty, to preach till within a month of his death. His last illness, though not long, was severe, but his mind was graciously sustained, and he was calm and perfectly resigned to the Divine will. He declared several times that "death had no sting for him." To his wife he said, with a smiling countenance, "I am very happy. I have no fear of death." He died at Merthyr, on the anniversary of his birthday, May 13th, 1873, aged fifty-six, and in the thirty-second year of his ministry.

(28.) Thomas Dunn; who was born at Aiskew, near Bedale, in 1793. He was converted to God in early youth. His compassion for the perishing souls of men prompted him to do all he could to save them. He entered the ministry in 1823, and for forty-two years discharged all its duties; and then, in comparative retirement, continued, so far as his strength permitted, most cheerfully to preach, and visit the sick and the classes. He possessed a clear and vigorous intellect, and was a diligent student and extensive reader. When stationed in Edinburgh, he attended the University classes, made considerable proficiency in Latin and Greek, and carried off the Hebrew prize of his class. He enjoyed at that time the privilege of studying under the late Dr. Chalmers. His piety, though not demonstrative, was sincere and ardent, its fervour being apparent in the power and unction of his social and public prayers. His character was unblemished; his disposition noble and disinterested. While modest in his estimate of himself, he was firm in the discharge of his official duties. In all the institutions of Methodism, and especially in its Foreign Missions, he took the liveliest interest, giving practical evidence of his sympathy by placing at its service nearly all his worldly substance. His preaching was earnest, practical, and successful; his one aim was to do good and win souls to Christ; and his fervour in the pulpit seemed to increase as his physical strength declined. He gave special prominence to the necessity of the Spirit's presence and power, and looked for present, visible fruit. At length the summons came, and found him waiting for his Lord. Having been confined to bed for a few weeks, during which his peace was uninterrupted, he gradually sank under the weakness of years, and entered on his eternal rest on the 18th of May, 1873, in the eightieth year of his age, and the fiftieth of his ministry.

(29.) JOHN MOORE; who was born near Newark, June 7th, 1824. He was brought up religiously by Methodist parents, and in his sixteenth year became a member of the Society. While engaged as tutor in a private school, he felt himself called to preach. He was sent into the work of the ministry by the Conference of 1846, and for twenty-seven years served the Church of Christ as a diligent pastor and earnest preacher of the Gospel. Before offering himself as a candidate, Mr. Moore spent two academical years in attendance on the lectures of Sir William Hamilton, in Edinburgh. This course of study impressed its stamp on his whole career; it awakened and stimulated faculties of a high order, and gave him the benefit of a discipline which prepared him for the peculiar services he afterwards rendered to the cause of truth. As a faithful, but not servile, expositor of Hamilton's philosophy, he was well able to point out both its strength and its weakness in relation to the fundamental principles of Christianity. About the same time he came under the influence of another gifted mind, of a very different order. Mr. Finney, of America, both by personal converse and by his writings, largely contributed to mould his habits of thinking and preaching. The combination of these distinct and, in some respects, opposite influences, gave a peculiar character to Mr. Moore's ministry, especially in its earlier years. His definitions and phraseology in general seemed sometimes to diverge from the standard of Methodist theology: only seemed, however, for he was perfectly sound in the essentials. His preaching also exhibited a union of metaphysical subtlety with revivalist ardour, which is rarely to be found. Mr.

Moore's highest joy on earth was to win souls; and, that he might win them, as the instrument of the Holy Ghost, he deeply studied the secrets of the spirit in man. Toward the latter part of his life, he felt himself called to investigate some of those problems which arise in the border-land between philosophy and theology. The result remains with us in the form of essays, which, though only fragmentary in relation to what he projected, are full of wise and invigorating suggestion. In the midst of his deeply-laid plans for usefulness, his strength was prostrated by an internal disease which baffled his medical advisers. He partially retired in 1871; and, while earnestly hoping to live, prepared to die. His summons came suddenly at the last, and he departed in great peace on June 5th, 1873, within two days of entering on his fiftieth year, and in the twenty-seventh of his ministry. Mr. Moore has left a precious memory. He was a pure-minded man, ruled by one purpose; he was a zealous preacher of the Gospel; he was a good theologian, though the concentration of his mind on philosophy limited, perhaps unduly, the range of his reading; he was, in fine, a faithful servant of the Lord Jesus Christ, who accomplished much in his comparatively short career.

(30.) Frederick Griffiths; who was a native of Broadway, in Worcestershire. He had not the advantage of godly parental training, and his early years were spent in indifference to his soul's welfare. At length the Holy Spirit aroused him. He had gone to a Methodist meeting, along with other young men, to ridicule and disturb those assembled; but conviction of his own guilt and danger seized him while there, and he sought and found peace with God. Ere long he was constrained by the love of Christ to preach; and he did this with so much energy and zeal, that he was called "the young madman," and was followed by crowds, many of whom yielded to the power of the truth. Kindred and friends would have dissuaded him, but he felt that his life-work must be in serving as an "ambassador for Christ." He entered the ministry in 1836, and for many years laboured in some of our principal Circuits. His preaching was attractive and powerful, being especially useful in awakening sinners and leading them to the Cross. With a strong, yet not harsh or unmelodious voice, a vigorous physical frame, and a lively imagination, he had many of the natural qualifications of an orator; and these were devoted to the Lord Jesus, and fused with holy fervour. His sermons were carefully prepared; and if profound or far-reaching views of truth, nice analysis of the human heart, or full Scriptural exposition, could not be claimed for them, they nevertheless were most impressive. His bold and impassioned appeals went to the conscience and the heart, and often were numbers brought then and there to decide for God and heaven. His last illness, which extended over some months, depressed him so much that he shrank from conversation; and when the end drew nigh, he for days took little notice of those who were near, or of what was said and done. Once, however, when a colleague was praying by his bedside, and quoted our Lord's words, "I give unto My sheep eternal life, and they shall never perish," the stricken man exclaimed, in his old earnest way, "Praise God!" He doubtless shines among them that were "wise," and turned "many to righteousness." He fell asleep on June 21st, 1873, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

(31.) JOHN GOSTICK; who was a son of the late Rev. Joseph Gostick, and was born at Dover, March 14th, 1820. He feared the Lord from his youth, and at the age of about fifteen years was made painfully conscious of the necessity of an inward change. Through the ministry of the late Rev. John Anderson, he became truly penitent, and soon afterwards was able to trust in the atonement of Christ for salvation. He now earnestly devoted himself to the work of the Church, and gave, thus early, promise of those gifts and graces which were subsequently developed in his ministerial life. He was received by the Conference as a preacher on trial in 1839, and for four years laboured in home Circuits. In 1843 he devoted himself to our Mission work in India, and his brief sojourn in Coonghul,—cut short by domestic affliction, —was ever afterwards to him a "sunny memory." After his return to England he was appointed to several of our most important Circuits, in each of which he laboured with great acceptance for the full term of three years. His sermons were polished in style, rich in thought, truly evangelical, and highly instructive. As a platform-speaker his genius was of a high order: the originality of his thoughts, the chasteness of his language, the beauty of his imagery, and the exquisite humour with which the whole was interspersed, enchained attention and gave interest to all he said. But his favourite theme was India: the extent of the country, the vastness of the population, their languages, superstitions, and philosophies, what the Church had done, and what she ought to do, the difficulties, slow progress, and ultimate triumph of Christianity, were topics which he handled in a masterly manner equalled by few. In his pastoral duties he was exemplary, and as a colleague was faithful. His last affliction, which was brief but severe, was borne with cheerful resignation to the will of God; and, throughout, his peace of mind was perfect and unbroken. A few days before his death some of his words were, "I have peace, like the great deep, profound!" And just before his decease, he said, "I have great quiet, great rest!" On the same evening he was heard to utter the words, "The Promised Land," but he was too much exhausted to make himself distinctly understood. Soon afterwards, without any visible sign of dying, his spirit returned to God who gave it. He died on Sunday, June 22nd, 1873, in the fifty-fourth year of his age, and the thirty-fourth of his ministry.

(32.) Edward Crofts; who was born near Stamford, in the year 1817. He did not enjoy the advantages of a religious training, but, under Methodist preaching, he was converted to God in his youth, and at once united himself to our branch of the Christian Church. Having been employed as a local preacher in the Stamford Circuit for some time, in which capacity he was both popular and useful, he was called to the Itinerant ministry, and was received into the Theological Institution at Hoxton. In 1839 he was appointed to a Circuit, and became a diligent and devoted pastor. He was of a nervous temperament, and had at all times very humble views of himself. On one occasion, when brought apparently near to death, although fully assured of the Divine favour and of his personal safety, the thought that he had done so little for his Saviour caused him deep distress of mind. His sermons, which were carefully prepared, were delivered with great earnestness; and one of his former colleagues says, "From many testimonies that I received when I was with him, his preaching was attended with much spiritual profit to his hearers." Though of feeble health, he seldom would omit any portion of his work, and often preached in large chapels when evidently suffering bodily pain. He was compelled to retire from active service for a time in 1858, and ultimately became a Supernumerary in 1870. His departure was comparatively sudden. He had a dread of a prolonged struggle with death, and God mercifully delivered him from that which he feared. An attack of hemorrhage of the lungs almost instantaneously removed him, with the prayer on his lips, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit!" He died at Manorbear, near Tenby, on July 2nd, 1873, in the fifty-sixth year of his age, and the thirty-fourth of his ministry.

(33.) Lot Hughes; who was born at Abergele, North Wales. He was among the early fruits of Welsh Methodism in the Principality, and was converted to God when about fifteen years of age. In his nineteenth year he began to preach, and soon afterwards was called to the full work of the ministry. His educational advantages were few, but by diligent application he greatly improved his mental powers, so as to become a very acceptable and useful minister. During his long course of labour he was eminently successful in winning souls to Christ, always proving himself to be a wise, painstaking Superintendent, and a most diligent pastor. He was remarkably methodical and punctual in the discharge of all his ministerial duties. His health failed in 1850, when he became a Supernumerary. In his comparative retirement he retained his mental faculties and usual cheerfulness, taking to the last a great interest in the prosperity of the work of God. His leisure hours were latterly employed in writing historical sketches of the Rise and Progress of Methodism in the Principality, which were published monthly in the Welsh Magazine. His death was sudden. On a Saturday evening he retired to rest, apparently in better health than he had been for some time, but in the morning it was found that his spirit had taken its flight to the heavenly mansions. He died July 13th, 1873, in the eighty-seventh year of his age, and the sixty-fifth of his ministry.

In Ireland, four; viz.,—

(1.) DANIEL MACAFEE; who died in London, January 11th, 1873, in the eighty-second year of his age, and the forty-sixth of his ministry. Born at Bushmills, in the county of Antrim, like Dr. Adam Clarke and Mr. Waugh, he was connected with the Coleraine Circuit. He was designed by his parents for the ministry of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, but, through the influence of a pious Class-leader in the town of Coleraine, was induced frequently to attend the Methodist ministry. The preaching of the Rev. Matthew Tobias was made specially useful to him. At the age of fourteen he joined the Society, and sought a sense of his acceptance with God, until at length he found it. He first offered himself for the ministry among us, but, economical arrangements preventing his admission, he laboured for some years among the "Primitive" Wesleyans. In 1827, however, he was accepted by the Conference; and, from that time, held a high position in the Irish Connexion, and an acknowledged rank among the leading preachers and theologians in the country. In most important centres of religious and intellectual activity, his ministry was not only felt by our own people to be commanding and fruitful, but was valued by the whole Protestant community as mighty in the defence of the Reformed faith, and of the Godhead and Atonement of Christ, as well as in sound exposition of the way of salvation. His mind was naturally acute and vigorous, and his powers of reasoning, cultivated by metaphysical and mathematical studies, were applied with manly zeal to grapple with the errors of Romanism and of Rationalism which assail or obscure the fundamental verities of the Gospel. But even more than in confuting such errors, his abilities were exercised in displaying, illustrating, and enforcing the glorious truths of Gospel grace; which he would present in demonstration so clear, and with influence so impressive, as sometimes to elicit from his hearers involuntary expressions of assent and delight. In controversy he wielded a ready and incisive pen. Some of his publications attracted the notice of the entire country; and a permanent record of his skill and depth as a preacher remains in his published sermons. For several years after he became a Supernumerary he resided in London. There, in his last illness, he testified to the grace of God which had long sustained and did not fail him in the final hour. He solemnly said that in whatever circumstances he had been placed, he never had kept back the truth, but had fearlessly declared it. And when a friend said, "Goodness and mercy have followed me all the days of my life," he added, with strong emphasis, "And I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever." Speaking of the comfort he had derived from the exposition of the Gospel contained in the tenth chapter of the Epistle to the Romans, he repeated without one mistake the first ten verses, and added, "Is not that an easy plan of salvation?" With the intellectual vigour which gained for him such a considerable reputation, and with the extensive reading by which it was fed and disciplined, he combined great simplicity and openness, uprightness of purpose, vivacity and warm-heartedness in private life, and guileless generosity as a friend. He was one of those remarkable men who deeply engrave their own memorial upon the mind of the community in which they live, and of whom, when departed, it is felt that the impression made in life was not due to factitious displays, but to sterling talents, and to services of permanent value.

(2.) William Hoey (a); who was born of godly parents, near Brookborough, March 4th, 1808. He was the youngest of six sons, who were early left to the care of their widowed mother, and by her trained in the fear of God, and in attendance on Methodist ordinances. When about sixteen years of age, he was convinced of sin, under a sermon preached by the Rev.

John Armstrong, and shortly afterwards at a prayer-meeting found peace through believing. Having exercised his gifts as a leader and local preacher, he was called into the Itinerant work in 1831. By successive attacks of cholera and fever in the first years of his ministry, his constitution was considerably shaken and impaired. He nevertheless travelled with fidelity and acceptance in several of our most laborious Circuits, never sparing himself, sick or well, when God's work was to be done; and in some of them he witnessed gracious revivals of religion, the Lord blessing his labours in the conversion of many souls. At the Conference of 1864, he was obliged to retire as a Supernumerary, but continued to serve the Church, so far as his health would permit, up to the Sabbath before his death, when he preached twice. His end was sudden, but peaceful. During the week his strength declined, on Saturday he was seized with paralysis of the brain, and on the following day entered into the joy of his Lord. Shortly before he became insensible, on being asked, "Is God with you?" he smiled, and said, "He has been a long time with me, and He will never leave me now." Mr. Hoey was a man of a quiet, patient, and cheerful spirit, an unselfish disposition, unobtrusive and retiring habits, and one who secured respect and affection in the relations of domestic life. His preaching was clear, practical, and persuasive; and he was esteemed and beloved as a genial colleague, and a faithful pastor and friend. He died on the 16th of March, 1873, in the sixty-sixth year of his age, and the forty-second of his ministry.

(3.) Robert Beauchamp; who was born in Limerick, April 28th, 1798, and died in London, April 28th, 1873, having just completed his seventy-fifth year. By descent he was honourably connected with Methodism in Ireland, some of his ancestors being mentioned by Mr. Wesley in his Journal. Early in life he lost his excellent mother, whose sudden death, however, led to his personal conversion. He entered the ministry in 1824, and for thirty-nine years faithfully discharged its sacred duties. A few years before his death he removed to England, where he resided, first at Newark, and afterwards in London. He was a man who combined a pleasing gentleness of manner with great firmness of purpose. He was remarkable for a reverent piety of spirit and an unswerving consistency of life, which could only have had their foundation in deep and sustained communion with God. As a Minister he was studious in his habits, enriching his mind by useful and extensive reading; and yet he was very diligent in the conscientious discharge of pastoral duties, visiting from house to house, and carefully instructing the children and youth of the Society and congregation. He was a sound and profitable expositor of the Word of God; and faithful in administering the discipline of the Church. He gave habitual heed to Paul's counsel to Titus, "In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you." After his retirement from the more arduous duties of the Itinerant ministry, he was, so far as his altered circumstances and his strength permitted, a spotless example of the same things. His death was in harmony with his life; being distinguished by intelligent, humble, childlike trust in Christ. During his last illness he suffered much; and, at times, he was "in heaviness," through physical causes and temptations. But before the power of utterance failed, and while consciousness was yet unclouded, he gave distinct and encouraging signs of holy triumph; and especially bore witness to the truth of Peter's words, "Unto you, therefore, which believe He is precious." He died in the forty-ninth year of his ministry.

(4.) Thomas Waugh; who was born in Coleraine, May 9th, 1785. In boyhood he was in the habit of worshipping with the Methodists; and the late venerable William Ferguson, who became his life-long friend, induced him to meet in class. In the use of that means of grace, impressed by the testimonies borne to the reality and value of vital godliness, he sought and found reconciliation with God. As he approached maturity, the value of his mental qualities and the consistency of his piety were recognized by several intelligent friends. He had some attractive prospects in secular life, but his faithful leader,—who in a few hours after suddenly ceased to live,—earnestly cautioned him against them, declaring his firm belief that God required his services for the work of the ministry. Mr. Waugh took this as a voice from heaven, and, as it was corroborated by his own convictions, and by the call of authority in the Church, he began to preach. In 1807 he was accepted as a candidate for our ministry, and the next year was appointed to a Circuit. Thenceforward, with untiring fidelity, he discharged the duties committed to him, and soon became distinguished for his ability and zeal. He did everything thoroughly, his work engaged his whole heart, and by the Divine blessing his services were fruitful in the best results. He was a man of a very catholic spirit, of humane and generous disposition and strong and resolute will. Whatever he saw to be for the good of his country, the benefit of suffering humanity, and the glory of God, received his unselfish and able support. In defending the character, and promoting the interests of the Bible Society and the cause of Christian Missions, in advocating the abolition of slavery, and in founding and sustaining local charities, he was frequently and honourably associated with ministers and members of other Churches, without the slightest compromise of attachment to his own. The Methodist Church never had a more loyal minister. His life was consecrated to her interests. He comprehensively grasped every essential of her administration, and opened his mouth boldly in the proclamation of her doctrine. His sagacity and sound judgment, intrepidity and energy, were unsparingly devoted to her welfare; and whether in the counsels of the Conference, the deliberation of committees, or the fulfilment of his pastoral duties, he put forth his strength in her service, and won the respect and confidence of his brethren to an extent rarely conceded to any one man. For many years in succession he was one of our Representatives to the British Conference, and early secured a high place in the esteem of the members of that venerable assembly. His services in the management of our financial affairs were invaluable, and some of our finest chapels are memorials of his tact, judgment, and prudence.

His quick discernment of the character of a proposed object or scheme, rendered him sometimes impatient of discussion, and imparted to his manner an apparent severity; but no man was a more generous opponent, or could more heartily co-operate in carrying out what his brethren had resolved, though opposed to his own original views.

"Right, faithful, true, he was, in deed and word;"

large-hearted, liberal and kind; devoted to Methodism, but catholic in spirit; intensely conservative, but readily engaging in what was new, if it fairly promised improvement in those interests which were dear to him. The later years of his life were shadowed over by the removal of his excellent wife, who for more than forty years had cheered and sustained him in his trials and cares; but, comforted by the Divine presence and favour, he peacefully spent the evening of his days in the town of Bandon, where, beloved by all immediately around him, respected by his fellow-citizens, and enjoying the approval of a good conscience, he passed away, in all the confidence of Christian faith and hope, on Tuesday, May 6th, 1873, in the eighty-eighth year of his age, and the sixty-fifth of his ministry.

3. In our Foreign Missions, nine; viz.,

(1.) Stephen Rabone; who was born at Tipton, in Staffordshire, in 1811. In the prayers of his pious mother he loved to mark the instrumentality of his conversion to God in early life. The pleading tones of her voice before the mercy-seat ever afterwards thrilled his heart, and he spoke of them in the most affecting manner at the last Australasian Conference Lovefeast. The acceptance of those maternal intercessions was soon followed by the call of the dedicated son to eminent service in the field of Christian Missions. In 1834, he was appointed to labour in the Friendly Islands, but did not reach his destination till 1837, having suffered shipwreck on the way, which compelled a temporary return to England. In these Islands, amidst war and much unrest, he remained, with his devoted wife, till the year 1850, fulfilling his ministry with an ability and success which gave him a leading place among the noble men whose labours have resulted in the establishment of a flourishing Church and a Christian State in Tonga. During this time, also, he rendered services of special value by his translation of the Scriptures and of other books into the Tonguese language. On leaving the Friendly Islands, he proved himself to be as useful and sagacious a minister in our Colonial as he had been in our Mission work. For upwards of twenty years no voice was more familiar than his in many parts of the colony of New-South Wales; in sonorous tones, and with much persuasiveness and holy influence, he proclaimed in all its fulness the glorious Gospel of the blessed God. His preaching presented the fruits of various reading, of extensive observation, and of much secret prayer. It was thoroughly pervaded with fervent love to God and to the souls of men, and was to the last edifying, acceptable, and full of freshness and force. His power in prayer was often remarkable. In all the duties of the Christian Minister he was a willing and able worker, a model of accuracy, courtesy, and despatch. These characteristics were fully recognized by his brethren, through whose suffrages he became President of the Australasian Conference in 1861, and General Secretary, for nearly nine years, of the Missions under its care. He also filled for many years various important positions in relation to our Church in New-South Wales. With a beautiful completeness his life reached its close. In the year 1869 he visited our Polynesian Missions in connection with his old friend and fellow-labourer, the Rev. James Watkin, as a deputation from the Conference. The welcome given to the deputation, especially in the Friendly Islands, was enthusiastic, and yet also of the most practical character; for during the following year the contributions to the Mission Fund from the Tongan churches alone reached the noble sum of nearly five thousand pounds. Mr. Rabone continued to discharge his duties as Missionary Secretary during two years after his return to Sydney, and, so far as failing health would permit, preached on the Sabbath. He literally died in his work; for suddenly, while walking from his home in order to preach at Wesley Church, Sydney, on Sunday evening, July 21st, 1872, he expired in the street. He was carried to his burial amidst the most impressive manifestations of mourning and reverence from all classes. This faithful servant of the Lord Jesus died in the sixty-second year of his age, and the thirty-ninth of his ministry.

(2.) Peter Gerhard de Zylva; a man of rare piety and usefulness, was born in Colombo, September 17th, 1809. He feared the Lord from his youth, being favoured with the godly counsel and discipline of an excellent mother, and a religious training under an uncle who was a respected minister of our communion. It was not, however, until he reached his twentieth year that he was made a partaker of the converting grace of God. In referring to this change, he said, "Having felt deeply the pangs of a sinful conscience, I entered into my room, and having closed the door and prostrated myself on my knees, I poured out my soul in prayer, and pleaded the merits of Christ's death. I now felt Christ to be my Saviour, and my only Saviour. Then I felt a joy inexpressible, a joy that my sins were all pardoned,..a joy that I, a hell-deserving sinner, am fully saved by grace; and it was a joy which enabled me with ecstasy to cry, 'Abba Father.'" The consciousness of acceptance with God through the Lord Jesus was at once followed by the desire to make Christ known to those who were strangers to His love. At the District Meeting held in December, 1830, he was recommended to be received on trial as an Assistant-Missionary, and appointed to Negombo. In subsequent years he laboured at Matura, Goddapitiya, and Pantura; and in 1842 he was appointed to Morotto, where for twenty-two years he exercised his ministry with great acceptance and usefulness, as an energetic, faithful, and devoted missionary of the Cross. As a preacher he was racy, faithful, powerful, and singularly successful. Many hundreds of souls were brought to God by his instrumentality. He was eminently devoted to God, "instant in season, out of season," and mighty in the Scriptures. As a pastor his name is still fragrant wherever he was called to minister. When affliction laid him aside, he settled in Colombo, and subsequently removed to Morotto, where he died, in great peace, July 25th, 1872, aged sixty-two years. The Holy Scriptures which he had unremittingly studied throughout his life, were his support and comfort at the approach of death.

(3.) Joseph Broadbent; who was a son of the late Rev. Samuel Broadbent. He arrived in Calcutta in the early part of 1867, towards the end of which year he removed to Lucknow, where he was appointed to labour especially for the spiritual benefit of the military. Here, by his kindness of spirit, uniform attention to his duties, fidelity as a preacher, and untiring devotedness to everything calculated to promote the best interests of his charge, he gained the esteem, the confidence, and the love of all with whom he had to do. His death was very unexpected. From the time of his arrival in India, up to the attack of sickness which ended in his death, he had not been once ill. He seemed remarkably suited to the climate, and it was quite expected, until the morning of the day on which he died, that he would soon recover and resume his duties. The character of his complaint perhaps rendered impossible any manifestation of religious feeling, or any such expressions as we love to hear from the lips of the Lord's dying servants. He died in peace, and was buried in the cemetery at Lucknow, amidst general expressions of grief at his removal. Brother Broadbent lived and died well, and has left a name behind him which will be held in high respect for a long time to come. He was called to his rest on Tuesday, August 20th, 1872, in the thirty-third year of his age, and the eighth of his ministry.

(4.) Giovanni Annigoni; who was born at Parma, in the year 1835. He was one of the first fruits of the Methodist Mission in Italy, and laboured for several years in Parma and its neighbourhood as a local preacher, before being called into the work as an Italian minister. During this period he was in the habit of visiting every Sabbath the village of Mezzano Inferiore, now one of the most flourishing Evangelical Stations in Italy. At Padua, where he first laboured as an Assistant-Minister, his preaching was exceedingly popular, and he gave promise of great acceptance and usefulness. But very soon the symptoms of the disease that ultimately proved fatal to him began to manifest themselves, and for many months before his death he was greatly enfeebled both in mind and body. The cloud upon the intellect became more dense as his illness advanced. On this account no dying testimonies to the comforts of Divine grace can be quoted as falling from his lips, though his constant and pathetic appeals to the Saviour showed clearly that, though with broken wing, the distracted spirit fluttered for shelter to the sure and only Refuge. He died on the 24th of November, 1872, in the thirty-eighth year of his age, and the fourth of his ministry.

(5.) PHILIP H. NIEFFER; who was born May 27th, 1838, at Kirchheim-under-Teck. He was converted to God in London, and was for some years a member of our German Methodist Society in the east of London. Family affairs led him back to Germany, and he settled in Cannstatt, where, as a local preacher, he laboured with great zeal and acceptance. In 1871 he was received by the Conference as a preacher on trial, and was appointed to the Hall Circuit, where he was the means of bringing many sinners to Christ. His illness, inflammation of the lungs, quickly ran its course, and he died in great peace, on the 17th of December, 1872. His last words were, "Jehovah! Jesus! Amen!"

(6.) WILLIAM WALKER, East Indian Minister; who was born at Madras, in 1813. In early life he was a subject of gracious influences, but he does not seem to have become decidedly religious till his twenty-seventh year. After having been employed for eight years as a schoolmaster and catechist, he was accepted, in 1854, as an Assistant-Missionary in the Mysore District, and three years later was set apart to the full work of the ministry. He was a man of a kindly spirit and of simple, genuine piety. He preached to the native Christians with much earnestness and feeling, and watched over them with fatherly care. Possessing an excellent colloquial knowledge of Canarese, and considerable readiness in dealing with disputants, he was very efficient in street and village-preaching to the heathen. His health had been feeble for several years, but for some months before his death he had felt much better. He had, however, notwithstanding this improvement, a presentiment that his end was near; and two or three times he spoke to his family of the change for which God was evidently preparing him. He anticipated death calmly and without misgivings. While abroad, on a long missionary tour, he was suddenly attacked by sickness, apparently induced by exposure, and sank in a few hours. He died in the Travellers' Bungalow, Cuddoor, on the 10th of February, 1873.

(7.) Daniel Pinnock; who was born in Kingston, Jamaica. He was converted to God in early life, through the instrumentality of the Rev. Richard Hornabrook, and thus commenced a career of consistency and usefulness which issued in his peaceful removal to his "Father's house." Before entering the Christian ministry, he was for seven years successfully employed as a local preacher, and as a teacher in one of our day-schools; and, though consciously called of God to the more sacred office, his timid and retiring nature hesitated long before he could venture to undertake duties of so responsible a character as he regarded those of a minister to be. At length, however, he yielded, and by faithfulness and success in his work proved himself "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." His gentle, unpretending piety commanded the affectionate respect of all who knew him. His mind was usefully stored, and he had a large acquaintance with standard divinity, as was evidenced by his ministrations and general converse. His disposition was exceedingly amiable; yet he was not easily moved from his own opinion unless his judgment was convinced. His preaching was practical, dealing directly with the consciences of his hearers, who felt, as they listened, that "the love of Christ constrained" him. He was diligent as a pastor, bestowing particular attention on the children in the schools. His death was induced through over-fatigue in going to the District Meeting, from his having to walk much of the way on account of an accident to the vehicle in which he had been travelling. But the Master found His servant

"watching." Though unable to speak for two days previously, shortly before his departure, in reply to a brother minister, who asked him, "Is the Atonement which you have often preached sufficient for you now? Is Jesus precious?" he was enabled feebly, but firmly, to answer, "Yes!" He then sank to rest, February 12th, 1873, in the forty-sixth year of his age, and the sixteenth of his ministry.

(8.) JOHN STEPHENSON (B); who was born at Eggle-stone, near Barnard-Castle, in the year 1837. He was brought up in connection with the Established Church, but did not experience the saving power of religion till he was twenty-one years of age, when he joined the Wesleyan-Methodist Society. He began to preach almost immediately, and two years later was accepted as a candidate for the ministry. He profited greatly by a three years' residence at Richmond, where he was a diligent student. In 1862 he was appointed to the Mysore District, in India, where he laboured during the remaining ten years of his life. With a transparent, unaffected character and a gentle spirit, he combined firm principle and a high sense of duty. He was very methodical in his habits, and diligently improved his time. Good natural abilities were carefully developed by study. His attainments in Canarese were excellent, and he turned them to good account, both in the pulpit and in the preparation of school-books. As a Canarese preacher he was fluent, earnest, and effective. He possessed more than usual qualifications as a missionary. His whole heart was in his work, and his great ambition was to spend his life in India. His death was quite unexpected. After ten years of singularly good health, he was attacked by an insidious disease, under which he speedily sank. He died at Ootacamund, on the Neilgherry Hills, April 5th, 1873, in the thirty-sixth year of his age, and the twelfth of his ministry.

(9.) WILLIAM SHEPSTONE; who died, aged seventy-six, at Kamastone, South Africa, May 26th, 1873, soon after his retirement, at his own request, from the Chairmanship of the Queen's-Town District. His health for many years past had been gradually on the decline, and the prospect of death had been long familiar to him. Nothing delighted him so much as converse on holiness and heaven. His final illness commenced on the 10th of May, and after sixteen weary days and nights of severe suffering, borne with true Christian fortitude and meek submission to the Divine will, the end came without a pang. The consolations of God abounded to him throughout his illness. One of his latest exclamations in relation to his prospects was, "The fulness! the fulness!—to all eternity!" his voice rising with each repetition of the word. Mr. Shepstone was one of the earliest of those who laboured with the late Rev. William Shaw, fifty years ago, in the first introduction of the Gospel into Pato's tribe, in Kaffirland. No man so thoroughly understood the Kaffir character, or was more able to meet the objections of the chiefs and others on their own ground, reasoning with them, and generally carrying them with him. In prudence and in meekness of wisdom he was an example to his brethren, and his memory will long be cherished by them.

(3.) In all cases of an additional year being granted, on payment, to boys who have not been at school six years, the sum of £25 shall be paid, which sum shall be inclusive of the £6 6*s.* from the Children's Fund; but in all cases of request for a year additional to the six years, the Committee shall be satisfied that the character and diligence of the applicants are such as to render their return to the school advantageous to the other boys, and in such cases the payment shall be £30 inclusive of the £6 6*s*. These payments shall be due in four instalments, immediately after each quarter-day.

N.B.—The regulations contained in the foregoing paragraphs apply to daughters as well as sons.

(4.) In future, the Competition for Scholarships shall be restricted to those boys who have not been more than six years at one of the schools.

(5.) For the convenience of the officers of the Fund, the payment for education to both boys and girls shall commence at nine years instead of eight years, and be continued until fifteen years; the ninth year to be reckoned from the Christmas before payment.

6. Application for the admission of daughters to the Schools now established for them, must be made, as in the case of boys, through the District Meetings; and the allowances for those who are admitted shall not be claimed by the parents as heretofore from the Schools' and Children's Funds. The parents of boys in the schools are also specially cautioned not to claim for them from the Children's Fund, much confusion having arisen in some cases from inattention to this rule.

7. The Conference directs that a certificate of health, signed by a medical practitioner, shall be required at the commencement of each term, in the case of all children received into, or returning to, our Connexional Schools.

8. The Conference adopts the following regulations in relation to the Schools for girls:—

(1.) That until as ample provision be made for the Connexional education of the daughters as for the sons of our Ministers, no girl shall be received into the schools under twelve years of age, and that the time of continuance in the Schools be restricted to four years.

(2.) That in future each applicant be required to pass a preliminary examination, in subjects to be hereafter agreed upon, before admission to the schools.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE MANAGEMENT OF NEW KINGSWOOD AND WOODHOUSE-GROVE SCHOOLS.

The Conference adopts the following Resolutions on the recommendation of the Special Committee appointed to consider this subject during the past two years :—

1. That while regarding with considerable favour the abstract principle, that it is desirable to admit the sons of laymen into our Connexional Schools, the Conference, in view of many practical difficulties, is not prepared to adopt this change in our arrangements.

2. That the system of dual government must, for the present, be maintained, but that its evils ought to be guarded against to the utmost by an exact definition of the several provinces of the Governor and the Head Master.

3. That the Local Committees be directed to secure, by means of higher salaries or otherwise, a more efficient class of Assistant-Tutors.

4. That the whole system of education in our two Schools shall be concentrated, and the Schools themselves be concentrated in one locality.

5. That the Woodhouse-Grove estate be sold, and the proceeds of the sale devoted to the erection on the New Kingswood estate of additional buildings, for the use either of the higher or of the lower School, as may be hereafter determined.

6. That a Special Committee be appointed to make such arrangements as are necessary for carrying out the concentration of the Schools in one locality, powers being given to this Special Committee to act as occasion may require.

7. That while approving of the general principles of the new scheme for the management of the Schools, the Conference confides the details to the Special Committee.

8. That the question of the financial relations of the Schools' Fund to the Children's Fund, with a view, in particular, to secure an effective regulation, from year to year, of the amount to be drawn from the Children's Fund in augmentation of the revenues of the Schools' Fund, and to the due apportionment of the Schools' Fund among the different Schools, both for boys and girls, be remitted to the careful consideration of the Special Committee, in conjunction with the Committees of Management of the Schools for girls.

9. To this Special Committee the Conference refers all matters relating to the general management of the Schools, whether for boys or girls.

SOUTH WALES DISTRICT CHAPEL FUND.

The Conference resolves:—

1. That a Fund be forthwith established in the South Wales District, to be called "The South Wales District Chapel Fund."

2. It shall comprise three branches, namely:—

(1.) A. For the relief of debts on Chapels by the aid of Loans only, such Loans not to exceed in amount the contributions raised to meet them by the Trustees of Chapels thus aided. The Loan capital to consist of £750; viz., £500 already raised by contributions in South Wales, and £250 already lent by the Chapel Committee.

(2.) B. In aid of the Erection and Enlargement of Chapels by Loans and Grants; for the relief of Chapel debts, in special cases, by Grants only; and for general expenses. The capital to consist of (i.) £250, to be raised by special subscriptions in the South Wales District. (ii.) A Loan, not exceeding £500, to be advanced by the Chapel Committee from their Erection Loan Fund, instead of the same amount previously promised from their Relief Loan Fund. The Loans on the A. and B. branches are not to exceed in amount the special contributions in the South Wales District to the same branches of the Fund.

N.B.—Provision is to be made for the repayment of the balance yet due to the Chapel Committee on the A. branch, and for the repayment of the Loan to be advanced to the B. branch of the Fund, from the same sources as have already been sanctioned.

(iii.) The collections and subscriptions for the Chapel Fund, annually raised in the South Wales District. (iv.) Special donations and subscriptions. (v.) Income to be derived from such other sources as have been sanctioned in connection with the South Wales Loan Fund, in the terms of the arrangement between the Chapel Committee and the South Wales Loan Committee.

(3.) C. To be a supplement to the general scheme, and to be applied only in aid of providing Ministers' houses, and of removing existing debts on such houses, if duly settled upon Connexional Trusts; the capital to be raised by contributions expressly given for this purpose.

3. Donations expressly made to any one Branch of the South Wales Fund shall be appropriated exclusively to that Branch; but donations without any limitations by the donors, shall be applied to any of the Branches by which the general purposes contemplated may, in the opinion of the South Wales Chapel Fund Committee, be best promoted.

4. This fund shall be administered by a Committee, to be called "The South Wales Chapel Fund Committee," which shall consist of eight Ministers and eight laymen, to be annually appointed by the Conference, the lay members of the Committee being nominated by the South Wales District Meeting.

5. This Committee shall appoint from among

6. All moneys received on account of the Fund shall be deposited in a bank, and only withdrawn under the signature of both Treasurers.

7. This Committee shall have the same power to vote and settle Grants and Loans to Chapel Erections and Enlargements, and in relief of existing debts in the South Wales District, which is now possessed by the Chapel Committee with reference to Chapel cases in other parts of Great Britain.

8. The Chapel Fund shall be no longer applicable to the South Wales District, except with respect to Grants and Loans already promised but not paid.

9. When a Grant or Loan, in aid of a proposed Erection or Enlargement, shall be recommended by the Annual or Financial District Committee, the South Wales Chapel Fund Committee shall, if they deem it necessary, before finally deciding on the case, appoint one or two of their own number to meet the Superintendent, the Trustees, and other friends, and examine all plans, estimates, tenders, lists of subscriptions, and other necessary matters, and report thereon to the Chairman of the District. If the report be satisfactory, the Chairman shall report to the General Chapel Committee, that the case may be proceeded with according to the established Rules of the Connexion.

10. Aid from any Branch of the South Wales Fund shall be afforded only to such cases as shall be duly approved by the General Chapel Committee.

11. In any case of Erection or Enlargement in which the South Wales District Committee shall deem it to be expedient, the regulation requiring that three-fourths of the outlay be raised, may be relaxed. But, in every such case, no debt shall be allowed, except what may be advanced as a Loan by the South Wales Chapel Fund Committee, or, in the case of house-property, covered by an adequate house rental; and the Chapel Committee shall not decline to sanction the undertaking on the ground of the proposed amount of debt, provided that such debt shall have been agreed to by both the South Wales

District Committee and the South Wales Chapel Fund Committee.

12. No case of Grant and Loan shall be settled until the General Chapel Committee shall certify that, in their opinion, the property is legally secured in trust for the Connexion.

13. All matters relating to this Fund, and the proceedings of the District Committee with regard to Trust-property, and of the District Chapel Fund Committee, shall be annually reported through the General Chapel Committee to the Conference. A statement of the accounts of the South Wales District Chapel Fund shall be printed in the Annual Report of the Chapel Committee.

HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND.

Q. XVII. What are the Resolutions of the Conference in reference to the HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND?

A. 1. The Conference receives and adopts the Report of the Committee of Management, and of the Army and Navy Committee, and directs that the Resolutions passed by the General Committee, and the Returns from the Army and Reserve forces, be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendixes, Nos. VI. and XI.)

2. The Conference is thankful to Almighty God for the success with which He has been pleased to favour our Home-Missionary work, and for the encouraging increase in the average allowances of Ministers in the Circuits aided by this Fund; and, whilst as anxious as ever to supply the spiritual needs of our large towns, is deeply convinced of the claims of our villages, many of which are now exposed to varied and destructive errors, and directs the special attention of the Committee of Management to the importance of considering the best practical method of extending our work and influence in the villages of this country.

3. Considering the success of our work in the Army and Royal Navy, and the increased facilities now afforded for our ministrations to Wesleyans, in both branches of Her Majesty's service, by the re-organization of the Army, and especially by the establishment of the Brigade Depôts through the country, the Conference is anxious that these opportunities should be zealously embraced by our Ministers and people in all places in which troops are quartered, or where ships of the Royal Navy are stationed.

4. SUSTENTATION OF THE MINISTRY.—The Conference refers to the Committee of Management the recommendation adopted by the Home-Missionary Committee of Review, on the motion of MR. MAY, of Bristol, and resolves that a communication founded upon it shall be forwarded to the District Meetings in May, in order that the judgment of the laity on the important subject of Ministerial maintenance may be elicited, and made known to the Conference and the Connexion.

5. Public Meetings and Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations.—The Conference rejoices to know that the Public Meetings held in behalf of our Home Missions have ministered to the edification and zeal of our people; that in some of our leading Circuits a Meeting has been held, during the year, in every Chapel, with great advantage to the Fund; and that, in some other Circuits, where only one Annual Meeting formerly took place, two or three Meetings have been recently convened. The Conference is convinced that the multiplication of these Meetings would be an effective auxiliary means of quickening the prayerful concern of our Societies and congregations for the conversion of their neighbours, as well as of their countrymen at large; and it strongly recommends that such Meetings should be held in all our principal Chapels. The Conference is glad to know, also, that there has been a gratifying increase in the number of Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations during the year, and it entertains the hope that these useful Associations—aiding at once our Home and Foreign Missions—will be established in all our Circuits.

The Conference is decidedly of opinion, that wherever sums, large or small, are collected avowedly for the Foreign or Home Missions, the whole amount should be remitted to the Treasurers of these Funds respectively, to be administered under the direction of their Committees; and that sums so remitted to the Home-Mission Fund should entitle a Circuit to favourable consideration, if it request a grant for any effort within its boundaries which may be a legitimate object for the application of moneys collected for Home-Missions. (Minutes, 1863.)

On this subject the following modification has been made:—

In the case of Circuits which are not in a position to ask for the appointment of a Home-Missionary Minister, and to give the pledge required, but which feel the necessity of adopting some plan of Home-Missionary operations, the subjoined allocation shall be allowed:—

One-third of the sums received by Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations, to be paid to the Funds of the Foreign Missionary Society, "it being expressly understood that in every case the contribution to the Foreign Missions shall be at least equal to what has been presented from Christmas Offerings, on the average of several preceding years:"

One-third to the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund:

One-third to the Circuit, to be expended in support of local movements of a directly Home-Missionary character, under the direction of the Superintendent, and of a Committee to be appointed at the December Quarterly Meeting.

In all other cases the former Minute of the Conference remains in force.

6. The Conference deems it expedient to reprint the following Rule from the Minutes of 1797:—

"That all bills for the support of travelling preachers and their families, in respect to deficiencies, house-rent, fire, candles, sickness, travelling expenses, and all other matters of a temporal kind for their support, for which the Circuits cannot provide, shall first meet with the approbation of the Quarterly Meeting, and be signed by the General Steward of the Circuit,* before they can be brought to the District Committee."

7. Home-Mission Regulations.—Each Home-Missionary Minister is directed, with the concurrence of the Superintendent Minister, to forward with his Journal, signed as now by the Superintendent, to the General Secretary for the information of the Committee, a copy of the Circuit-Plan; and a quarterly statement of the number of full and accredited Church-members, and of persons on trial, in connection with the place or places specially assigned to him as his Mission-District.

8. Mr. John Vanner and the Rev. John W. Greeves are re-appointed the Treasurers; the Rev. Charles Prest, the General Secretary; and the Rev. John Bond, Secretary. The Committee, which shall meet before the next Conference, shall consist of the President and the Secretary of the Conference; the EDUCATION.

Q. XX. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on the subject of Wesleyan Education?

A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report and Resolutions of the Education Committee of Review, held in Newcastle-upon-Tyne, on Friday, July 25th, 1873; and directs that they be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendix, No. X.)

2. The Conference is gratified to learn that the number of Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools is now 5,689, with 666,766 Scholars, being an increase during the past year of 77 Schools, and 12,189 Scholars; also that the present number of our Day-Schools is 912, with 171,372 Scholars, being an increase during the past year of two Schools, and 4,967 Scholars.

3. The Conference expresses its thankfulness that the income of the Education Fund has been increased during the past year, and that after meeting the current expenditure a satisfactory balance was carried to the Capital account; but the Conference regards it as of pressing importance that every effort be made in the Circuits to secure a further augmentation of income with a view to the liquidation of the debt as soon as possible, and directs the Education Committee to give special attention to this subject during the year.

4. The Conference receives with satisfaction the statement presented by its Secretary, the Rev. Gervase Smith, M.A., relative to the efforts made by him to liquidate the debt on the new Chapel at Westminster, and the success with which they have been crowned; and presents to Mr. Smith its cordial thanks for his faithful discharge of the duty assigned to him by the last Conference.

5. Recent legislation in reference to Public Elementary Education having rendered necessary some changes in "the Plan of Wesleyan Education" which was sanctioned by the Conference in 1841, the Conference adopts the following revision of the said Plan, and directs that it be printed in each Annual Report of the Education Committee.

I.—CONSTITUTION OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF EDUCATION.

The General Committee of Education shall consist of at least twenty-four Ministers and twenty-four Laymen, with two General Treasurers and a Secretary, to be annually appointed by the Conference.

II.—FUNCTIONS OF THE COMMITTEE.

1. To exercise a general supervision of the affairs of Wesleyan Education; to connect and combine the whole of our School operations, in their aggregate character, for the purpose of public utility; to be a medium of communication for the Connexion, on educational subjects, whether with the Government of the country or with other public bodies; and to promote and facilitate the adoption, in Wesleyan Schools, of such regulations as shall tend to secure the greatest practical efficiency, and to preserve Connexional harmony.

2. To direct the application of any Funds which may be entrusted to their care from any sources whatsoever.

3. To superintend the selection and training of Teachers, and to recommend such Teachers to Schools, on application from Local Committees.

4. To collect information on matters relating to the general interests of Education; to correspond with the Local Committees and Friends of Education, on various questions connected with Teachers, Inspectors, etc.; to promote the formation of New Schools, wherever practicable, as well as to encourage those already formed, especially by advice and friendly co-operation.

5. To prepare, from their official documents, an Annual Report of their proceedings, and of the general progress of Wesleyan Education.

III.—PRINCIPLES ON WHICH WESLEYAN SCHOOLS ARE TO BE CONDUCTED.

1. SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

General Rules.

The General Principles recommended by the Conference of 1827 (see Minutes) for the regulation of Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools, shall form the permanent basis for the management of each School, and therefore;—

I. It shall be conducted in distinct and avowed connection with the Wesleyan-Methodist Society; and shall, in every practicable way, be worked in harmony with its arrangements, and with a view to its increase and benefit.

II. Its main object shall be to instruct and train scholars in "the doctrines, privileges, and duties of the Christian religion," and only so much secular teaching as is necessary to secure this end shall be given in it on the Sabbath-day. The Holy Scriptures and the Catechisms of the Wesleyan-Methodists shall be used as the means of such instruction and training.

III. The general management shall be entrusted to a Committee, consisting

1. Of all the Ministers of the Circuit.
2. Of the Treasurer, the General Secretary, and the Superintendents of the School, appointed as hereinafter mentioned.
3. Of six, nine, or more persons, to be chosen as follows; viz.,—

   One-third, being Members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society, by the Leaders' Meeting, in the month of December.

   One-third, being Teachers, Secretaries, or Librarians, who are also Members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society, by a General Teachers' Meeting, in the month of December.

   One-third by the Committee for the time being, at their last meeting in December, from members of the congregation or Subscribers to the School, who, if not Members of Society, are nevertheless believed to be cordially attached to the principles and polity of Wesleyan-Methodism.

IV. The Annual Meeting of the Committee and Subscribers, of which due notice shall be given by the General Secretary, shall be held as early as convenient in the month of January, to receive the financial report and the lists of the persons chosen in the manner above described, to be members of the Committee for the ensuing year; and to appoint a Treasurer and Auditors for the ensuing year.

N.B.—1. Subscribers within the meaning of this rule are those persons, not under twenty-one years of age, who contribute annually five shillings or upwards towards the support of the School.

2. Those Teachers who have attained the age of twenty-one, and have been fully received not less than one year, shall be considered as having a right to attend and take part with the Subscribers in the proceedings of the Annual Meeting.

3. When it is deemed necessary, in addition to the Annual Meeting, a Public Meeting, to promote the interests of the School and of Christian education generally, may be held at any time of the year most convenient.

V. The Superintendent Minister of the Circuit shall preside in the Annual Meeting, and in all meetings of the Committee or the Teachers, at which he is present; and, in his absence, his place shall be supplied by one of the other Ministers; or, if no Minister be present, by one of the Officers of the institution, to be appointed by the Meeting, except that in the Teachers' Meetings one of the Superintendents of the School shall preside.

VI. The Officers of the School shall be as follows; viz.,—

1. A Treasurer.
2. A General Secretary, one or more Superintendents, and one or more Visitors; to be annually appointed by the Committee.
3. One or more School Secretaries, and a Librarian; to be annually chosen by the Teachers' Meeting, subject to the approval of the Committee.

N.B.—All the Officers, with the exception of the Treasurer, shall be selected exclusively from the Members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society.

VII. The Committee shall meet at least once a quarter, and oftener, if required, with the concurrence of the Superintendent of the Circuit; and five shall form a quorum for the transaction of business.

VIII. The Teachers, wherever practicable, shall be members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society; but if not, they must at least be regular attendants at the Chapel, of good moral character, heartily attached to the doctrines and discipline of Methodism, and willing to observe the Rules of the School.

IX. They may be received on trial by the Superintendent of the School; and, after a probation of three months, shall be nominated by him at a regular Teachers' Meeting, and elected by the Meeting; subject, however, to the approbation of the Committee.

X. A united Meeting of the Committee and Teachers shall be held once in every six months, or oftener, if need be, on some suitable week-day evening, expressly for the recognition of newly-appointed Teachers; when the Chairman shall present the Rules, and give appropriate advice and encouragement to the Teachers thus recognized.

XI. Teachers' Meetings for inquiry, consultation, and prayer, shall be held quarterly, previous to the ordinary Meetings of the Committee.

XII. In the selection of Teachers for the elder classes, special attention shall be paid to their Christian experience; and those only shall be so employed who are able to teach the scholars, clearly and fully, what they must do to be saved.

XIII. No person shall be continued, as an Officer or Teacher, who shall at any time be declared, by the Committee or the Leaders' Meeting, unfit, in respect of general character or of religious opinions, for the office he sustains, or for taking part in the Christian education of the young.

XIV. The elementary books employed in teaching even the younger children shall be such as contain the largest portion of Scriptural instruction, and the Holy Scriptures shall be regularly used by all who are sufficiently advanced.

XV. Catechetical exercises shall form a constant part of the system of the School, and the Catechisms used shall be those published under the sanction of the Wesleyan-Methodist Conference.

XVI. The School shall be opened and closed with singing and prayer; and the large Hymn-Book, the Methodist Scholars' Hymn-Book, or the Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-School Hymn-Book, shall be used.

XVII. Neither the art of writing, nor any branch of merely secular knowledge, shall be taught on the Lord's-Day.

XVIII. The Library, together with the School furniture, shall be the property of the Committee, without whose approval no book shall be introduced; and, wherever practicable, the distribution of books shall take place on some week-day evening, so as not to occasion, either to the Librarian or to the readers, an unnecessary and injurious diversion of any portion of the Lord's-Day from employments directly spiritual.

XIX. No sales of books, or of other articles used in the School, shall be allowed on the Sabbath, but suitable facilities for the supply of the scholars shall be provided on week-days.

XX. The Meetings of the Committee, for ordinary business, shall not be held on the Lord's-Day, and Teachers' Meetings, if unavoidably so held, shall be fixed for such hours as will not interfere with attendance at Public Worship, Society Meetings, or the Lord's Supper.

XXI. All the scholars shall be trained to regular attendance on Public Worship, at least once on the Lord's-Day. As many as can be accommodated shall attend the Chapel every forenoon; and the elder scholars, especially, shall be encouraged to attend the evening service also.

N.B.—We earnestly entreat our friends who may be concerned in the future erection or enlargement of Chapels, to have this object in view, as one of unspeakable importance to the interests of religion and of our country; and to include in their plans the provision of large and convenient accommodation, not only for the adult poor, but for their children also.

XXII. Whenever it is practicable, a select class, or classes, of those scholars who are seriously disposed shall be formed, for special religious instruction and prayer, and be met by pious teachers in separate class-rooms, towards the close of the Sunday afternoon, or on some convenient week-night.

PRACTICAL DIRECTIONS FOR INTERNAL MANAGEMENT.

1. The Committee.—The general duties of the Committee are, to devise means for raising the necessary supplies; to disburse the funds according to the requirements of the School; and to exercise a vigorous control over all the affairs of the institution, in accordance with its established rules.

2. The Treasurer.—The Treasurer should receive and pay all money on account of the School, under the direction of the Committee.

3. The Auditors.—The Auditors should certify the accuracy of the Treasurer's accounts, by affixing their names to them, after they have examined them with the vouchers.

4. The General Secretary—The General Secretary should convene and attend all Meetings of the Committee or of the Subscribers, take minutes of their proceedings, and prepare a written report on the state of the School for the Annual Meeting.

5. The Superintendents.—The Superintendents are responsible for opening and closing the School with singing and prayer; for the admission of scholars, and the arrangement of classes and Teachers; and for the internal management of the School.

6. The School Secretaries—The School Secretaries should take charge of the School Registers and Journal; give notice of Teachers' Meetings, both to the Superintendent or other Minister, and to the Teachers, and take minutes of their transactions; and furnish periodical reports of the condition of the School for the Committee.

7. The Teachers.—Teachers are expected to be regular and punctual in their attendance at the School, and to accompany their classes to the House of God; and to do all in their power, both by teaching and example, to promote the great end of the institution,—the religious instruction and salvation of the scholars.

A Teacher, when prevented from attending the School, should either provide a proper substitute, or give the Superintendents timely notice of his intended absence.

Definite arrangements should be made for the visitation of absentee scholars, either by the Teachers themselves, or by a Visitor or Visitors, duly appointed.

8. The Scholars.—Children, especially when coming from another School, should be admitted on the application of parents or guardians. Very young children, and adults, are best taught in a separate room.

9. The Library.—Every School should, if possible, have a Library for the use of the Officers and Teachers, and such Scholars as may be deemed worthy of that privilege.

II. DAY-SCHOOLS.

(I.)—Religious Instruction and Worship.

Such Schools shall be of a distinctively religious character; and, as practical means to realize this important purpose, the following elementary arrangements are deemed indispensable; viz.:—

1. The BIBLE, in the Authorized Version only, shall be the basis of all the religious instruction; and a certain portion of every day, at least half-an hour, shall be set apart for the devotional reading of the Holy Scriptures, with explanations by the Teacher, Minister, or duly appointed Visitor, or for Catechetical instruction.

2. The Authorized WESLEYAN CATECHISMS shall be used in all our Schools, subject to such provisions of the Elementary Education Act of 1870, as are commonly known collectively as "The Conscience Clause."

3. CHRISTIAN PSALMODY—in which the Wesleyan Hymn-Book, or other Hymn-Book, published or approved by the Wesleyan Education Committee, shall be used—shall form a part of the daily exercises.

4. The School duties of each day shall begin and end with PRAYER.

(II.)—GOVERNMENT.

Each Day-School shall be under the immediate care and direction of a Local Committee, annually appointed, which shall include the Wesleyan Ministers of the Circuit, for the time being; the Officers of the School, such as the Treasurer, Secretaries, and Visitors; and a suitable number of the friends of education connected with our Body, either as members of our Society, or at least as worshippers in our Chapels.

(III.)—SUPPORT.

The pecuniary support of each School shall be provided for by the Local Committee, from the weekly payments of the Scholars, from Local Subscriptions and Collections, and from any other available sources.

(IV.)—TEACHERS.

1. Every Teacher employed in the Schools, or trained for them, shall be of a decidedly religious character, and in connection with the Wesleyan-Methodist Society.

2. Every such Teacher shall be recommended by the Superintendent Minister of the Circuit in which he or she resides; and, previously to his or her actual nomination to a School by the General Committee of Education, shall have been examined and approved by them, or by persons deputed to examine on their behalf.

(V.)—School-Houses.

All the School-Rooms or Houses built, or to be built, for Wesleyan Schools, shall be held in trust for the Connexion, in a manner similar to the settlement of Chapel property among the Wesleyan-Methodists, and in accordance with the provisions of the School Model Deed (formerly known as No. II.) adopted by the Conference in 1845.

(VI.)—Statistics.

The Secretary of each School shall be requested to furnish to the General Committee, through the Superintendent of the Circuit, an Annual Report of the state of the School, as provided for by Schedules and other forms of inquiry issued by direction of the General Committee.

IV.—GENERAL CONNEXIONAL AID AND CO-OPERATION.

The Rules of the Conference are as follows:—

1. The following questions shall be considered in each May District Meeting, during that portion of the business of the District Committee when both Ministers and Laymen are present; and the answers obtained shall be recorded in the Minutes of each District, viz.:—

(1.) What is the number and state of the Wesleyan Sunday and Week-Day Schools in this District?

(2.) Are all possible care and effort used to promote the formation and success of Week-Day Schools in connection with our Societies in this District?

2. Previously to the District Meeting, the Superintendent in each Circuit, or one of his Colleagues appointed by him, shall make timely application to the School Secretaries of each place in the Circuit where a Sunday or Week-day School is established, for the information required for the filling up of the Schedules provided by the General Committee; and after filling them up and laying them before the Quarterly Meeting, shall forward them as directed by the Conference. (See p. 233, § 8.)

3. The Education Secretary appointed by each District Meeting in accordance with the Regulations of the Conference, shall collect the Schedules, summarize the Statistics contained in them, present to the District Committee in May a Report on the Schools of the District, and transmit the Schedules, with any Resolutions of the District Committee relating to Education, to the Secretary of the General Education Committee.

4. Arrangements shall be made upon each Circuit Plan for the regular Visitation of each Day-School in the Circuit, by one or more of the Ministers of the Circuit, for religious instruction and catechizing during the time shown to be allotted for such purposes by the time-table of each School.

5. It is earnestly urged upon all the Societies to promote the formation of Week-day Schools in connection with every principal Chapel in each Circuit, and to encourage the formation of School Libraries and Bible-classes, for the explanation, illustration, and religious application of the Scriptures, wherever practicable.

6. Having received and considered a scheme for the formation of a Connexional Sunday-School Union submitted by the Education Committee, the Conference resolves as follows:—(1.) That it is desirable to supplement existing Connexional arrangements for union among Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools by the establishment of a Connexional Sunday-School Union. (2.) That such a Union should embrace the following objects;—to promote the development of the Sunday-School system with the special design of securing greater spiritual results;—to promote union among Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools in the several Circuits, and to encourage the Connexional element in their character and working;—to supply Teachers with such aid and information as shall tend to the more efficient instruction of their Classes;—to collect and give information respecting the best methods for the organization and management of Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools;—to obtain, record, and supply statistical details as to the condition of Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools;—to promote the establishment of such Sunday-Schools;—and to render aid in the supply of suitable School-books and appliances, and books for rewards and libraries. (3.) The Conference provisionally approves the draft of arrangements for the constitution and working of the Union which has been prepared by the Education Committee. (4.) The Conference directs that the next Financial District Meetings shall be made special for the consideration of the scheme; and that any suggestions in reference thereto which the District Meetings may adopt be transmitted to the Secretary of the Education Committee. The Conference empowers that Committee to revise the scheme, to complete its details, and to perfect the necessary arrangements with the Book-Committee. (5.) The Conference authorises the President to convene a Special Meeting of Ministers and Laymen to consider the scheme after its final revision by the Education Committee.

7. The Conference directs that the Statistics of the Day and Sunday Schools of the Circuit be read in the March Quarterly Meeting, but that if sufficient time be not then available for the discussion of the statistics and inquiry into the state of the Schools, such discussion and inquiry shall take place in the June Quarterly Meeting.

8. The Conference directs that the Education Schedules, having been duly filled up and presented to the March Quarterly Meeting, shall be sent by the Superintendents to the Education Secretary of the District, not later than April 10th.

9. The Conference directs all who are contemplating the erection or alteration of premises, for the establishment of new Schools, to communicate with the Education Committee, for the purpose of receiving counsel as to the general eligibility of their projected undertakings, and the adaptation of the premises to the system of instruction designed to be adopted.

10. (1.) In view of the interpretation which is put upon Section XXIII. of the Elementary Education Act of 1870 by the Lords of the Committee of Council, to the effect that any transfer of a School, settled upon our School Model Deed No. I., to a School Board, for any term whatever, for the purposes of such School Board, must be sanctioned not only by the signatures of the Trustees, but by the Conference, testified by the President in writing, the Conference directs that in every case in which the transfer of such a School is proposed, the Superintendent, with the Managers and Trustees acting in concert, shall first consult the Education Committee on the subject, and that if, for reasons given, that Committee recommends such a transfer, the rules of the Conference in relation to the sale of Trust property shall be applicable thereto:—the Education Committee considering all questions affecting School management, and the Chapel Committee questions affecting Trust property.—(2.) In respect to Schools settled on the School Model Deed No. II., or on any other Deed in which the consent of the Conference is rendered necessary for the alienation of the property, the Conference recommends the Trustees to act upon the same principles as those laid down in the foregoing clause in relation to Schools settled on the School Model Deed No. I.—(3). In all cases of transfer which may hereafter occur, the Conference recommends that provision be made in the instrument of transfer to secure the resumption of the premises by the Trustees without their being required to reimburse any money laid out by the School Board solely for its own purposes.

11. The REV. J. CLULOW is appointed to act under the direction of the Education Committee in the Visitation and Inspection of Day and Sunday Schools.

12. Mr. ISAAC HOYLE and the REV. THEOPHILUS WOOLMER are re-appointed the Treasurers; and the REV. GEORGE O. BATE is re-appointed the Secretary.

N.B. All communications on Education affairs are to be addressed to the REV. GEORGE O. BATE, Wesleyan Training College, Horseferry-Road, Westminster, S.W.

A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report of this Committee; and being convinced that the observance of one day in seven as a "holy day," specially appropriated to the worship of God, is an index to the spiritual state of nations and individuals, expresses its earnest hope that the Methodist people will be faithful to the requirements of the Lord's Day; and that by conscientious abstinence from secular work and unnecessary travelling, and by a careful attention to religious duties, they will ever seek to obtain for themselves, and to extend to others, the blessings of sanctified leisure which the Christian Sabbath confers.

2. The Conference repeats its recommendation of last year as to the necessity of vigilance and activity in defending God's holy day against the organised attempts made to desecrate it.

3. The thanks of the Conference are presented to the Rev. George Maunder and the Rev. John Baker, M.A., for their valuable services during the past year, and they are re-appointed the Secretaries of the Lord's-Day Committee for the ensuing year.

Q. XXIV. What directions does the Conference give concerning the Annual Examination of Preachers on Trial?

A. 1. The Conference adopts the following general resolutions recommended to it by a Committee specially appointed to consider the subject:—

(1.) That in future the Examination of Preachers on trial shall be conducted by a Connexional Board of Examiners, to consist of one Examiner in each subject contained in the course of reading prescribed for the four years of probation.

(2.) That the Probationers' Examination Committee be appointed as heretofore; but that, in addition, two General Examination Secretaries be appointed by the Conference from among Ministers stationed in the same town.

(3.) That arrangements be made, at each Financial District Meeting, for a Central Examination of Preachers on trial in each District, or more than one if necessary; at which Central Examination all the Probationers in that District shall attend. In the event of any Preacher on trial being unable to pay the necessary travelling expenses, they shall be defrayed by the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund.

(4.) That at each Financial District Meeting a District Probationers' Examination Secretary be appointed, or more than one, so as to provide a Secretary to take charge of each Central Examination in the District; and that the District Secretary be held responsible for the efficient conduct of the Central

RETIREMENT OF THE REV. JOHN LOMAS.

The Conference, in acceding to the request of the Rev. John Lomas, that he should now, after an active ministry of fifty-three years, be allowed to retire, desires to record its deep sense of the value of his lengthened and various services to the Connexion, whether as Head-Master of Kingswood School, as Circuit Minister, as President of the Conference, or, in his later years, as Tutor in Theology at Richmond and Headingley.

In every sphere the services of Mr. Lomas have been not only faithful and loving, but eminent, marked by gifts and accomplishments which have commanded the admiration of the educated, coupled with a simplicity, purity, and transparency of character, by which both high and low have been won and warmly attached.

The Conference would assure this honoured Minister, in his retirement, that he will be accompanied, and that in no ordinary degree, by the love of every brother, as well as by the respect and admiration of the Methodist people generally, and the grateful affection of those who, whether as Pupils in the Theological Institution, or hearers in his Circuits, have been nourished and trained by his godly teaching. It prays that his remaining days may be richly crowned with the blessing of that Lord and Master in whose vineyard he has, from his youth up, blamelessly and fruitfully laboured.

RETIREMENT OF THE REV. WILLIAM W. STAMP, D.D.

It is with sincere regret that the Conference accedes to the recommendation of the Sheffield District Committee, that the request of the Rev. Dr. Stamp to become a Supernumerary should be granted. His unblemished character during fifty years, his able and judicious administration of the system and discipline of Methodism in the several offices of Superintendent of Circuits, Chairman of Districts, and President of the Conference, which he has so diligently and faithfully filled, and his entire devotedness to the interests of the Connexion in its several departments, have strongly endeared him to his brethren; and they earnestly hope that, in his comparative retirement, he will be blessed with the presence and consolation of the Holy Spirit, and pray that, in years to come, he may still be found among them in their annual assembly, affording to them valuable counsel and help, such as his thorough knowledge of Methodism, in its system and working, will enable him to give.

RETIREMENT OF THE REV. CHARLES HAYDON.

The Conference, in sanctioning the retirement of the Rev. Charles Haydon from the regular work of the Ministry, in which he has been successfully engaged for forty-eight years, feels it to be right to place on record its sense of the able and exemplary manner and eminently Christian spirit in which he has, for so long a period, fulfilled his ministerial duties. Mr. Haydon has not only served the Societies of Methodism as a Preacher, as the Superintendent of large Circuits, and as the Chairman of important Districts, but has laid his ministerial brethren under no ordinary weight of obligation by the assiduity and skill with which he has watched over the interests of the Annuitant Society. The Conference unites in the hope and prayer that Mr. Haydon may be spared for many years in honourable and useful retirement to serve his brethren and the Connexion.

RELATIONS OF THE CONFERENCE TO THE CONFERENCES OF CANADA AND EASTERN BRITISH AMERICA.

The Conference, having carefully considered the subjects specially referred to it in the Address from the Conference of the Wesleyan-Methodist Church in Canada, and that of the Wesleyan-Methodist Church of Eastern-British America, together with the statements of their respective Representatives, unanimously agrees to the following conclusions, viz.:—

1. The Conference has good reason to feel assured that the arrangements concluded with the Canadian Conference in 1847, and with the Conference of Eastern British America in 1855, as referred to in the Minutes of Conference, were most judicious and appropriate in the circumstances which then existed, and have been highly conducive to the consolidation and development of Methodism in the several provinces to which they relate.

2. Nevertheless, considering—

(1.) That those Conferences are now included in the United Dominion of Canada, as recently established by an Act of the Imperial Legislature, that facilities are thereby afforded for consolidating the interests of the two Conferences in one Connexion, and that, for many weighty reasons, their union is highly desirable:—

Considering (2) that the geographical extent of the Dominion of Canada would render it inconvenient to hold one Annual Conference for the Connexion now to be consolidated in the said Dominion:—

Considering (3) that a union of such consolidated Connexion with other Methodist Bodies within the Dominion may become possible and desirable, and that suitable facilities should be afforded for the furtherance of such a union:—

Considering (4) that several important measures have been taken by the said two Conferences respectively in favour of a project of union between themselves, and in anticipation of their union with other Methodist Bodies:—

The Conference resolves as follows:—

1. This Conference formally rescinds the Articles of Union which now subsist between the Connexion in Great Britain and the Conferences of Canada and Eastern British America respectively, and gives to those Conferences the right to conclude such arrangements for their own consolidation into one Body, and for their entering into terms of union with other Methodist Bodies, as shall be in accordance with the doctrines of Methodism contained in Mr. Wesley's first four volumes of Sermons, and his Notes on the New Testament, and with a system of discipline which, while adapted to the altered circumstances of Canadian Methodism, shall preserve the fundamental principles of a Connexional form of Church-government.

2. This Conference also confers upon the two Conferences now existing, and through them, and by such arrangements as they shall agree to, upon the Connexion to be consolidated in the Dominion of Canada, all such rights and interests as it may now possess by virtue of the existing Articles of Union, or by virtue of any Deeds or Instruments relating to any Trust-property secured for the benefit of either of the present Conferences.

3. This Conference further directs that the official seal of the Conference be affixed to any document which may be necessary for declaring its full concurrence in any application which the Canada Conference, or the Conference of Eastern British America, may see fit to make either to the Parliament of the said Dominion, or to any provincial Legislative Assembly within the same, or to any Parliament or Legislative Assembly outside the bounds of the said Dominion, but comprised within the bounds of either of the Conferences aforesaid, for such powers as may be necessary to the vesting of the whole or any part of the Trust-property now held for the use of either of the said Conferences, or of any Ministers, Trustees, or others in connection with either of the same, in such manner and upon such terms as shall secure the same to uses and upon trusts in connection with the proposed united Conference, similar, as nearly as may be, to those for which they are now secured.

4. In cordially agreeing to the preceding resolutions, the Conference expresses its affectionate regard for the two Conferences named; its earnest prayers that they may be guided by Divine wisdom in all their deliberations and decisions, and favoured with great prosperity in the work which lies before them in the Dominion, and wherever their Missions may be planted; and the gratification which it will have in receiving and sending from time to time communications, by deputations or otherwise, which may express and promote an abiding feeling of fraternal union.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

The Conference resolves that a fraternal letter shall be sent to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which is to assemble in the spring of 1874, and appoints the Ex-President, the Rev. William Arthur, M.A., and the Rev. W. Morley Punshon, LL.D., to prepare such a letter.

RESOLUTIONS RESPECTING TEMPERANCE.

The Conference, having considered the suggestions made to it by several District Committees, resolves as follows:—

1. That a Temperance Committee be appointed to meet, from time to time, as occasion may require, during the ensuing year, such Committee to consist of Ministers representing different views on the general question.

2. That it shall be the duty of this Committee, in such manner as it may deem advisable, to promote legislation for the more effectual control of the liquor-traffic, for the lessening of the number of public-houses and beer-houses, for the closing of such houses on the Lord's-day, and in general for the suppression of intemperance.

3. That such Committee shall also be instructed to inquire into the question of Intemperance, in relation to Christian effort in general, and Methodism in particular; to gather information as to the various agencies employed for its suppression; and to consider by what means, in consistency with the unity and harmonious working of our Connexional system as to its discipline and worship, the influence of Methodism may be most effectually employed for the remedy of this wide-spread and demoralizing evil.

4. That the Committee thus appointed shall report to the next Conference.

5. That if, after the consideration of the report so presented, the Conference should deem it advisable to appoint a standing Committee on Temperance, such Committee should include both Ministers and Laymen.

The Conference further affirms its conviction that, pending the inquiry now resolved upon, it is most desirable that both Ministers and people should study to avoid everything in word or work which would place any additional difficulty in the way of united and harmonious Connexional action.

The following Ministers are, for this year, appointed the Committee on Temperance :—the Ex-President, the Revs. William Arthur, M.A., John Bedford, Samuel Coley, John Farrar, Charles Garrett, Joseph Hargreaves, Ebenezer E. Jenkins, M.A., Dr. Jobson, Alexander M'Aulay, George Maunder, George W. Olver, B.A., Dr. Punshon, Marshall Randles, John V. B. Shrewsbury, Dr. Stamp, and T. Bowman Stephenson, B.A.

POPISH TENDENCIES IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The Conference, having considered the resolution of the Manchester District Committee, calling its attention to the dangers to which Scriptural Christianity and national freedom are exposed by the pretensions and movements of Popery in Great Britain and elsewhere, and more especially by the prevalence in our own country of Popish practices outside of the Romish Church,—and considering further that recently a very considerable number of clergymen of the Church by law established, have publicly moved, with a view to procure legislation which shall organise the Confessional as a national institution,—feels bound to record its conviction of the extreme gravity of such facts, not only for any one portion of the English people, but also for the nation at large. It is persuaded that the time has come when those who value the doctrines of the Reformation, and the institutions, whether religious or national, to which they have given birth, are called upon to take all possible means, both as citizens and as members of Churches, for the diffusion of Scriptural Truth and the repression of Romish principles, and also to unite with all Protestants in promoting measures which will tend to prevent the influence and authority of the nation from being directly or indirectly employed to further movements calculated to discredit and even to undo the Reformation, to the influence of which, under Divine Providence, are due many inestimable national benefits. The Conference expresses its hope and belief that our people generally will earnestly strive, in their respective spheres of private or public influence, and in so doing will cheerfully co-operate with all who are like-minded, whether within the Established or Nonconformist Churches, in support of every effort to repair the damage done, in many successive years, to the cause of Protestantism, and to perpetuate in England that Reformed Faith, the rejection or suppression of which in other countries of Europe has been followed by political instability and social disorder, as is witnessed, at the present day, in the greater part of such countries.

NATIONAL EDUCATION IN IRELAND.

In view of the demands put forth in regard to National Education by the Roman-Catholic Bishops of Ireland, the Conference again affirms its resolution to use every legitimate means to oppose these demands, as contrary not only to every interest of Protestant Christianity, but also to the principles of civil and religious liberty.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATIONING COMMITTEE.

The Conference adopts, for this year, the following arrangements :—

1. That a Committee, consisting of the President and the Secretary of the Conference, the Ex-President, and four other Ministers, be appointed to prepare a draft of the Stations, to be submitted to the Stationing Committee at their first meeting.

2. That the Representative of each District shall send to this Committee, at least fourteen days before the time of its meeting, a prospective arrangement of the Stations in his District, specifying, in each case, whether the appointment is for a third, second, or first year, which appointments are made as the result of agreement between Circuits and Ministers, as well as the names of any Ministers for whom the Representative has not been able to make any satisfactory arrangement.

3. That this Committee be authorised to correspond with the Representatives of Districts, during the fourteen days above referred to, in order to obtain information on any subject which may, in any way, affect the Stations.

4. That the four elected members of this Committee shall be elected by ballot of the Conference, taken immediately after the Stations are confirmed; that the members of it shall not be eligible to represent any District, but shall be ex-officio members of the Stationing Committee.

The four Ministers chosen for the year 1874, by ballot of the Conference, are the Revs. John Farrar, Dr. Stamp, Dr. Punshon, and John Rattenbury.

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF DISTRICTS.

On this subject the Conference resolves as follows:—

1. That a Committee be appointed, consisting of an equal number of Ministers and laymen, to revise the Plan prepared by the Committee appointed by the Conference of 1871, with the help of the additional information derived from the District reports, and assign such reasons for it as they may agree upon; and that the Plan, as so revised, be submitted to the May District Meetings, after receiving the reports from which District Meetings the Committee shall prepare a final Scheme. This Scheme shall be laid before a mixed Committee to meet on the Saturday before the next Conference, consisting of the Committee now appointed, the Chairmen of Districts, and the gentlemen who may be chosen by the lay members of the May District Meetings to attend the Annual Meeting of the Home Mission and Contingent Fund Committee; which Committee shall report to the next Conference.

2. The following Ministers and gentlemen shall constitute the Committee to revise the Plan for the re-arrangement of Districts; viz.,—the President and the Secretary of the Conference, the Ex-President, the Revs. John Bedford, John Bond, George Bowden, John W. Greeves, Charles H. Kelly, John M'Kenny, Dr. Rigg, Dr. Stamp, Edwin H. Tindall, Theophilus Woolmer; with Messrs. Henry John Atkinson, James S. Budgett, William T. Eastman, Sidney B. Hodge, Frederick Howard, George Lidgett, B.A., Sir Francis Lycett, Alexander M'Arthur, John H. Mason, William Mewburn, J. Sizer, James Vanner, and William T. Whelpton.

3. The Rev. George Bowden is appointed the Secretary of this Committee.

COMMITTEES OF REVIEW.

The Conference remits to the Committee now appointed to revise the Plan for the re-arrangement of Districts, the consideration of the questions, how far the constitution of the Committees of Review may be improved, and what regulations may or should be adopted for the conduct of business in those Committees.

ROTATION OF THE CONFERENCE.

The Conference adopts the following recommendations of a Committee which has considered this subject during the year:—

1. That having respect to the peculiar circumstances of London, in regard to its extent, the number of our members, and the facilities of communication with all the suburbs, it is desirable that the Conference should more frequently hold its sessions there.

2. That the following plan of rotation, subject to such modifications as may be hereafter rendered necessary, be approved; viz., Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Camborne, Sheffield, Bristol, Bradford, Birmingham, London, Liverpool, Leeds, Manchester, Hull, Burslem, London.

PASTORAL OVERSIGHT OF THE YOUNG.

The Conference, on receiving the Report of the Special Committee appointed to consider, during the past year, the Pastoral Oversight of the Young and their Relation to the Church, resolves,—

That the Report be printed; that a copy of it shall be sent to every Minister; that it shall be considered in the District Meetings in May, when pastoral affairs are under review; and that the suggestions adopted by the several District Committees in reference to the recommendations embodied in the Report shall be forwarded to the Rev. George O. Bate, that he may prepare a Report thereupon for presentation to the next Conference.

LOCAL PREACHERS.

The Conference cheerfully accedes to the request of the Committee of Review of the Wesleyan Theological Institution, that it should appoint a Committee, consisting in part of Local Preachers, to meet during the year, to ascertain what means can be adopted to assist Local Preachers in preparation for their important work, and report to the next Conference.

The Committee shall consist of the following Ministers and gentlemen, the President being authorized to add to their number at his discretion:—the President and the Secretary of the Conference, the Ex-President, the Revs. John Bond, George Bowden, Dr. James, Dr. Jobson, Thomas Nightingale, Dr. Osborn, Charles Prest, Dr. Punshon, and John Walton; with Messrs. Alexander J. Brooke, Samuel Budgett, R. Dyson, Enoch Forbes, — Gray, George Lidgett, B.A., Thomas Pethick, William W. Pocock, William H. Stephenson, William Sugden, B.A., Samuel D. Waddy, B.A., Thomas Wilshaw, William H. Walmsley, and John W. Wayman.

EXTENSION OF METHODISM IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The Conference re-appoints the Committee of last year to consider this subject, in connection with the proposal of Sir Francis Lycett and Mr. W. Mewburn; viz., the President and the Secretary of the Conference, the Ex-President, the Rev. Dr. James, the Rev. Charles Prest and J. W. Greeves, and Mr. John Vanner; the Rev. John Bedford and William Edwards, and Mr. Richard Haworth; the Rev. John Farrar and Marmaduke C. Osborn, and Mr. John S. Budgett; with Sir Francis Lycett and Mr. Mewburn, and such other persons as the President may add. Should the President deem it expedient, after the preliminary consideration of this subject by this Committee, he is empowered to nominate and convene a larger Committee, to consider the proposed Plan during the year, and report to the next Conference.

AUXILIARY HOME-MISSION WORK IN THE METROPOLIS.

1. The Conference receives the Report of the Metropolitan Methodist Lay Mission, and, recognising the great need that exists for lay Mission work, and the special and pressing claims which London has upon the entire country, commends this movement to the liberal support of the whole Connexion.

2. The Conference adopts the Rules of the Metropolitan Lay Mission as revised in special session of the Committee; and directs that a Report of the Mission be presented at the Home-Missionary Committee of Review.

MANCHESTER AND SALFORD WESLEYAN LAY HOME-MISSION.

The Conference receives with much satisfaction the Report of this Mission now presented to it,—rejoices in the success which has attended the efforts put forth,—sanctions the Rules and Principles which have been submitted to its consideration,—authorises the Financial District Meeting of the Manchester District to arrange for the re-appointment of the Committee in the same manner as before, and will be glad to receive, either through the Annual Meeting of the Home Missionary Committee of Review, or otherwise, further reports of its proceedings.

INSURANCE OF PROPERTY HELD IN TRUST FOR CONNEXIONAL PURPOSES FROM FIRE.

The Conference is gratified to learn that the Limited Liability Company recently formed for the Insurance of Connexional Trust Property against loss by fire, has already attained a considerable degree of success. The Conference renews its commendation of the scheme to the support of Ministers and Trustees, and hopes that the Company may continue to realise increasing prosperity.

LAWS AFFECTING MARRIAGE.

The Conference, after considering the suggestions made to it by several District Committees, declares its judgment, that adequate provision should be made to secure a complete and uniform national registration of all marriages to be hereafter solemnized; and that there ought to be such an amendment of the laws relating thereto as would secure in all respects perfect religious equality for all denominations as to the legal conditions on which marriages shall be solemnized and recorded. The Conference further instructs the Committee of Exigency to endeavour to carry these sentiments into effect.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES ACTS.

The Conference repeats the expression of its utter disapproval of these Acts, as iniquitous in principle, and demoralizing in their tendency, and its determination to use all legitimate means to seek their repeal. The Conference commends this subject to the careful attention of the Committee of Exigency, especially in anticipation of the approach of a general election.

8. Suggestions from District Meetings.—It is resolved, That the Convener of the Conference Committee on Memorials from Circuits and Suggestions from District Meetings, is authorised to obtain, immediately after the Annual District Meetings, from the Secretaries of the District Committees, copies of any Suggestions which may have been made, and that nothing shall be deemed to be a Suggestion of a District Meeting but what is recorded in answer to the Question on the subject in the District Minutes.

The Rev. Francis W. Greeves is re-appointed the Convener of the Committee referred to.

9. The Conference resolves that the period at the end of which a Minister may be allowed to return to a Circuit shall be changed from eight to six years.

10. The Conference rescinds the regulation made in 1867, that a Minister should be appointed in every District to take charge of all matters within that District affecting the financial interests of the Theological Institution.

11. The Conference resolves that in the President's circular, containing the particulars which the Superintendents of Circuits are required to furnish to the Financial Secretary, for the Annual Meeting of the District Committee, this further inquiry shall be included, What children or young people are met in classes conducted by Ministers, not being Society Classes?

12. Burials in Churchyards.—The Conference commends this question, should it be again brought before Parliament, to the attention of the Committee of Exigency.

13. It is resolved that the Annual Meetings of the several District Committees shall be held between the 10th and the 17th of May, 1874, with the exception of the Lincoln, North Wales, South Wales, Isle of Man, and Zetland Districts.

STANDING ORDERS.

1. Home-Missionary Ministers.—(1.) At each Financial District Meeting a return shall be made, from each Circuit in which a Home-Missionary Minister is stationed, of the sum contributed by the Circuit to the Home-Mission Fund, and of the cost of such appointment to the Home-Mission Committee; according to the "Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers" adopted by the Conference of 1859.

(2.) The Conference directs that a special inquiry shall be made at the May District Meeting, whether the Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers, adopted by the Conference, have been faithfully observed in the Circuits to which Home-Missionary Ministers are appointed; and that a Report in each case shall be made to the Conference.

2. Candidates for Ordination. — The Conference directs that Candidates for Ordination shall, at or before the May District Meeting, preach before three Ministers of the District, who shall report to the Meeting.

3. Preachers on Trial.—(1.) The Conference, having been informed that in several Circuits the Preachers on Trial have very rarely an opportunity of receiving the Lord's Supper, resolves that, in compliance with a former injunction on this subject, the Superintendents be required to make the necessary arrangements, in their Circuit-Plans, for securing to their junior Colleagues proper facilities for partaking of this holy sacrament. (2.) Whenever it shall be found to be practicable, Preachers on Trial shall preach during the District Meetings.

4. Candidates for Admission on Trial. — Those Preachers who are recommended for admission on Trial shall preach in the presence of at least three of the Ministers of the District Committee, (at or about the time of its Annual Meeting in May,) to be selected by the Chairman, exclusively of the Superintendents by whom the Candidates respectively are proposed; and a special report of the Sermons shall be made in the District Meeting, and immediately forwarded in writing to the London Committee of Examination.

5. Attendance of Ministers at Official Meetings.—Mistakes having arisen on this subject, the Conference deems it proper and necessary to declare, that all the Ministers and Preachers on Trial appointed to a Circuit have a constitutional right to take part as members in our Leaders' Meetings, and in all other official meetings of the Circuits to which they are appointed.

6. Minor District Meetings.—In all cases in which the holding of a Minor District Meeting is rendered necessary, such Meeting, except under the Regulation passed by the Conference in 1840, (Minutes, Vol. IX., p. 94,) shall be held in the District in which the accused party resides, the accused and the accuser selecting respectively two Ministers from the said District, who, with the Chairman thereof, shall constitute the Minor District Meeting.

Should either party refuse or decline to choose two Ministers, to act as members of the Meeting, the Chairman is empowered and directed to nominate them, so that the number required by rule may be made up.

7. Committee on Appeals.—At each Conference, the President shall nominate, not later than the second day, a Committee of twenty-one members of the Conference, to whom shall be referred without discussion, all cases requiring further inquiry touching the character of Ministers or Preachers on Trial, immediately after the reading of the Minutes of District Committees thereupon, or of any notice of charge or appeal relating thereto, or for any reason which the Conference may deem sufficient.

Any complainant or appellant, or any person under inquiry, may object to one in three of the members of the said Committee sitting on his case; and the President shall then appoint some other member of the Conference to act instead of the member so objected to.

Special Cases to be decided upon by the Conference may be referred to the whole Committee, but it shall, for ordinary purposes, be divided into three sections, for each of which a convener shall be appointed, who shall be responsible for preparing the business of the Committee.

8. Supply of Vacancies.—Instances having occurred in which Superintendents and other Ministers, needing Circuit-supplies on occasion of sickness and various casualties, have applied to the President of the Conference, without first taking counsel with the Chairman of the District; the Conference directs the brethren to return to the old plan of first communicating with the Chairman in every such case.

9. Liverpool Minutes.—The Resolutions adopted by the Conference in the year 1820, and usually called the "Liverpool Minutes," besides being read and considered in the Annual Meeting of each District Committee, (as our standing Regulations require,) shall also be read at the Weekly Meeting of Ministers in each Circuit, next following the September Quarterly Meeting; and the Chairmen of Districts are directed to make inquiry concerning the due observance of this regulation.

10. District Minutes.—The Chairmen of Districts are required to procure three complete copies of the Minutes of the several Annual and other Meetings of the District Committees, transcribed according to the order of time in which such Meetings shall have been held, and duly signed by the Chairman and Secretary. One of these copies shall be inserted in the District Records; a second shall be reserved for the use of the Chairman and Financial Secretary at the Conference; and a third shall be delivered to the Assistant-Secretaries, on the Wednesday preceding the Conference, and by them to the President during the first week of each Conference, to be preserved under his direction, as a document appertaining to the Connexion. The several copies of the last class shall be written on foolscap paper, that they may be annually bound together in one volume.

11. Annual Return of Members in Society.—The number of Members in Society, and of persons admitted on trial, as taken at the March Quarterly Visitation in each year, and reported in the Circuit-Schedules presented at the District Meetings, shall be the number returned on the Minutes of the following Conference.

12. Returns of the Military in attendance at our Chapels.—The Conference directs that the returns of the Military in attendance at our Chapels shall include the actual number of soldiers who are declared Wesleyan-Methodists stationed in the Circuit, and not merely the average number in attendance at Divine Service.

13. Circuit Schedules.—In order to bring the state and progress of the work of God in every Circuit distinctly under the examination of the District Meetings, copies of the Printed Circuit Schedules, duly filled up, shall be annually produced, examined, and considered. The Chairmen of Districts are made responsible for the execution of this order. (See also Minutes for 1831, Q. xxv.; Vol. VII., p. 67.)

The Circuit Schedules containing the Returns of the Members in Society are to be forwarded, immediately after the May District Meetings, to the Rev. John Bond, Guilford-Street, Russell-Square, London, W.C.

The Education Schedules, having been filled up and presented to the March Quarterly Meeting, are to be sent to the District Educational Secretary, not later than April 10th.

14. Schedules and Circulars on Connexional Business.—As it is obviously desirable, that the Committees appointed by the Conference to manage the several departments of the business of the Connexion, in the intervals of its Session, should be furnished with as much statistical information as possible on the matters of business severally confided to their care, the Conference authorises them, through their appointed Officers, to send, when they deem it expedient, suitable Circulars and Schedules to the Superintendents, or to the Chairmen of Districts, as the case may require; and directs the Superintendents and Chairmen duly to return such Schedules properly filled up.

15. Annual Examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge.—The Conference directs that the Annual Examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge shall be held on the first Saturday in March; that the questions shall be prepared by the General Committee; that the Examination shall be held, either in the several Circuits by the Superintendent Ministers or their Colleagues, or at suitable places for Central District Examinations, as may be determined by the September District Meetings, and agreed to by the respective School Committees; and that the written answers shall be forwarded to the General Secretary, and shall be valued by a Central Board of Examiners to be elected by the General Committee. The Conference further recommends that, in connection with Central Examinations, Meetings of Teachers and Pupil-Teachers be held under the direction of the Chairman of the District and the District Educational Secretary.

16. Lay-Members of Connexional Committees.—(1.) At the Annual Meeting of each District Committee in Great Britain, one Gentleman, being a member of the Society, shall be chosen by the lay-members of the District-Committee, to be a member of the Committee of the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, held preparatory to the Conference; and the Gentleman so chosen shall have the right to attend, and take part in the proceedings of, the Annual Meetings of the Missionary Committee, the Schools' Committee, the Chapel Committee, the Theological Institution Committee, and the Education Committee, held preparatory to the Conference.

(2.) In respect to the several Committees of the Connexional Funds, it is resolved, that a certain number of lay gentlemen shall retire annually by rotation, the same persons being ineligible for immediate re-election, except in special cases.

17. Lay-Members of District Committees to be summoned by the Chairman.—It is resolved, That, in future, the Chairmen of Districts shall be required to send a circular to the Lay Members of the District Committee, requesting their attendance on the Wednesday, and, if necessary, on the Thursday, in the week of the Annual District Meeting, specifying the business that will be brought forward, and particularly mentioning any subject that may have been particularly remitted by the Conference to the consideration of such Meeting. A similar circular shall be prepared and sent with reference to the Financial District Meeting.

In order to the carrying out of this Resolution, the Superintendents of Circuits are required to furnish the Chairman of the District with the names and addresses of the Circuit Stewards immediately after the December Quarterly Meeting.

18. Representative to the Stationing Committee.—The Minister who shall be the Representative of each District to the Stationing Committee shall be chosen by the united votes of the Ministers and Laymen who are members of the District Committee.

19. Division of Circuits.—Before District Committees consent to the division of any Circuit, inquiry must be made whether due attention has been paid to satisfactory arrangements for the Trust-estates affected by the proposed division, especially in reference to any debts existing thereon.

20. Quarterly Fast-Days.—The days upon which the Quarterly Fast, appointed by Rule, is to be observed throughout the Connexion, for the following year, are, Fridays, October 3rd, December 26th, March 27th, and June 26th.

21. Rule of 1797 concerning Admission of Members.—Mistakes having occasionally arisen respecting the meaning of the Rule of 1797, on the subject of the admission of persons who are on trial as members of our Society, the Conference deems it necessary to repeat the statement, That it never was intended that the names of all those who are on trial should be laid before a Leaders' Meeting for distinct and formal discussion; but solely, that if there be, in the opinion of a Leader, any reasonable objection to the character and conduct of any person who is on trial, such objection may be stated by him; and that, if the validity of the objection be established to the satisfaction of the Meeting, a Member's Ticket shall not be given to the person, so objected to, at the Quarterly Visitation.

22. Trial of Members.—When a charge is brought against any Member resident in a place where no Leaders' Meeting is statedly held, the case shall be referred for investigation to the Leaders' Meeting of the principal Society in the Circuit Town. The Leader or Leaders, and the Society Stewards, of the Society of which the accused is a member, shall be associated with the Leaders' Meeting for the purposes of the investigation.

If the accused person is a Trustee, then there shall also be associated with the Leaders' Meeting, as above constituted, the Trustees of the Chapel with which the Society of which he is a member is connected; or, if there is no such Chapel, then the Trustees of the Chapel in connection with the principal Society in the Circuit Town. But no Trustee shall, in either case, be so associated, unless he is himself a Member of Society in the same Circuit.

23. Reading of the Pastoral Address in Society Meetings.—The Superintendents are directed to appoint special Society Meetings to be held at the principal Chapels in their Circuits, for the purpose of having the Pastoral Address read, and made the subject of suitable remarks and exhortations.

24. Contingent Fund.—In future, all payments on account of Ordinary Deficiencies shall be made through the medium of the Financial Secretaries of Districts. The payments on account of Home Missionaries are to be made directly to and by the Treasurers of the Fund.

25. The Army.—The Chairmen of Districts are directed to inquire of the Superintendents of Circuits in which troops are marched to Divine service in our chapels, the average number of non-commissioned officers and men in attendance; distinguishing the number of members in Society. These returns must include, also, the actual number of soldiers who are declared Wesleyan-Methodists. The returns given are to be recorded in the District Minutes. If there be no military attendance in the District, a note to that effect shall be inserted.

26. Conference Plan.—The Superintendents of those Circuits in which the Conference may from year to year assemble, shall, with the previous approbation of the President, (as already required by rule,) complete and print, not later than the 15th day of June in each year, a Plan of the order of preaching in the principal chapels during the session of the Conference; and shall also, on or before the above date, inform every person whom they have appointed to preach in those chapels, of the time and place of such appointment. And in order that the Plan thus prepared may not be violated, to the disappointment of our friends, and to the great inconvenience of other parties concerned, no Minister who attends the Conference shall be at liberty to make an engagement to preach in any other Circuit, either on the Sabbath, or on any other day, during the period appointed for the meeting of the Conference, or of its various Preparatory Committees, at the time for which his name shall be inserted on the Conference Plan.

27. The Chairmen of Districts are enjoined to make particular inquiries at their Annual Meetings in reference to all the points of Discipline specified in the first Article of the Answer to Q. XXVIII. in the Minutes of 1825.

LIST OF GENERAL COLLECTIONS AND SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR 1873-74.

The following are the usual and regular Collections which are to be made in all our Circuits during the ensuing year; viz.,—

1. The private Donations in the Classes, on behalf of the Worn-out Ministers' and Ministers' Widows' Auxiliary Fund, shall be entered in the Class-Books at the next September Visitation, and collected in the month of October, and forwarded at once to the District-Treasurer. (See Q. XXVII., A. 2, Minutes of 1851.)

The Private Subscriptions and Public Collections for the New Kingswood and Woodhouse-Grove Schools, &c., are to be made in the early part of the month of November, 1873; and the amount, without any deduction on account of Educational Allowances to Children, is to be immediately remitted to the Rev. Frederick Payne, Bryn-yr-Haul, Mold, Flintshire, one of the General Secretaries for the Schools' Fund. All sums due on account of daughters at the Schools must also be sent to Mr. Payne. Each Superintendent must also send to Mr. Payne a particular account of the sums contributed to the Fund, and of all claims for Educational Allowances in his Circuit, specifying distinctly the names of the children for whose education the claims are made, the date, year, and place of their birth, and the exact number of years during which the allowance has been received.

Subscriptions and Donations are to be paid to the Treasurers as early as possible.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

CONFERENCE

TO

THE METHODIST SOCIETIES.

Dearly beloved Brethren,

To address you, according to our annual custom, is not the least pleasing duty to which, amidst the engagements of a busy session, we willingly apply ourselves. We feel increasingly the closeness and sacredness of our mutual relation, and the solemn importance of the responsibilities which we sustain towards you. "Are not ye our work in the Lord? If we be not apostles unto others, yet doubtless we are to you; for the seal of our apostleship are ye in the Lord."

Think not, dear brethren, that the sending of a written Pastoral constitutes the whole share which you have in our deliberations. You are contemplated, more or less, in the whole of our business, not excepting those affairs which are considered purely ministerial. In the scrutiny to which we submit our own character and work, regard is had to your claim to a blameless and Scriptural Ministry. In the care taken in the admission of probationers to the full work and office of the Christian pastorate, and in the examination of candidates, we aim at giving you the best guarantee possible that the men to whom we commit the sacred trust previously committed to ourselves are "faithful men, able to teach others also." And so, in relation to the several departments into which, for purposes of administration, our great work is divided, we can truly say that, subordinately to God's glory, the well-being of our people is the end of all. Your interests are so interwoven with our ordinary business, that you necessarily influence our thoughts and feelings to a large extent.

The review of the year, if not satisfactory in all particulars, presents much that is gratifying in connection with the work of God. The increase of members in Great Britain, after supplying the large vacancies occasioned by death and other causes, is one thousand seven hundred and thirty. While grateful to Him who giveth the increase for this augmentation of our numbers, and for the many thousands more who must have been brought into fellowship with us before any numerical advance could be reported, yet considering the vastness of our agencies, and the much larger additions of some past years, it must be acknowledged with regret that the present increase is not considerable. Still, we are persuaded, dear brethren, that neither you nor we have laboured in vain, or spent our strength for naught. We believe that, in addition to the tabulated results, there are effects produced which are beyond the domain of statistics. "The Day" only will declare the blessings received in our congregations under the ministry of the Divine Word, and in our Class-Meetings, in the exercise of Christian fellowship. At the same time we would not, in the absence of tangible results, have you or ourselves to be content with the merely inappreciable and unseen. Believing in a visible Church, we look, not unreasonably, for visible members. The prosperity which we desire, and for which we urge you to work and pray, is that of the times of Pentecost, when "the Lord added to the Church daily such as should be saved."

In regard to our Foreign Missions the year in some respects has been remarkable. The largest income ever raised by the Wesleyan-Methodist Missionary Society has been reported; and a long-standing debt which embarrassed the Society's operations has been completely extinguished. The numerical increase of members shown in the returns indicates that our great work in foreign lands is carried on with zeal and success. But that which will make our present gathering memorable is the first appearance amongst us of an Italian brother, himself the fruit of our Mission to Italy, who preaches the Gospel with the tongue of a native to them "which are at Rome also." We thank God that the Divine blessing rests upon our new mission to the city of the Cæsars and the Popes, and that, notwithstanding its pagan and Papal associations, the work of God within its walls is full of promise and hope.

Our Home Missionary operations are capable of almost indefinite development, both in towns and country places. If we had the means of multiplying our agencies, a rich harvest would certainly be reaped. An effort, auxiliary to our regular Home Missions, has been commenced in London by the employment of lay agents to meet, to some extent, the peculiar requirements of the metropolis. But we are persuaded that, in addition to all salaried agencies, the necessities of the country demand the united labours of the whole of God's Church. This new organization, however widely extended, would be no blessing, if it led our people to leave all evangelistic work to those specially separated to it. Brethren, the Lord hath need of every one of you; and it is only by the self-denying and persevering toil of every one that the mission of Methodism—the spreading of Scriptural holiness throughout the land—can be completely fulfilled. On this matter of working for God, we confess that we are in doubt of some of you. Of brethren who stand all the day idle, we would ask: —Where is your pity for the perishing? Where your valour for the truth? Where your zeal for God?

The work of chapel-building has been carried on during the last twelve months upon the extensive scale of recent years. This kind of progress we know is sometimes spoken of, half disparagingly, as "material prosperity." But the material does not necessarily exclude the spiritual. We may have the Shekinah within the temple; and showers of blessing too copious to be contained may not fall until the Lord of hosts is proved by the bringing of all the tithes into His storehouse. With an admitted deficiency in the country in church and chapel accommodation, we cannot but rejoice in the multiplication of places of worship in which the pure Gospel will be preached, and which to succeeding generations will prove, we doubt not, centres of spiritual influence and power.

With regard to education, it is gratifying to be able to inform you that, notwithstanding the controversies of the day, and the effects which recent legislation must have upon pre-existing schools, our own Training Colleges and Day-schools are sustained in general vigour and efficiency, and in undiminished number. Upon our Sunday-school system, in connection with which not a few of you are usefully engaged, we are bestowing increased attention. To augment its power for good we have projected a plan for a Connexional Sunday-School Union, from the operation of which we expect good results Nor are we indifferent to the "intermediate" and the "higher" education. We are anxious that the children of our people should be able to pursue knowledge with as little damage as possible to their spiritual interests; and that at Oxford, the earliest home of Methodism, or at Cambridge or any other university, they should be surrounded by every safeguard which pastoral and parental solicitude can supply. How best to accomplish this end is a question to which we are anxious to find a practical solution.

Beloved brethren, as the years pass away we are reminded that we are removed further and further from the times of our first fathers in this ministry. This thought recurs with additional impressiveness as new names are inscribed upon our death-roll. It is some years since the last survivor of Wesley's own preachers passed to his reward; and now, by the decease of a venerated father, whose ministry dates from the fourth year of the present century, we are warned that other links are breaking, and that those of ourselves who had for earlier colleagues some who had been the later associates of our Founder, are becoming fewer and fewer in number. With the memories and traditions of the past waning dimmer and weaker through the lapse of time, it is neither unnecessary nor unwise to inquire whether the work of God called Methodism has been warped from its original course by the new hands to which its direction has been necessarily committed. With the sad lessons of ecclesiastical history before us, such an inquiry cannot be deemed inappropriate.

An accurate knowledge of the Connexion enables us to say, with gratitude to God, that Methodism is, as it ever has been, a living, spiritual, evangelical power. A comparison with the past yields us much satisfaction. The doctrines taught by the early Methodist Preachers are at this day "those things which are most surely believed among us," and believed with unbroken unanimity. Whatever be our reproach, it is not that of holding conflicting views, or of bewildering our congregations with contradictory teachings. And as to the spiritual life of the Connexion, ye, brethren, the members of our Churches, are the subjects of that life, and ought to know something of its condition. We are aware, of course, that it exists amongst you in different degrees, from the feeble pulsations of a weakly piety to the full vigour of spiritual manhood. That our Societies, upon the whole, are not an aggregation of dead but of living Churches, there is abundant evidence to show. This may be asserted whilst the admission is made that there have been periods in our Connexional history more prosperous than the present; when the life-giving Spirit was more plentifully bestowed; when the Word preached was more overwhelmingly powerful; when meetings for prayer and public worship were more largely attended by more earnest crowds; and when institutions, services, and people, were more fully instinct with spiritual life, than appears to be the case in many instances now. On the other hand, it would not be impossible to find periods in our denominational annals marked by suspicion, dissension, and other evils unknown to our own more peaceful times; periods also which, in intelligent and consistent piety, and in examples of holy living, can scarcely be said to be equal to the present. What, then, we and you want, dear brethren, is not another life, but "more abundant" vigour of the life which we already have; not another Spirit, but a richer baptism of that Spirit a measure of which we already possess. "Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

A more exalted spiritual life would show itself in an increased desire for Christian intercourse. The religion of the glorified in heaven, according to the intimations of Scripture, is eminently social; and when the Church below approaches most nearly in holiness and joyousness of feeling to the Church above, the result is seen amongst the saints in the increased closeness and constancy of holy fellowship. When a Church declines in spiritual life, there is a corresponding loss of appetite for Christian communion. To a man unblessed with experimental piety, opportunities for intercommunion of thought, and the disclosure of inner religious feeling, appear unnecessary and undesirable. On the other hand, it is a good indication of spiritual prosperity when the believer, yearning for sympathy, calls upon all who fear the Lord to listen whilst he declares what God has done for his soul. In nothing did Methodism meet the urgent need of the regenerated heart more than in the provision which it made for intimate religious fellowship. During its earlier days, as during the earlier days of Christianity, there was a continuing in "fellowship," as well as in "the Apostles' doctrine," and "in breaking of bread, and in prayers." And if, brethren, our Church-system is to descend undamaged to posterity, it must not only be by the uncorrupted preservat on of our doctrines, but by the perpetuation of the simple institution to which our fathers gave the unpretending, unecclesiastical name of "class-meeting;" in which the social elements of our sanctified nature are called into hallowed exercise, thought is interchanged, and sympathy and help mutually given and received. God forbid that our Churches, ceasing to be households resounding with the cheerful conversation of familiar voices, should be changed into cemeteries where death and silence reign,—where even the living few are mutes and mourners, and where the stillness is broken only by the voice of one solitary man!

The distance which separates our times from those of our Founder is suggestive of the immense difference between the England of 1740 and the England of 1873. We have evidence of alteration in the increase of population, in the growth of cities and towns, in the development of industrial resources, in the augmentation and wide distribution of wealth, in methods of locomotion, in the general spread of physical comforts, and in the unintermitting stimulus applied to the public mind by a cheap press. The result is, that men live at so rapid a rate, the mind is so constantly excited by the endless succession of subjects hurrying through it, that habits of reflection can scarcely be formed, and a thoughtful, meditative piety becomes difficult. The high pressure at which business is carried on, and the multiplication of all kinds of engagements, are unfavourable to devotional retirement and attendance on the week-night means of grace. The principle of organization applied to philanthropy, intellectual improvement, recreation, amusement, and a hundred other objects, tells in the same way. Many institutions, never designed to come into competition with our week-night services, nevertheless do present counter-attractions which draw away from chapels and class-rooms not a few of the lukewarm and the young. Need we add, beloved brethren, that the plea of promoting intellectual culture, or even philanthropic work, cannot justify the "forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is?"

Amongst the altered customs of the people, that of the removal of their residence by influential families from the centre to the suburbs of large towns, however excusable or even commendable in itself, has acted in some instances prejudicially to the interests of religion. Old chapels, some of them of hallowed associations, have been left struggling with diminished congregations, and these made up largely of one class,—the very poor. On the other hand, some suburban congregations are so distant from the quarters inhabited by the indigent, that wealthy members of them have little opportunity of showing kindness to fellow-worshippers in poverty, and of spreading amongst the poor, by efforts of their own, the blessings of the Gospel,—a work which the Lord Jesus referred to as one proof of His own Messiahship. Not a few families, moreover, have been lost to us altogether by this modern custom. Drawn to pleasant neighbourhoods by such considerations as salubrity and respectability, they have suffered serious spiritual loss in passing from localities where religious advantages abound to places where there are few or none. Is it not deplorable and strange that families professing godliness should not, in selecting a new home, consider first and foremost the soul's health? And yet, in the migratory tendencies of the age, an aggressive evangelism should find an incentive to zeal and liberality in chapel-extension and Home-Missionary work; so that it may become difficult for any of our members, be they merchants, artisans, miners, or agriculturists, to find themselves, wherever they go, at a considerable distance from a Methodist chapel and a Methodist class.

The age in which we live, dear brethren, requires from us vigilance in watching against errors, and earnestness in living and working for God. There are two forms of error which diverge from the truth in opposite directions,—the unbelief of speculation, and the misbelief of superstition; forms of evil which existed in the times of our Lord, and which are contemporary still. The disciples of Jesus have as much need as ever to be warned against "the leaven of the Sadducees," and "the leaven of the Pharisees." Speculation, never very modest, has reached in our day a perfection of audacity in dogmatising upon things "too wonderful" for the minds of men. Rationalism has united the heresies of science with the heresies of theology in attacking the very foundations of the Christian faith. At the same time, an extensive revival of superstition furnishes humiliating evidence that culture and advanced civilization afford no certain guarantees against the retrogression of the human mind in the direction of idolatry.

The progress of Popish doctrines and practices in this country is awakening serious apprehensions in the minds of not a few sagacious observers of current events. With regard to Roman Catholicism proper, although it has been greatly extended in England through Irish immigration, yet, taking the United Kingdom upon the whole, it would be difficult to prove that it has increased in numbers, relatively to the greatly-increased population, or to its own numerical condition thirty years ago. And if it be true that there are not more Roman Catholics in Great Britain and Ireland now than then, why, it may be asked, should the audacious demands of the Romish hierarchy for exceptional privileges be listened to? Why should this particular sect have concessions made to it, which Methodist and Nonconformist Churches do not ask for themselves, and which the Roman Catholic governments of Europe persistently refuse to yield to the priesthood?

There is another enemy to truth and liberty, more to be dreaded than the historic foe which gives open and honest allegiance to the Pope. This more insidious and treacherous adversary is the Popery which has arisen of late years within the pale of Protestantism, and which, occupying the vantage which it possesses as a power within the National Church, is employing many of the pulpits of the Establishment, and much of its rich revenues, in endeavouring to undo the work of the Reformation and lead the country back to Rome. We invite you, brethren, to co-operate with us in witnessing for God's truth against this dishonest party, and in resisting, as best we can, this anti-Scriptural movement. Let us encourage our brethren of the Church of England who are faithful to the Gospel of Christ, and who stand by the national Protestantism, in the efforts which they make against the spread of Sacerdotalism, with its superstitious mass and demoralizing confessional. We especially ask you to oppose this evil by outworking its agents in Home-Missionary operations. Let the women of Methodism show that, without the organization and garb of Romish or Anglican sisterhoods, or the severance of social ties, they can devote time, talents, and personal efforts to the service of Christ and to the benefit of souls.

Against the many social and insidious vices of the day, you are called upon to watch, and witness, and work. Worldliness, stimulated by the trading activities of this prosperous country, and its abounding facilities for making haste to be rich, is the great sin of the age. The love of amusement was, perhaps, never more general than it is now. In combination with intense and eager worldliness there is found an excessive levity, with a literature of its own,—the literature of frivolity. With enlarged resources there has come increased luxury in living; and, it is to be feared, an increase of the giant evil of intemperance. To this national sin, and the means for remedying it, we are giving anxious attention. We need scarcely remind you that, from the earliest periods of our Connexional history, Methodism has been strongly on the side of sobriety, and has discountenanced intemperance and the habits that lead to it. We are resolved, in the interests of the national morals, to renew our vigilance in this matter, and to use every effort to arrest the progress of drunkenness, and to preserve the sober against falling into this most degrading form of sin.

In conclusion, brethren, we urge you to cultivate personal religion. Let no public questions, however important in themselves, or Church-work, however praiseworthy, ever divert you from this. Alas for those who, while rendering public service to patriotism, to philanthropy, to religion, have forgotten the culture of their own hearts, and must bewailingly acknowledge at the last, "They made me the keeper of the vineyards; but mine own vineyard have I not kept!" For our own part we are determined to dedicate ourselves anew to our Divine Master and His work, and to seek to have constantly the presence of the Holy Spirit. We invite our people to join us in this. The harmonious and blessed Conference we have had is, we trust, the earnest of a prosperous year. That it may be so is, we are sure, the wish of all of you. And now, beloved, "seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently; being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away; but the Word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the Word which by the Gospel is preached unto you."

GERVASE SMITH, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

IRISH CONFERENCE, 1873,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1873.

Dear Fathers and Brethren,

Met again by the gracious Providence of God in our annual Conference, we embrace the opportunity of conveying to you our sentiments of fraternal love and esteem. In availing ourselves of this privilege, we heartily reciprocate the many kind expressions of sympathy and affection contained in your Reply to our last Address. The more frequent our interchange of thought and personal intercourse, the more apparent is our Connexional unity, and our mutual determination to "hold fast in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus," that "form of sound words" which by the grace of God has been committed to us.

We heartily unite with you in giving thanks unto God that "every department of His work committed to your care is in great prosperity," both at home and in the ever-widening field of your Foreign Mission work. It gave us much pleasure to learn that so considerable a portion of the material wealth bestowed by "the Author of every good and perfect gift" upon your highly-favoured country, is being consecrated to the service of Him "who, though He was rich, for our sakes became poor, that we through His poverty might be rich." The recent extension of your chapel and school accommodation evinces the generous philanthropy of your people, and the large share you are taking in the spiritual instruction and moral elevation of the rapidly-increasing population of your great metropolis, and of your large provincial towns. The deep searchings of heart occasioned by a small decrease of membership in a few of your Circuits have been already followed, in answer to humble confession and earnest prayer to "the Lord of the harvest" by the fulfilment of His promise, "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

From your knowledge of the difficulties with which we have to contend, you will be gratified to learn that an encouraging measure of success has been granted to the labours of our brethren throughout the kingdom during the past year. The great Head of the Church has graciously answered the importunate prayers of His servants, and many of our Societies and Congregations have had special "times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord." Notwithstanding the continuous decrease of our population, by emigration, as shown in the late Government census, we have had a small addition to our membership. The increased liberality of our people in their contributions to our Connexional Funds, and especially to our Home Mission and Contingent Fund, affords ample evidence of their due appreciation of our ordinances and means of grace, and of their earnest desire to take their full share in the evangelization of this still comparatively benighted land.

The question of National Education continues to have a large share of public attention on this side of the Channel, as well as on yours. The Ultramontane party in the Romish Church, though hitherto unsuccessful, still persists in demands that, if once conceded, would be subversive of our well-adapted National System of Primary Instruction, and productive of evil, the extent of which it is impossible for us to calculate. We have therefore to thank you for the kind consideration given to a Resolution of ours on the subject, submitted to your Conference of last year, and for the record in relation to it inserted in your published Minutes.

The arrangements made respecting the Auxiliary Fund, between your Committee and our Representatives, to whom we gave full powers to treat with you, are to us very satisfactory. For a time, the pressure on our limited resources may be somewhat felt, but we have confidence in the generous sympathy of our people, that, when the circumstances of the Ministers who are worn out, and the widows of those who have died, in the service of our Church, are made fully known, they will not be permitted to suffer in consequence. Our hesitation at first, or rather, the hesitation of many of our brethren, was not so much from fear of any pecuniary loss or disadvantage, as from jealousy lest, even in appearance, the bond of our ecclesiastical union should be weakened.

Politics and religion are so closely related in this country, that the results of recent legislation have brought out more prominently into view our denominational distinctions. The Romish hierarchy no longer conceal their pretensions to absolute dominion over the conscience and intellect both of their clergy and laity; and the testimony they have lately given, before the highest legal tribunals of the land, confesses to an organization of their Church that must be regarded by every enlightened and unprejudiced mind as a great conspiracy against the liberties of mankind, both civil and religious. We have also to lament, with you, that Romish thought is not confined to the pale of the Roman Catholic Church. Nevertheless, we believe that the great heart of Protestantism in this country is yet sound, and that the ecclesiastical changes which have lately taken place will greatly tend to the maintenance of its soundness. Our own position as a Church, and our sphere of operation, are more clearly defined. The apostolic and self-denying labours of our early Fathers are almost universally admitted to have been instrumental, under God, in a great revival of His work, and in preserving, through the more remote districts of the South and West, the very name of Protestantism from utter extinction. There are many, it is true, ready to acknowledge this, who at the same time say that our work is done, and that the future evangelization of this land may be safely left to the older communities whose spiritual activities we have awakened; but in our judgment the mission of Methodism is scarcely well begun, and in no former period of its history was the field of its operations so extensive and promising.

In the work of general education we follow you with slow and distant steps, on account of the means at our disposal being so limited. In the department of higher education we have been comparatively more successful. The Methodist College in Belfast, though only a few years in existence, has more than met the most sanguine expectations of its original promoters. We regret very much that it must now lose the services of its able and devoted Principal. In the discharge of his onerous duties, Dr. Robert Crook has suffered in health, and requires a season of leisure for its restoration. He is succeeded in the office of Principal by the Rev. Robinson Scott, D.D., whose long experience of educational work insures the continued efficiency of the College. The Connexional School in Dublin, under the able management of the Rev. T. A. M'Kee, Governor and Chaplain, still retains the high reputation long accorded to it; but the house-accommodation is insufficient, and the premises are unsuitable for its enlargement and adaptation to the present wants of the Institution. A new site, in every way suitable, has been secured, and we have given our sanction to the Trustees to apply for subscriptions towards a new and appropriate erection.

The zealous interest that our people have always taken in our Foreign Missions remains unabated, and the arrival of your Deputation from year to year initiates a season of religious festival. Several of our English brethren on the Deputation this year have been welcomed as old and highly esteemed friends, and without exception the services of all have been greatly valued and successful.

Our obituary list this year is, thank God, comparatively short, but it contains two names that have been long with us "household words." Thomas Waugh, though for a number of years unable from advanced age and physical infirmity to take any part in our Connexional affairs, has had for a long period so distinguished a place amongst us, and has been personally and by character so well known to you, that we need only say here that he died at his residence in Bandon, in great peace, and has left us a memory worthy of all honour. Daniel Macafee was also no common man. For a number of years previous to his decease he resided in London; and, as has been communicated to us, departed thence to his heavenly reward in the full 'triumph of faith." He was, throughout his active ministerial life, a master in our Israel, and by his latest work, "The Pillar and Ground of the Truth," he "though dead yet speaketh."

The Rev. Luke H. Wiseman, M.A., our honoured President, and the esteemed brethren whom you have appointed with him to represent you in our Conference, received from us, as it was meet, a hearty welcome. Our beloved President has been long known to many of us personally, and to us all by reputation, as a faithful and able Minister of Christ, but his presence and intercourse with us have greatly endeared him to all hearts. The Ex-President, the Rev. John H. James, D.D., and the Rev. Gervase Smith, M.A., have been cordially greeted as old and highly-valued friends, whom we are always glad to see and hear. The Rev. William B. Pope, though on his first visit, has no longer any reason to regard himself as a stranger. Highly gifted, and ready to communicate, he has laid us under great and lasting obligations. These distinguished brethren, by their pulpit ministrations, rich in evangelical doctrine, and replete with practical instruction, have largely contributed to the edification of ourselves, as well as the crowded congregations that attended every service.

We have appointed the Rev. George Vance, nominated as Delegate, the Rev. William G. Price, and the Rev. John D. Powell, as our Representatives in your Conference; and we have also appointed the Rev. Wallace M'Mullen to attend its sittings, with special reference to the completion of the arrangements concerning the Auxiliary Fund which were under consideration last year. These respected brethren have our entire confidence, and, well acquainted with all our affairs, they will be able and ready to give you any further information that may be desired.

We are about to close our Conference, which we regard as one of the happiest and most encouraging in our remembrance. With the utmost freedom of speech, "brotherly kindness" has never been forgotten, and with a willingness to adapt ourselves in our Connexional usages and administration to the varied circumstances that arise, there has been no disposition to alter or efface the old landmarks set up by our fathers. We separate to our several spheres of labour resolved, in prayerful reliance upon Him who has promised to the under-shepherds of His flock to be "with them alway, even unto the end of the world,"

> "To labour on at God's command,
> And offer all our works to Him."

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE, 1873,

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE IRISH CONFERENCE OF 1873.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Your welcome Address was read, as usual, at the opening of our Conference; and was heard with feelings of grateful satisfaction. We accept with thankfulness your renewed expressions of attachment and confidence, and rejoice that we are able to respond to them in similar terms. We are one with you, not only in our common origin, our doctrines, our aims, and our form of Church-organization, but also in brotherly affection; and we cannot doubt that this truest and fairest bond of union will continue to be jealously maintained.

We thank you for your congratulations in regard to those forms of external prosperity which we felt it right to point out in our Reply to your last Address, as signs of the approbation and blessing of God. You will be gratified to hear that each of the departments of our work to which we then referred has been marked during the past year by the same steady progress. On the building and enlargement of chapels and schools, and the reduction of debts on Connexional property, there has been expended the extraordinary sum of £309,593. Sanction has been given by our Chapel Committee to the erection of one hundred and thirty-five new chapels, which, with the additional accommodation provided by enlargements, supply thirty-five thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight sittings, being, it is calculated, "about one in seven of the average annual increase of the population of England, Scotland and Wales." In the Metropolis six new chapels have been opened during the year, others are in progress, and suitable sites have been secured for the erection of many more. The "Provincial Fund," in aid of this necessary work has reached the noble sum of nearly £64,500. Through the painstaking and well-directed exertions of our beloved Secretary, the Rev. Gervase Smith, M.A., aided by the Rev. Dr. Punshon, arrangements have been made by which the debt on the Westminster Chapel will be happily extinguished. In all this, as affording additional scope and facilities for our labours, and as implying the willing consecration of wealth to God on the part of our people, we find cause of devout thankfulness; and we earnestly look for the fulfilment of those great words, "Prove Me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

Nor are we without encouragement with reference to results of a more spiritual character. Our congregations are large and attentive; in many places there have been gracious awakenings and ingatherings into our Societies; and, after making all deductions of losses through deaths and other causes, we find a net increase of one thousand seven hundred and thirty members, with more than twenty thousand persons on trial. We are far from regarding these results with feelings of complacency, as all that should have been expected from our vast and manifold agency amongst an increasing population; but they assure us that God is in the midst of us, and impart to us a fresh stimulus to exertion.

Efforts have been made during the year to promote the greater efficiency of our Sunday-schools, and a plan has been prepared for the formation of a Connexional Sunday-School Union. The aggregate number of children in our Sunday-schools is nearly seven hundred thousand.

The question of elementary day-schools continues of necessity to engross our attention; and, following your example, a scheme has been under our consideration for the advancement of higher education. This subject has occupied much of the time of our Conference; important resolutions have been adopted with reference to it, and a Committee appointed for carrying them into effect.

We rejoice with you over the prosperity with which you have been favoured. Considering the peculiar difficulties by which you are beset, and the continuous thinning of your population by emigration, it is matter of fervent thanksgiving to God that you not only retain your position, but extend your borders and multiply the membership of your Societies. Your evangelistic labours were never more urgently required. Those outside observers to whom you refer, who, while they admit that the labours of your fathers were mainly instrumental in conserving the interests of Protestantism in your Island, assert that the work of Methodism is now done, have strangely misconceived the purposes of God in regard to it. In your truer judgment, "the mission of Methodism is scarcely well begun, and in no period of its history was the field of its operations so extensive and promising." The harvest truly is plenteous. A great and effectual door is open before you, which you will not be slow to enter, though there are many adversaries.

We feel it to be of the utmost importance that your National System of Primary Education should be maintained, as a safeguard against the encroachments of Romanism; and we re-affirm our determination to "oppose, by the use of every legitimate means in our power," every attempt to subvert that system.

Your own institutions for promoting higher education have long been objects of our admiration. We have heard with gratitude and joy of the remarkable success of the College in Belfast; and are most glad to learn that the prosperity which has been given to the older Connexional school in Dublin, has rendered it necessary for you to procure more commodious premises. Providence has guided you to the choice of a suitable site for this purpose, and we cannot doubt that necessary funds will be provided for its accomplishment.

We are gratified to find that the arrangements recently made between your Representatives and the Committee of the Auxiliary Fund are satisfactory to you. We should deeply regret if this method of simplifying the administration of the Fund should have the effect of reducing the already scanty allowances made to your aged brethren and their widows, or of slackening the ties of brotherhood between you and ourselves; but we cannot suppose either of these evil consequences to be possible. Our relation to each other will remain unchanged, and your confidence in the sympathy and liberality of your people will be found, in this as in other respects, to have been well placed.

We lament with you over your losses by death. The venerable Thomas Waugh and Daniel Macafee had ceased to be present at our annual gatherings, but it was pleasant to us to think of them as still brightening their immediate circles by their happy old age. Their obituaries have called forth, from our brethren who best knew them, many testimonies of regard and affection for their memory. In our own list of the departed are included this year the names of our beloved father, Thomas Jackson, and of that judicious and successful Missionary, William Shaw; as well as of many honoured brethren who have been taken from us in the midst of their days, to some of whom we had fondly looked for continued and successful service. We have listened to the story of their death with subdued sorrow mingled with gladness, and have renewed our resolutions to work while it is day.

Your esteemed Representatives, the Rev. George Vance, the Rev. William G. Price, and the Rev. John D. Powell, have been cordially welcomed by us, not only because they come in your name, but in consideration of their personal character; and we thank you for the special mission of the Rev. Wallace M'Mullen. His explanations in reference to the Auxiliary Fund, and the Address of the Rev. George Vance, have been heard with respectful attention.

We have appointed the Rev. Luke H. Wiseman, M.A., Ex-President, the Rev. Gervase Smith, M.A., the Secretary of our Conference, and the Rev. Dr. James, to accompany our beloved and honoured President, the Rev. George T. Perks, M.A., on his visit to you at your next Conference.

And now, dear brethren, we again commend you to God and the Word of His grace. May the course of prosperity on which you have again entered brighten more and more! May you and we alike approve ourselves as the Ministers of God, "by pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned, by the Word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left"! "And when the Chief Shepherd shall appear," may we all "receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away."

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

GERVASE SMITH, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH IN CANADA, 1873,

IN CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH CONFERENCE,

TO THE

CONFERENCE IN ENGLAND, 1873.

Reverend Fathers and Brethren,

Your paternal answer to our Address of last year has been duly received; and the reading of it has afforded us grateful satisfaction, and has excited that deep interest which always attaches to your communications.

We rejoice to learn that in the extension of Church accommodations, and in the means of supporting all your home institutions and Missionary operations you have been blessed with unprecedented prosperity, while your ministrations of the Word have never been more faithful, and the attendance upon them has never been so large.

The unity of Methodism to which you give such forcible expression has a profound response in our hearts. Ever since the English and American Conferences, in 1820, mutually declared that the Methodists were one Body throughout the world, and were determined so to remain, we have cherished the noble and truthful sentiment; and we derive no small satisfaction and encouragement from the conviction and feeling that, with diversities of operations, and even of gifts and administrations in various countries, on whatever continent of the globe or island of the sea, whereever Methodism has opened its commission and proclaimed the Gospel of salvation, the same doctrines have been preached, the same hymns have been sung, the same institutions have been established, the same conversions and reformations have been produced, the same experience has been realized, the same worship is observed, and the same spirit of unity, of onward progress and universal extension is cherished and cultivated; while the leaven of our Scriptural doctrines, and spirit of our Scriptural institutions have been widely diffused beyond the limits of our own denominational boundaries. Therefore, into whatever arrangements we may enter, or whatever methods we may adopt to advance our providential work in this Dominion, we purpose to keep steadily in view, as you suggest, the fundamental principles and distinguishing land-marks of original Wesleyan-Methodism.

We gratefully record the undisturbed harmony and the uninterrupted success and expansion of our work during the five years of the presidency of the Rev. William Morley Punshon, LL.D., for whose permission to come to us, and spend a term of years among us, we are indebted to your kindness. During the last five years our Church has been blessed in all its departments with an unusual increase and enlargement; and that success is in no small degree owing, under the Divine blessing, to the administration, counsels, and labours of Dr. Punshon, who, on the expiration of his permitted period of service here, carries with him to the Parent Church and his native land the admiration, respect, gratitude, and affection of the Ministers and members of our Church and congregations, and of our country at large, for his truly eloquent and Scriptural discourses and addresses, his practical counsels, and his extensive and unwearied labours. We have sympathized with him in the sorrows through which he has been called to pass, and, on his departure from us, he is accompanied by our best wishes and earnest prayers for his future happiness and usefulness.

We have requested Dr. Punshon to co-operate with our Representatives to your approaching Conference, and to him, in connection with them, we refer you for the details of the progress of our work during the five years of his administration among us, and especially during the past year.

We simply add that during our present Conference we have received thirty-nine young men on trial, and admitted into full connexion and ordained to the work of the ministry thirty-eight young men who have fulfilled their four years of trial, passed all the required examinations in the most satisfactory manner, and give promise of great efficiency and usefulness.

During the past year many new and commodious places of worship have been erected; we have had an addition to our Church-membership of one thousand and sixty-eight; and a large increase in our Missionary, Educational, Circuit, and other Connexional Funds. Our University, Colleges, and other educational institutions and Sabbath-schools have shared in the general prosperity.

Besides the ordinary business of our Conference, the gravest and most vital questions have been largely and earnestly discussed, but without the slightest tinge of bitterness, and in the true spirit of brotherly love. We have considered with great care, and decided upon, the important question of forming all the Methodists in the several provinces of the dominion of Canada into one Connexion under the control of a Quadrennial General Conference, and several Annual Conferences; and have also considered and adopted certain arrangements and regulations for a union between our own Church and that of the Methodists of the New Connexion.

In order that you may be fully informed of, and give your consent to, these proposed measures, we have appointed as our Representatives to your Body the Rev. Edward Hartley Dewart, Editor of the "Christian Guardian," and the Rev. Samuel S. Nelles, D.D., LL.D., President of Victoria University,—brethren holding the highest place in our esteem and affection, who will give you all needful information in regard to our contemplated organizations and arrangements, and whom we commend to your affectionate confidence.

From our experience of the great ability of the Rev. Samuel Dwight Rice, D.D., as our President during the proceedings of our present session, we have recommended him as our President of the ensuing year; and we have also nominated as Co-Delegate our respected and long-tried friend and brother the Rev. John A. Williams; and we respectfully request your sanction to these nominations.

Never have the proceedings of our Conference been more harmonious, spiritual, and edifying than during the present session; and, encouraged by the experience of past success and present prosperity, humbled under a consciousness of many shortcomings, impressed by a deep sense of personal obligation, and animated by the promises and prospects of the future, we consecrate ourselves afresh to the Divine work committed to us by the great Head of the Church.

We entreat the co-operation of your prayers for a renewed and copious baptism of the Holy Spirit, that throughout all our congregations, and in all the departments of our Church operations, the Divine blessing in all its fertilizing influences may render our ministrations and labours more successful than ever in our sacred mission of spreading Scriptural holiness over the land.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference of the Wesleyan-Methodist Church in Canada, London, Ontario, June 18th, 1873, EDWARD B. RYCKMAN, M.A., Secretary.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1873,

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CONFERENCE IN CANADA, 1873.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

It always gives us pleasure to receive from our brethren in the Dominion of Canada such expressions of regard as are contained in the Address presented to us through the hands of your respected representatives of the present year. The ties of kindred between us are strong, and in the still closer bonds of Christian communion we have learned to sympathize in your trials and joy in your triumphs.

The resolutions we have passed, in response to proposals made by you, with a view to the consolidation of the two Conferences now existing in the Dominion of Canada into one Body, will testify to you with what readiness we have met your wishes. If by the proposed arrangements your strictly official connection with us as the Parent Conference may be said to cease; on the other hand we hope, and indeed believe, as we are warranted to do by the cordial feelings of mutual love wherewith the change in our relations has been proposed on your part and accepted on ours, that your substantial union with us will not be less real nor affectionate; and that, by the influence of the spirit of peace and love, it will be enduring. The responsibility which henceforth not only virtually but also formally devolves upon you, of taking entire charge of the interests of Methodism in your great country, is one for which you have been well prepared by your past course. We doubt not that you will, in the future, be blessed from on high with wisdom and fidelity, so that your present encouraging position will prove to be but a preparation for great and rapid advancement. While the work entrusted to you by the Head of the Church resembles in many respects that committed to ourselves, we are aware that it possesses special characteristics. We are, therefore, ready to believe that He who sanctions diversities of operations will bestow diversities of gifts; so that while there are differences of administrations there shall be the same Lord working in you and by you, moulding the development of your organization and the history of your Church. You have been able to define a basis of agreement between the allied but divergent bodies of Methodists in your midst; and we trust that your labours will appear to have been undertaken at the dictation of that "spirit of love and of a sound mind" which is promised to Christian communities.

Although the union of different sections of the Church may not assume amongst us the shape it has taken with you, the desire for the promotion of practical agreement between the different Evangelical Churches in our country is increasingly strong. The necessities of our position are compelling us to be united on the essentials of our faith. The principles on which our existence as a Church depends are violently assailed. Men outside the pale of Rome rival her pretensions, and urge them with unwonted perseverance. Atheism is dogmatically announced and disseminated with all the ardour that has ordinarily accompanied the diffusion of a new religious creed. Against these evils we are contending without abating hope of ultimate victory or faltering in our conviction of the stability of Revealed Truth. Worldliness and the increased luxury of modern life war against our souls; but against this enemy the Spirit of the Lord still lifts up a standard. During the past year we have not been without gracious visitations of the Holy Ghost in our Churches, and although the places thus blessed have not been as numerous as we desire, we hail all tokens of the Divine presence with reverent gratitude. We believe that a genuine desire for the spreading of Scriptural holiness is strong in the hearts of our people; and at no time have more earnest and systematic efforts been made to counteract the vices that are of gigantic growth amongst us. You have shown your appreciation of our efforts to prevent poor and neglected children from falling into crime, by opening to them an asylum in your country. We are also endeavouring to utilize for our youth in a higher social position, the advantages of the most perfect culture our Universities afford. We pray that the varied agencies enumerated in your Address to us may be sanctified to the accomplishment of those ends for which they are incorporated in the machinery of the Church; and that you may rejoice in the fulness of life that redeems Christians from the reproach of those who ask, Where is now their God? For we are well assured that while spacious edifices for the celebration of Divine service, carefully conducted schools, educated Ministers, and numerous adherents, are all causes for gratitude, the best gifts which are to be most earnestly coveted are those of the Spirit, who convinces the world of sin because it believes not in Christ, and who makes the untroubled soul of the believer the abode of that peace which passeth all understanding.

We rejoice to find that the presence of the Rev. W. Morley Punshon, LL.D,. amongst you has been accompanied with the great and varied benefits you have recognized in your Address as conferred upon your Church by his residence in Canada. And we now receive him afresh into the ranks of our ministry with an affection and regard that temporary absence has only intensified.

We cheerfully sanction your nomination of the Rev. Samuel Dwight Rice, D.D., as President for the ensuing year, and of the Rev. John A. Williams as Co-Delegate.

Again assuring you of our Christian and fraternal sympathy, we bid you farewell, praying that our God would count you worthy of His calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of His goodness, and the work of faith with power, that the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in Him.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

GERVASE SMITH, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

AUSTRALASIAN WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH, 1873,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1873.

Honoured Fathers and Brethren,

This annual opportunity of hearing from you, and of communicating with you, is to us more than a form, it is a privilege. It is an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace of sympathy and oneness, which we desire to preserve and strengthen. It can never be forgotten by us, that for many years our colonial as well as our Polynesian Churches were Missionary organizations, whose Ministers were sent forth from your ranks, and supported at the cost of your Missionary Society. And however firmly we may become attached to the land, and the people amongst whom we live, and however confidently we may expect for our Church a great future here, we find ourselves often looking askance to mark the progress, and to listen to the voice, of English Methodism.

Eighteen years ago, we entered on the second period of our Methodist history in these lands, namely, that of organization under our Australasian Conference. The same reasons which indicated the necessity of that change, seem now with equal force to justify further change in the same direction.

The desire for local representation and government amounts to a passion in these parts of the British Empire; nor can we doubt that the Church as well as the State is most susceptible of sound and rapid development when this desire finds fitting mechanism for its exercise. And therefore the creation of Colonial Conferences, obeying the attraction, and revolving around the central light of a periodical General Conference, has been one of the ruling ideas of our present Assembly. The adjustments necessary are neither few nor easily compassed; and we thank you for your kindness in directing our attention to some of them. These have now been carefully considered by us, and we have anxiously, and, as we trust, not in vain, sought the guidance of the God of our fathers, who has so signally impressed a providential order on all the history of Methodism, both earlier and later. It has afforded us much satisfaction to see amongst us, as a Deputation from your Missionary Committee to ours, the Rev. W. B. Boyce, whose name is indelibly written on the records of Australasian Methodism. Both our Missionary Committee and our Conference received him with the most hearty demonstrations of welcome; and the question of the future management of our Polynesian Missions was not only most carefully considered, but our conclusions were unanimous, and in perfect agreement with the judgment of our esteemed visitor; whom we found as willing as ever to afford us the benefit of that sagacity in counsel, and that large experience of Missions and of Methodism, which many of us remember in connection with his name and work in former days.

Our Minutes this year convey to you the obituary of one of our foremost men, the late Rev. Stephen Rabone. As one of the first and most successful Missionaries in the Friendly Islands, as an earnest and able Minister in many of the principal Circuits in this Colony, as our Missionary Secretary in a most critical period of our Missions, and as the administrator of a very large part of our Colonial Church Funds, Mr. Rabone moved amongst us with such serene diligence, and such many-sided efficiency, that we had scarcely realized the amount of work he was doing for us, until his sudden removal by death.

The Rev. Benjamin Chapman, our Ex-President, and for many years the Secretary of our Conference, has been appointed by us Mr. Rabone's successor. This election will give general satisfaction to the friends of our Missions in these colonies, and we are confident will meet with your approval also.

The completion of the electric telegraph this year, between ourselves at the remotest outposts of civilization and your shores, is an event in which we discern the presage of more direct and immediate sympathy between ourselves and you in the future than in the past. The impulses which are ever moving the societies of your merchants and capitalists, of your philosophers and your statesmen, are not the only ones which will be transmitted through the electric wire over half the world, to spend themselves in Australasia. The follies and crimes of the older world are rehearsed to us daily, and the political vibrations of the great empires of the earth do not subside now-a-days until they have penetrated and disturbed the obscurest island-kingdoms of this ocean. But we expect to share more fully in the blessings of good rapidly diffused, than in the curse of moral evil, winged with evil, and outstripping the tempest or the pestilence. We hope to read the swiftly-borne messages of great spiritual baptisms gladdening the Churches of British Methodism, and then, even while you are telling us that the covenant angel is pouring on you the fulness of His saving grace, to be able to reply that we also hear His footsteps, and feel his glorious presence in our assemblies.

We are now entering upon a third period of Australasian Methodism. And as we pass on in the appointed path of progress, we see reasons for much gratitude to God, chastened, however, and guarded from boasting by some facts which call for humiliation and self-searching. We find, on making up the numbers of our Church-members for the year, that we have to record a small increase in our Mission Churches, but an almost equal decrease in our Colonial Churches. We have learnt to distinguish between the ecclesiastical process, which adds another adherent, and the spiritual power which regenerates a soul, and adds another genuine Christian to the brotherhood of Christ's disciples. The increase of converted Church-members is to us, as to you, the thing most to be desired, the surest sign of progress, and the richest fruit of the Divine presence. And yet, with this ground of humiliation before God, the increase of our Church during the last eighteen years has been very great, and the reasons for gratitude, and the encouragements to renewed effort, are very conspicuous. We have more Church-members now in any one of five of our principal Colonial Districts than we had in our whole Connexion, exclusive of the Polynesian Missions, when our first Conference assembled under the Presidency of the Rev. William B. Boyce. This growth appears in every department of our colonial work; while in our Missionary Churches, the spirit of Christian liberality has attained surprising fervour, and has expressed itself in extraordinary munificence. Our supply of Ministers raised up from amongst ourselves is nearly equal to our requirements, though we expect still occasionally to ask your help, especially to meet extraordinary openings for evangelical effort. But we pray that the great "Lord of the harvest" may raise up both to us and you, many labourers eminently endowed with strength, and with wisdom to grasp the ever-growing work of the ever-widening field of Christian enterprise.

We very cordially thank you for sanctioning our choice of a President, and appointing the Rev. Thomas Williams to that office. He has proved himself well qualified for the duties of an unusually important and memorable Conference; and has thus materially added to those claims upon our esteem, which he has won as a good Minister of the Lord Jesus, proved not only amidst the perils of Fijian barbarism, but also amidst the responsibilities and labours of some of the most important Circuits of our Colonial work.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

THOMAS WILLIAMS, President.
JOHN COPE, Secretary.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1873

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE AUSTRALASIAN CONFERENCE, 1873.

Dearly beloved Brethren,

"Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ." As fellow-heirs of the Kingdom of God, and co-workers with us in the world-wide field of Evangelical toil, we heartily reciprocate your sentiments of brotherly affection; and assure you that the bonds that unite us were never more dearly cherished by us than now: your successes, your joys, and your sorrows are ours. Especially we rejoice in the signal and rapid expansion of your work, which has so soon imposed upon you the necessity of developing your organization, and adapting it to the requirements of the vast continent of Australia and its dependent Missionary Stations. It is unnecessary to remind you that such changes as you have resolved upon, although more easily effected under the favourable conditions of colonial society, and demanded by the exigencies of the case, need to be carried out with great unanimity and deliberation. They should rather be the spontaneous outgrowth of circumstances than the anticipation of future and contingent requirements. But in this important matter we believe, and pray, that the same guiding hand of Providence which has so conspicuously conducted us and our fathers until now, will equally direct you, that the issue may be for the glory of God and the furtherance of the Gospel.

The cheering statements contained in your Address, and the strong testimony borne by your honoured representative, the Rev. W. B. Boyce, respecting the efficiency and faithfulness of your ministrations, have given us unfeigned pleasure. We glorify God in you, and desire earnestly for you a more abundant measure of the spirit of wisdom, power, and love.

With you we lament the loss of so eminent a Minister of Jesus Christ, and so wise an administrator, as your late faithful and devoted Missionary Secretary, the Rev. Stephen Rabone; and cannot forget that we also have to sorrow over the graves of the venerable Thomas Jackson and the Rev. William Shaw, men whose memory is precious, and whose praise is in all the Churches. Yet our sorrow is chastened by hope while we follow their faith, and consider the end of their conversation: nor would we ever forget that "Jesus Christ" is "the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever."

In the choice of the Rev. Benjamin Chapman, as Mr. Rabone's successor in office, we cordially coincide. We know his approved ability and diligent attention to the duties confided to his charge; and therefore entertain the hope that under his prudent direction your Missionary operations will not only be maintained in their full vigour, but largely extended, and crowned with more abundant success.

We commend to your special care and sympathy the Missions in Fiji. The reports which have reached us of the wrongs inflicted upon some of the native Islanders under the pretext of hired labour, but really reviving some of the worst features of Negro slavery, have excited a very general feeling of indignation and sorrow in the hearts of Christian and philanthropic men. That such atrocities should have been perpetrated under the protection of the English flag is intolerable. More than once the subject has been brought under the notice of the British Government, and we trust that effective measures will soon be adopted to put an end to such nefarious practices, and bring the offenders to justice.

The establishment of telegraphic communication with you, as with other distant parts of the globe, cannot fail to have an influence upon the well-being of the universal Church, equally powerful with that which it has upon the material interests of mankind; and we discern in it the hand of Divine Providence binding together God's scattered people, providing them with the means of closer intercourse, and preparing them for united aggression upon the confederate powers of evil.

The fact that our numerical increase, both at home and abroad, is not in due proportion to the enlargement and augmented vigour of our operations, supplies ground for prayer and thoughtful inquiry. Without doubt, "because iniquity abounds the love of many waxes cold." The intense worldliness of the age encourages the growth of moral evil, and eats out the religious life of many who were once "alive to God" and "zealous of good works." Hence the disposition to separate themselves and seek shelter in a painted ritual, or a vain and rationalistic philosophy, in the ornate services of Rome, or the self-complacent conceits of scepticism. Against these forms of error, which everywhere present themselves, and seem daily to be acquiring new strength, we have abundant reason to utter a united, faithful, and practical testimony. Therefore we exhort you, brethren, to encourage by all possible means, especially by the maintenance of Class-Meetings, the actual communion of saints, which both Holy Scripture and experience have shown to be so essential to the support and increase of spiritual life.

Finally, we entreat you to unite with us in earnest, believing, and importunate prayer for the baptism of the Spirit upon our Churches, and the "power of convincing speech in our ministrations." This is our only sufficient and certain resource amid the perils of the present time; and the promise is sure, "I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh." Let the cry go up to heaven from every faithful heart, alike from the sanctuary and the closet, "Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old;" "O that Thou wouldest rend the heavens, that Thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at Thy presence." "Save now, I beseech Thee, O Lord: O Lord, I beseech Thee, send now prosperity!" "Now the God of Peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is well pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen."

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

GEORGE T. PERKS, President,
GERVASE SMITH, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH OF EASTERN-BRITISH AMERICA, 1873,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1873.

REVEREND AND VERY DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN,

To greet you with our filial and fraternal salutations is not a matter of mere routine. Those of us who were born across the Atlantic, and came to this country to prosecute Missionary labours, have lost none of our love and loyalty to the old land and the mother Church; those of us who are natives of this land rejoice that we live under British laws and institutions, and trace with gratitude and joy the history, both at home and abroad, of the Church founded by the Wesleys, and early planted in the Western World.

The Address from your venerable Body is always listened to with most respectful attention. The Address read to us during our present session afforded us much delight. We do indeed rejoice with you in the stability and extension of your work among the dense populations of your own land, and in the magnitude and success of your Missionary operations on many shores. The decrease in your membership at home which you were compelled to report a year ago, was an occasion of sorrow to us also. We hope, however, that at your approaching Conference you will be able to record a large accession. We are encouraged in this hope by the tidings of revivals, in many parts of your work, over which we have rejoiced, during the months which have elapsed since your Address was written.

The position of Methodism in the old country is a matter of deepest interest to us, and we shall rejoice, as Methodists and Britons, over your continued progress.

We sympathize with you in the loss your Connexion has sustained by the death of such eminent and devoted men as Dixon, Hoole, and Vasey, as mentioned in your Address; and of others, especially the venerable Thomas Jackson, of whose departure we have otherwise heard. But we rejoice that God ever raises up for your ministry worthy successors of the illustrious and sainted dead.

A review of our year's work and its apparent results is, on the whole, encouraging. Several young men have come to us since last Conference from various English Circuits, but the supply of ministerial labour is not yet equal to the growth and demands of our work. Two young men, sons of two of our own aged Ministers, having honourably finished their probation, have been now ordained to the office and work of the ministry. Seventeen young men have been received at this Conference as candidates for our work, so that we have now upon probation sixty-four young men,—a greater number than for several years past. Six brethren who were compelled to retire from active work last year, have been so benefited by the rest thus secured, as to be able to return this year to the active work. On the other hand, however, five of our brethren become Supernumeraries, of whom all but two have long laboured in the Master's service, and probably retire permanently from full Circuit work.

It is our mournful duty to report the deaths of three members of our body. One, the Rev. William Temple, after a long life of devoted and useful toil in the service of God and His Church, has gone to his rest; another after nine years of labour in Newfoundland, where pleasing memories of him will linger long; and a third who had just gone out from the Sackville Institutions, as we hoped, for many years of honourable warfare. But His will is best who ruleth over all, and knowing that "blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," we "comfort one another with these words."

The increase of our membership, though not equal to our desires, is still sufficient to make us thankful to God, and encourage us in our work. Blessed revivals have been given, in answer to prayer, in many of our Circuits, especially in Newfoundland; and we find ourselves able to report a net increase of five hundred and sixty-seven members, and two thousand two hundred and thirty-one on trial.

Our Funds generally show a corresponding advancement, especially our Home Mission Fund, which three years ago had an income of only three thousand dollars, but this year is in receipt of ten thousand seven hundred and three dollars. We shall have for many years to come abundant demands on this Fund; and realizing that the extension of our work depends largely upon it, we are making earnest efforts to raise it to a state of adequate efficiency. While we are trying to do our duty towards our own land, and are eager to extend our home work, much of which, especially in Newfoundland, is truly Missionary in character, we do not forget the claims of the world upon us; and the cry, "Come over, and help us," reaching us from distant shores, evokes the sympathies of our people and ourselves.

Our Educational Institutions continue to prosper. Though the withdrawal of Government aid has been an occasion of temporary difficulty, it will, we believe, ultimately result in great and permanent good to this department of our work. The Endowment Fund, now a matter of necessity, has reached the sum of forty-five thousand dollars; we aim at raising it to the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and have set apart as agent of this Fund, the Rev. H. Pickard, D.D., whose long connection with our Educational enterprise, and business tact and energy, well qualify him for this work. In our young country, with its growing population, its increasing wealth and culture, and the bright future, we feel called to do our best in the great work of liberal and Christian education.

The affairs of our Book-Room, under prudent management, continue to improve; and this establishment, which we once feared it would be impossible to maintain, now promises to be, at least, a self-supporting institution, and, we trust, an instrument of great good.

A plan for the union of our Conference with the Canada Conference, under one general administration, having already been accepted by the latter body, has been approved of by us with unanimity. From the consummation of this great object, for the inception of which we are largely indebted to the wisdom and faithful labours of your own Dr. Punshon, we hope for great and blessed results. We regret, however, that notwithstanding the contemplated change in our relations, the essentially Missionary character of our work in these maritime provinces will render it necessary for us to look for financial help to your venerable Body for some years to come.

We have appointed as a Deputation to represent us in your approaching Conference, and to negotiate with you in all matters likely to be affected by the contemplated union of our Conference with the Canada Conference, our esteemed brethren, the Rev. Dr. Stewart, President of the Conference, and Dr. Pickard, our Financial Agent.

We request you will appoint as our next President the Rev. John M'Murray, and as Co-Delegate the Rev. George S. Milligan, A.M.

The interest of our session, which has been one of great harmony, has been increased by the presence of Dr. Rice, the esteemed President of the Canada Conference. In all our meetings, Conferential and public, the presence of our gracious Master has been felt, and from this happy re-union we go forth, expecting in our Circuits "times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord:" and now, and ever, for all His care and mercies, and for all our success, we will say, "Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things; and blessed be His glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with His glory; Amen, and Amen."

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

CHARLES STEWART, President,
JAMES TAYLOR, Secretary.

o

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1873

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH IN EASTERN-BRITISH AMERICA, 1873.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

In the name of our common Lord and Master we convey to you the expression of our brotherly esteem and love. It was highly gratifying to us to find, both from the language of your Address, and the oral testimonies of Dr. Stewart and Dr. Pickard, that the good hand of our God was still upon you for good in the prosecution of those hallowed labours to which you have devoted your lives. In this you will readily discern proof of the Divine faithfulness. Ever mindful of His word, the great Head of the Church sustains His servants in their arduous toil by supplies of His Holy Spirit.

We joy with you in reviewing the tokens of prosperity with which the Holy Spirit has gladdened your Societies and Missions during the year; especially that most grateful sign of the Divine favour, the accession of many new-born souls to the Church. We earnestly pray that in the anxious work of preserving the sheep you have gathered, you may be able so to watch over them that not one may escape from the fold. If these new converts hold fast their confidence, you will, in future days, gather from their ranks a supply of faithful labourers whose charge it shall be to carry on the work now entrusted to your own hands. Be assured also that we account any occasion for praise to our Redeemer which may be given you, an opportunity granted to ourselves of joining with you in the Apostolic Doxology, "Now, thanks be unto God who always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of His knowledge by us in every place."

At this our annual Assembly, we have not, as last year, to report a decrease in our numbers. The returns from the Districts show a net increase on the preceding year of one thousand seven hundred and thirty. We have now three hundred and forty-eight thousand five hundred and eighty members; with twenty thousand eight hundred and forty-four who have been admitted on trial. We accept this token of the Divine favour as a challenge from our Heavenly Lord to renew our zeal and devotion, and a powerful incitement always to stand in readiness,

> "To help the souls redeem'd by Him,
> In what their various states demand;
> To teach, convince, correct, reprove,
> And build them up in holiest love."

The Minutes of our Conference will inform you of the removal by death of honoured fathers and brethren, each of whom in his own sphere was a faithful steward of the manifold gifts of God. The names of men of renown are found among them. The venerable Thomas Jackson has entered into rest. His saintly character, and Christian gentleness, maintained through an unusually lengthened period, endeared him not only to ourselves, but also to thousands of our people. You have known and valued, equally with us, his public ministry, and the eminent services he rendered to Methodism in every department of its work. William Shaw, a man of God, justly entitled to the appellation of "The Apostle of Southern Africa," and of whom the Churches in that country have abundant reason to retain an affectionate remembrance, has closed his career of usefulness in peace. Two veterans in the field of Irish Methodism, Thomas Waugh, and Daniel Macafee, have also departed this life. These eminent men were well known and highly esteemed amongst ourselves, and by not a few in the provinces of British America.

We regard your deep concern for the extension of Christian education, and your zealous efforts to promote it, with great joy; and most earnestly pray that your highest expectations concerning it may be fully realized. It has, moreover, given us much pleasure to hear of the liberal sustentation of your Funds, especially that connected with your Home Missionary operations.

We doubt not, dear brethren, that the conviction of your minds, touching the pressing spiritual necessities of your home population, and the adaptation of Methodism to meet those necessities, is as powerful as amongst us. Perishing souls demand our sympathy and help, and, by God's grace, the demand shall not be made in vain.

An influential Committee of this Conference has given to your proposal for union with the Canadian Conference its most careful consideration. We have full confidence that this most important measure will issue in the much wider extension of the work of God among you; inasmuch as it will enable you to meet the forces of evil arrayed against the truth as it is in Jesus with an united army of faithful men. The fulfilment of your hopes concerning it may be looked upon as certain, for "the battle is the Lord's."

We have agreed to certain Resolutions relating to the proposed Union which, we trust, will enable you and the Canada Conference to adopt such measures as, by the Divine blessing, may conduce to the growth, consolidation, and increase of Methodism in the extensive regions within which the proposed Union will carry forward its operations.

To the addresses of the beloved brethren who have represented you we have listened with much interest; and we most willingly accede to your request that the Rev. John M'Murray should be appointed the President of your next Assembly; and that the Rev. George S. Milligan, M.A., should act as Co-Delegate. You will rejoice to hear that in the several sessions of our present Conference, and in the public services connected with it, we have been favoured with manifest tokens of the Divine presence. Our people have been edified. We ourselves have been strengthened, and shall return to our several Circuits with purposes of renewed consecration to the duties of our sacred calling. As sharers in the blessings of "the common salvation," and as one with you in all that concerns the prosperity of the kingdom of our great God and Saviour Jesus Christ, we bear you in our hearts to the throne of grace. In the earnestness of prayer, and in the strength of faith,—that faith of which our own Richard Watson has said, "it is a bold, a daring, and an imperious thing, and will not be denied,"—we implore for you, and for your flocks, abundant baptisms of the Holy Ghost; that both in your private means of grace, and your public assemblies, you may have daily reason to utter the inspired challenge, "Cry out and shout, O inhabitants of Zion, for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee!"

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

GEORGE T. PERKS, President,
GERVASE SMITH, Secretary.

MEMORIAL PRESENTED TO THE CONFERENCE BY A DEPUTATION OF MINISTERS BELONGING TO VARIOUS EVANGELICAL NONCONFORMIST DENOMINATIONS IN NEWCASTLE AND ITS NEIGHBOURHOOD.

TO THE CONFERENCE OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CONNEXION ASSEMBLED IN NEWCASTLE, 1873.

Dear Brethren,

We, the Evangelical Nonconformist Ministers of various denominations in Newcastle, take the opportunity of your assembling in this town to offer you the assurance of our hearty Christian affection, of our devout congratulation on all the success with which God has honoured you in your work for Him in the past, and of our earnest prayers that He may vouchsafe to you yet greater prosperity in days to come.

Differing as we do from one another on several points of doctrine and polity, which, however important we may deem them, none of us regard as essential to salvation, or to Christian character, we are one in the maintenance of the fundamental verities of the Gospel of Christ. And we believe that in the times which are coming upon us it will more and more behove those who are thus one to take every fitting occasion to recognize and proclaim their unity; and it will be more and more important that, while frankly maintaining all our distinctive views, we should stand shoulder to shoulder in the gathering conflicts of our time, hailing one another as brethren alike set for the defence of the freedom and purity of the Gospel, against all sacerdotal corruptions on the one hand, and all so-called rationalistic negations on the other. The very differences which to some extent divide us add force to these considerations. The differences are patent to the world, and made much of by the world in its enmity to the truth. The unity which lies beneath the differences is less obvious, and the opportunities for manifesting it are comparatively rare. Those opportunities should be therefore the more highly prized and the more anxiously turned to account. It is with these views and objects that we have asked permission to present to you these few words of fraternal greeting to-day.

We recognize with gratitude the testimony you have been and are enabled to bear for the liberty of preaching, and for the Missionary responsibilities of the Church of Christ. We rejoice with unfeigned joy in the glorious results which have attended your work, especially in the more neglected districts of our land. We believe that your example has done much, and will yet do more, to inspire other Christian bodies to generous rivalry with you in this evangelistic campaign, and to suggest wiser methods of carrying it on. We observe with thankfulness that your statistics present encouraging tokens of prosperity and progress; and we join you in beseeching the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ that He would pour out upon His Church a larger spirit of faith and zeal, of consecration and prayer, so that the coming of His Kingdom may be hastened and His way be known upon earth, His saving health among all nations.

APPENDIX II.

MEETING OF THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE OF REVIEW,

HELD IN NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, JULY 29TH, 1873.

The Rev. LUKE H. WISEMAN, M.A., President of the Conference, in the Chair.

MOVED by the Rev. Dr. Jobson; seconded by Mr. John Napier; supported by Mr. T. P. Bunting:

1. That this Committee cannot listen to the record of the death of two such eminent men and able Ministers as the Rev. William Shaw and the Rev. Thomas Jackson without expressing its sense of the heavy loss which the Society has sustained by the decease of their beloved and honoured friends. In their removal, as well as in that of several faithful and generous lay members of the General Committee, this Committee is reminded that "the night cometh, when no man can work."

Moved by the Rev. Dr. James; seconded by Signor Sciarelli and the Rev. T. W. S. Jones; supported by Mr. N. Subrahmanyam Ayar, B.A., LL.D., and the Rev. Joseph Bush:

2. That this Committee has heard with much satisfaction that the debt of the Society is liquidated, that there is a steady advance in the ordinary income from the Home and Foreign Auxiliaries, and that many departed friends have enriched the Society by large bequests; but as the Society depends mainly for its support upon the regular income from subscriptions, donations, and public collections, this Committee would again repeat its conviction that this income might be largely augmented by the more systematic and earnest working of the details of the Auxiliary and Branch organizations.

Moved by the Rev. William G. Price; seconded by the Rev. George Piercy; supported by Mr. Stephenson and the Rev. John Edwards:

3. That this Committee approves of the application of the principles acted upon in the administration of the Home Mission and Contingent Fund to the case of all Circuits in South Africa and the West Indies, and all other Colonial Circuits needing assistance from the Mission Fund, and rejoices to learn that some of the Native Churches are steadily advancing towards self-support, not only in providing pecuniary means but in furnishing candidates for a Native Ministry; and that in the judgment of this Committee the principle of self-support cannot be too early or earnestly enforced on all Native Churches, in order that they may not be enfeebled by undue reliance on foreign assistance.

Moved by the Rev. John Bedford; seconded by Mr. Mewburn:

4. That this Committee recommends that the thanks of the Conference be presented to Mr. James Heald, and the Rev. Dr. Jobson, the General Treasurers, to the General Secretaries, and to the Committee of Management, for their services during the past year.

APPENDIX III.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE NEW-KINGSWOOD AND WOODHOUSE-GROVE SCHOOLS AND EDUCATION FUND,

HELD IN NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, JULY 25TH, 1873.

PRESENT, the Rev. Luke H. Wiseman, M.A., President of the Conference, in the Chair; the Rev. G. T. Perks, M.A., Secretary of the Conference; the Rev. Benjamin B. Waddy, Treasurer of the Fund; the Rev. Frederick Payne and the Rev. John Harvard, Secretaries of the Fund; the Rev. G. Stringer Rowe, Secretary of the Children's Fund, and others.

It was reported that the number of Ministers' children upon the Fund in the past year has been 677; 246 boys in the Schools, 116 girls in the Schools, and 315 boys and girls receiving education allowances at home. The cost has been £17,825. 7*s.* 8*d.*; and the deficiency provided for by the Children's Fund is £4,347. 3*s.* 3*d.*

The examinations have been conducted for the most part, both at New Kingswood and Woodhouse-Grove, by gentlemen appointed by the Syndicate of the University of Cambridge, at the request of the Local Committees. This has resulted from the inability of the Rev. W. F. Moulton, M.A., to continue the very efficient services rendered by him for several years past. But the value of those services has been most conclusively proved by the confirmation of his former reports, in their most important features, by the independent examiners of the present year.

The health of the schools has been on the whole good, and the moral tone has been high. The religious culture of the children has been steadily kept in view, and many of them have given their hearts to God.

It was unanimously resolved, That this Committee, understanding that the Committees appointed by the Conference in 1871, and again in 1872, have duly reported, and convinced of the importance and necessity of prompt action on the subjects which they have considered, expresses its earnest hope that such action may be taken accordingly by the Conference at its ensuing session.

It was also unanimously resolved to recommend that the thanks of the Conference be given

1. To the Rev. Benjamin B. Waddy and Mr. John Meek, the General Treasurers; the Rev. Frederick Payne and the Rev. John Harvard, the General Secretaries; and to the Local Treasurers, Secretaries, and Committees, for the diligent and efficient discharge of the duties of their respective offices during the past year.

2. To the Rev. William H. Sargent and the Rev. Henry H. Chettle, the Governors of the Schools, and to Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. Chettle, together with the ladies having charge of the schools for girls, at Clapton and Southport, for their kind attention to the comfort of the children under their care during the past year; and to Mr. Thomas Osborn, the Head Master of New Kingswood School, and Mrs. Osborn, who have kindly supplied the place of Mr. and Mrs. Sargent.

3. To the ladies and gentlemen who, at the request of the Local Committees, have kindly served the Institutions by examining the schools for both boys and girls in various branches of learning.

V. GENERAL MANAGEMENT OF TRUST ESTATES.

The returns include particulars relating to 6,312 Trust estates. There is an increase of 1,224 in the number insured against fire. This increase is chiefly owing to the energetic manner in which the Wesleyan-Methodist Trust Insurance Company have commenced and carried on their business during the year.

The following Resolutions were adopted:—

Moved by the Rev. Dr. Jobson, and seconded by Mr. Elkanah Healey:

1. That this Meeting regards with satisfaction the large amount of success which has attended the work of this Department, during the past year, as detailed in the Report now read. It is also gratified to find that a growing anxiety is felt for the removal of the burdens still heavily oppressing many of our Chapel Trusts, but regrets that, owing to the inadequacy of the Funds at their disposal, the Chapel Committee have been compelled, even for a time, to restrict the beneficial operations of this branch of the Fund. Under these circumstances, this Meeting renews its suggestion of last year, that Trustees applying for aid from the Relief Loan Fund should raise a larger proportion of debt than is required by rule, and repay the Loans advanced within a shorter term than ten years, and thus co-operate with the Chapel Committee in diffusing the advantages of the Fund over as wide an area as possible.

Moved by the Rev. Charles Prest; seconded by Sir Francis Lycett; and supported by Mr. W. Mewburn:

2. That this Meeting is gratified to find that new Chapel Erections and Enlargements, estimated to provide a considerable number of additional sittings, have been sanctioned during the year, and that, in this way, vigorous efforts are being made in many places to extend as well as to consolidate Wesleyan-Methodism. But it would rejoice, still more, in such an augmentation of the funds at the disposal of the Chapel Committee as would enable them to secure that, in all future new Chapel Erections, no liability remain upon any Trust except a Loan by a Connexional Committee.

Moved by the Rev. W. B. Pope; seconded by Mr. T. P. Bunting; and supported by the Rev. E. E. Jenkins:

3. That this Meeting deeply regrets the loss sustained in the death of Mr. John Fernley, the senior Treasurer of the Chapel Fund, and desires to express its devout thankfulness to Almighty God for the fidelity and ability with which he was enabled, for many years, to serve the Church of Christ. By generously devoting his gifts of time, talent, and influence to originating and perfecting the plans and principles upon which the Regulations of the Chapel Committee are founded, the late Mr. Fernley rendered invaluable service to the cause of Methodism, whilst his munificent bequest to one branch of the Chapel Fund will remain as one among the many proofs with which his life abounded, of the deep and intelligent interest which he felt in the progress and efficiency of this Department of our affairs.

Moved by the Rev. W. Jackson (A); seconded by Mr. W. Holland; and supported by Mr. Moore:

4. That the thanks of this Meeting be presented to the District Chapel Secretaries and Committees, to the Circuit Chapel Secretaries, and to the Ministers and Trustees who have acted with them, for their valuable services to this Department of Methodism.

Moved by the Rev. J. Clapham; seconded by Mr. T. Bucktrout; and supported by the Rev. Dr. Scott:

5. That the thanks of this Meeting be presented to Messrs. Healey and Napier, the Treasurers; to the Rev. Messrs. Edwards and Tindall, the General Secretaries; to the Rev. John Bedford, Secretary of the Board of Trustees for Chapel Purposes; and to the Committee, for their diligent and faithful services.

Grants from the Ordinary Fund		£1,000
Loans „ „		3,250
Grants „ „	(Special)	8,250

Six Chapels have been opened for Public Worship. The following Payments have been made, viz. :

Loans	£4,650
Grants	800
And Grants from the Special Fund, including Sir Francis Lycett's Donations	8,200

Loans have been repaid amounting to	£1,197	10	0
The amount of Subscriptions, Donations, and Collections has been	1,533	10	0

The ordinary income has increased during the year, £938. 19*s.* 6*d.*

Twenty-nine Public Meetings have been held, and one hundred and thirteen Sermons preached in the various Metropolitan Chapels on behalf of the Fund.

The Committee has listened to an appeal on behalf of the Westminster Chapel, and has agreed not to press for the repayment of its loan of £1,100 made some years ago towards the purchase of the site. This has been agreed to in the hope and expectation that the whole scheme of liquidation will be successful.

The Provincial Fund has reached nearly £64,500.

The Fund has sustained heavy losses during the year in the removal, by death, of several of its supporters, both Ministers and laymen.

Since the Fund was established in 1861, thirty-two new Chapels have been erected, and two have been enlarged. Four School-Chapels and four iron temporary Chapels have been built. Additional accommodation has thus been provided for thirty-five thousand people, at a cost of about £170,000. Three Chapels and two School-rooms are now in course of erection; and sixteen sites are ready for occupation.

THE following Resolutions were adopted:—

Moved by the Rev. William W. Stamp, D.D.; seconded by Mr. T. P. Bunting:

1. That this Meeting has heard, with gratitude to God, of the progress of the Metropolitan Wesleyan Chapel Building Fund during the year, both in the number of Chapels which have been opened, and in the increase of Annual Subscriptions and Collections. The Meeting hears also with thankfulness of the amount of Donations which has been promised in the Provinces.

Moved by the Rev. Joseph Hargreaves; seconded by Mr. John Berrie:

2. That considering the moral and spiritual needs of the Metropolis, this Meeting endorses the request of the Committee, and recommends the Conference to renew the expression of its sympathy with this movement, and to urge upon the London Ministers and friends enlarged efforts in reference to increased Subscriptions in the Circuits, and Annual Sermons and Meetings in the various Chapels.

Moved by the Rev. Dr. Nelles; seconded by Mr. William D. Stephens:

3. That this Meeting recommends that the thanks of the Conference be given to Sir Francis Lycett, and Mr. William M'Arthur, M P., the Treasurers; to the Rev. Gervase Smith, M.A., the General Secretary, and to the Rev. John A. Armstrong, and Mr. Samuel D. Waddy, B.A., the Assistant Secretaries, for their services during the past year.

The Report of the Committee of Management, and that of the Army and Navy Committee, having been read, and the recommendations of the Committee respecting grants for extraordinary claims having been revised and approved, the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Moved by the Rev. C. Prest; seconded by the Rev. Dr. Jobson, and supported by Mr. Thomas Dyson, of Thurgoland:

1. That in recommending to the Conference the adoption of the Report, this Committee records its grateful acknowledgments to Almighty God for His continued blessing on our Home Mission work, and on our ministrations to declared Wesleyans in the Army and Royal Navy; and considering the urgent necessities of the rural parts of the country for additional Ministers, who should be specially charged with evangelical ministrations to the people in villages, and with the pastoral oversight of them and of their children, this meeting recommends to the Conference that direction be given to the Committee of Management to pay special attention to this question during the coming year, and to the largely increased expenditure which must result from it, if the village population of our land shall be more adequately provided for. This Committee further recommends to the Conference that special effort should be forthwith made by the Connexion for defraying the debt upon the Fund, and for increasing that Fund, so as to enable it to meet the pressing calls now made for the employment of Home Missionary Ministers.

Moved by Mr. Thomas May, of Bristol; seconded by Mr. Elkanah Healey, of Liverpool:

2. That the Conference be requested to recommend that, at the ensuing Financial District Meetings held throughout the country, a local District Sustentation Fund Committee be appointed. That this Committee consist of lay gentlemen, being members of Society, and living within the District. That the object of this Committee be to raise the minimum allowance in every Circuit to £150 per annum, with the customary addition of house-rent, taxes, etc. That for the attainment of this object local subscriptions be raised whereby to enable the Committee to supplement the income of Ministers until the minimum be obtained. That, in order to encourage local effort, it shall be a fundamental rule of the Committee never to make a grant beyond a moiety of the increase of the allowance to be paid, such other moiety being raised by the aid of the Circuit itself.

Moved by the Rev. Joseph Bush; seconded by Mr. T. W. Pocock:

3. That this Committee is glad to learn that the efforts of the Committee of Management to augment the insufficient allowances of many of the Ministers in our claimant Circuits are being met, in several cases, by corresponding local exertions; but whilst the debt upon the Fund, now amounting to more than £8,000, renders it inexpedient to increase the grants now made for ordinary deficiencies, the Committee hopes that the encouragement held out to increase the allowances of our Ministers in claimant Circuits will be continued until the object contemplated shall be more fully realised.

Moved by the Rev. H. W. Williams; seconded by Mr. Bainbridge, of Newcastle:

4. That the thanks of this Committee be given to those Ministers and friends who have advocated the claims of our Home Missions during the year; to those who have given invaluable personal labour to our Mission work; to the subscribers and collectors; and to those young persons and children who have been successfully engaged in Juvenile Associations.

Moved by the Rev. John Farrar; seconded by Mr. Holland, of Manchester:

5. That the thanks of this Committee be presented to the Rev. J. W. Greeves and to Mr John Vanner, the Treasurers; to the Rev. Charles Prest, the General Secretary; to the Rev. Alexander M'Aulay and John Bond, the Secretaries; and to the Committee of Management; for their valuable services during the year.

2. That this Committee has heard with much pleasure that some bodies of Trustees have made grants from their surplus income in aid of this Fund, during the year: and also that in a few instances a congregational collection has been voluntarily made, even in Circuits which have raised in the classes the full amount required by rule; and it recommends that the Conference should present its cordial thanks to those who have thus kindly and spontaneously assisted our disabled Ministers and Widows.

APPENDIX IX.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF REVIEW OF THE WESLEYAN THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION,

HELD IN NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, JULY 26TH, 1873.

The President of the Conference in the Chair.

MINUTES of Meetings of the General Committee were read by the Secretary.

Moved by the Rev. Charles Prest; seconded by Mr. Mawe, of Doncaster; supported by Mr. Joseph Agar, of York:—

1. That this Meeting receives with much satisfaction the Reports of the Governors and Examiners of the three Branches of the Institution, and renews the expression of its gratitude to Almighty God for His continued blessing vouchsafed during another year to this important department of Methodism.

Moved by the Rev. Ebenezer E. Jenkins, M.A.; seconded by Mr. Elkanah Healey, of Liverpool; supported by Mr. Ward, of Aylesbury:—

2. That this Committee, recognizing the important services rendered during the past year by the Governors and Tutors of the several Branches, and by the General and Local Treasurers and Secretaries, recommends to the Conference that its cordial thanks be presented to them for the same.

Moved by the Rev. Gervase Smith, M.A.; seconded by Mr. Miles Tillotson, of Bradford; supported by the Rev. Michael Johnson:—

3. That this Meeting recommends that the best thanks of the Committee be given to those Ministers and Gentlemen who have conducted the Examinations at the various Branches of the Institution during the past year.

Moved by Mr. George Lidgett, B.A.; seconded by Mr. William W. Pocock; supported by Mr. Joseph Ryder:—

4. That considering the great importance of the services of our Local Preachers to the work of God, and the desirableness of maintaining, and, if possible, increasing their efficiency, with the view not only to the general interests of that work, but in particular to the fact that from among them only is drawn the supply of our candidates for the Ministry, the Conference be requested to appoint a Committee, consisting in part of Local Preachers, to meet during the year, to ascertain what means can be adopted to assist Local Preachers in preparation for their important work, and to report to the next Conference.

Moved by Mr. T. Percival Bunting; seconded by the Rev. John Rattenbury; supported by Mr. Thomas H. Squance:—

5. That this Committee, having received and adopted the Resolution passed by the Local Committee of the Headingley Branch, on the occasion of the intended retirement of the Rev. John Lomas from the office of Theological Tutor, deems it right to add its own grateful testimony to the value of the services which Mr. Lomas has, for several years, rendered to the Institution, both at Richmond and at Headingley, as indeed, for more than half a century, to Methodism at large. His many and varied natural endowments, his theological and general learning, and his calm, clear, and attractive eloquence, sustained and commended by a character singularly pure and lofty, have long been the choice possession of the Connexion; and, after having been devoted, for many years, to the ordinary work of the Ministry, have subsequently been employed in the highest service, that of preparing others for similar, if not for equal, usefulness. An acute thinker, a cautious counsellor, a subtle yet candid disputant, a charitable opponent, the most genial and generous of friends, Catholic in his tastes and sympathies, in all things humble and unselfish, he has commanded the unreserved confidence and affection of his brethren. Though he is now withdrawing from his more public services to the Church of God, his influence will still tell upon the many whom he has instructed in the deeper mysteries of the faith of Christ, and upon multitudes more, to whom, by the illustration and enforcement of its plainer truths, he has, by the blessing of God, imparted abiding comfort, encouragement, and hope. To his more retired sphere of usefulness this Committee follows him with prayers and blessings, assured that He whom he has served will be the joy and solace of his declining years, and then be his portion for ever.

APPENDIX X.

MEETING OF THE EDUCATION COMMITTEE OF REVIEW,

INVITED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE DIRECTION OF THE LAST CONFERENCE.

The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

On the motion of the Rev. W. Arthur, M.A.; seconded by Mr. T. C. Squance, of Sunderland; and supported by the Ex-President, the Rev. Dr. James:

1. That this Meeting is thankful to learn that the interests entrusted to the oversight of the Education Committee are generally in a prosperous condition; and especially, that the two Training Colleges have been so fully occupied during the year, and have been worked with such satisfactory results. The Meeting is glad to find that the income of the year 1872 showed some increase on that of 1871; and that it was so far in excess of the current expenditure as to permit a considerable sum to be carried to the capital account; but, in view of the very heavy debt with which the Fund will be chargeable at the end of the present year, the Meeting deems it of grave importance that the annual income of the Fund be increased to the amount proposed when the Conference resolved upon the establishment of the additional Training College.

On the motion of the Rev. Dr. Rigg; seconded by Mr. W. Mewburn, of Banbury; and supported by Mr. T. P. Bunting, of London, and Mr. Barlow, of Bolton.

2. That this Meeting hears with much gratification of the extended and successful operations of "The Children's Home." It recognizes the special work undertaken by that institution as highly important, both in its social and religious aspects, and expresses an earnest hope that its efficiency will be maintained and advanced, and that adequate contributions will continue to be provided for its support.

On the motion of the Rev. Frederic Greeves; seconded by Mr. T. Moscrop, of Bolton; and supported by the Rev. Joseph Hargreaves:

3. That this Meeting learns with satisfaction that measures for the improvement of Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools have occupied the attention of the Education Committee during the year, and that proposals for the formation of a Connexional Sunday-School Union are to be submitted to the Conference for consideration. The Meeting believes that such Union, if wisely constructed and vigorously worked, will tend to encourage the Connexional element in the character and operations of our Sunday-Schools, and to render them more efficient in management, in methods of instruction, and in spiritual results.

On the motion of the Rev. E. E. Jenkins, M.A.; seconded by Mr. W. Holland, of Manchester; and supported by Mr. J. B. Falconar, of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

4. That the thanks of this Meeting be presented to the Rev. J. H. Rigg, D.D., Principal of Westminster Training College; the Rev. G. W. Olver, B.A., Principal of Southlands Training College; the Rev. T. Woolmer and Mr. Isaac Hoyle, the Treasurers; the Rev. G. O. Bate, the Secretary; the Rev. J. Clulow, Visitor of Day and Sunday Schools; and to the Members of the Acting Committee, for their diligent and faithful services during the year.

APPENDIX XII.

ABSTRACT OF THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON HIGHER EDUCATION.

I. The Special Committee appointed by the Conference to consider the question of Higher Education, and the steps which the Conference should take to avail itself of the altered circumstances in University towns, appointed a Sub-Committee to make various inquiries, and especially to consider the expediency of acquiring the Leys Estate in Cambridge for the purpose of a High School. The Report of the Sub-Committee is embodied in the following suggestions :—

"1. That it is desirable to establish a good public School upon the Leys Estate, Cambridge.

"2. That it is desirable to receive boys from the age of ten years upwards; but that the junior division of the School reside in a separate building.

"3. That the School be under Methodist management, but be perfectly open to boys belonging to other Churches.

"4. That all the boys resident in the School shall attend a Wesleyan-Methodist place of worship.

"5. That, if a Chaplain be appointed to the School, he shall be non-resident, and his appointment shall rest with the Wesleyan-Methodist Conference.

"6. That an effort be made to raise not less than £15,000 by means of nominations, the right to a nomination for life being offered for £100, the right to a single nomination for £50.

"7. That if £15,000 can be thus raised, it is desirable to contemplate the immediate erection on the Leys Estate of buildings suitable to the accommodation of 250 boys, on a plan admitting of enlargement; funds for such erection to be raised, if necessary, upon mortgage.

"8. That it is desirable, at least for the present, to admit to the School those boys only who obtain nominations.

"9. That the ordinary annual charge for pupils thus nominated be eighty guineas, this sum including all items usually included in the annual charge at the best schools of similar character; but that the nominees of all persons who shall qualify as Donors, (by the gift of £50,) or as Life Donors, (by the gift of £100,) before the sum of £15,000 has been raised for the purchase of the Leys Estate, shall be admitted during the first five years at a reduced rate of charge, viz., at the rate of seventy-five guineas per annum for the nominee of a Donor, and at the rate of seventy guineas per annum for the nominee of a Life Donor. These fees will of course be somewhat lower in the junior division.

"[If 100 boys be thus obtained for the first year, the income of the School will fully meet the annual expenditure, which, calculated upon the most liberal scale, can scarcely exceed for education, £2,350, maintenance, (including Rates, Taxes, etc.,) £4,000, interest on money borrowed, (for building and furnishing, see No. 7,) £650, making a total of £7,000.]

"10. That the Governing Body be appointed according to the following scheme:—

"The Governing Body shall consist of twenty Governors.

"The President of the Conference for the time being, the Secretary, and the Ex-President of the Conference, shall be Governors ex-officio.

"Two Governors shall be apointed by the officers, viz., the Theological and Classical Tutors, the House Governors, and Assistant Tutors, (if Ministers in full connexion,) of the three branches of the Wesleyan Theological Institution.

"Three Governors (one of whom shall be the Principal of one of the Wesleyan Training Colleges) shall be elected by the General Education Committee.

"One Governor shall be elected by the resident Masters of the school.

"Eleven Governors shall be elected by the first Life Donors, i.e., those who become Life Donors before the sum of £15,000 has been raised for the purchase of the Leys Estate; each Life Donor having in such election one vote in virtue of each nomination which he holds.

"N.B.—No Master shall be a Governor.

"11. That when these first Life Donors shall be so far reduced in number as to represent less than one hundred nominations, it is desirable that the number of Governors to be elected by the first Life Donors according to the above scheme be diminished according to a sliding scale; and that the additional Governors necessary to make up the original number of twenty be elected partly by the Governors for the time being, and partly by subsequent Life Donors, according to a scheme to be afterwards settled."

These recommendations were adopted by the Special Committee, and referred to the favourable consideration of the Conference.

II. The Special Committee further recommended to the Conference the suggestion contained in the following portion of the Report of the Sub-Committee:—

"The establishment of a Hostel for undergraduates in close connection with the school is, we think, altogether undesirable. Nor can we recommend the opening of any Hostel in the technical sense of the word, as denoting a house (presided over by a Cambridge graduate) occupied by those only who are not members of a College. If, however, a Minister were appointed by the Conference as Chaplain to the school, he might receive into his house undergraduates, (who might or might not be members of a College,) and young men wishing to enter the University; and we believe that such an arrangement would be productive of many advantages. Methodist parents would have confidence in sending sons to the University, if they could place them for a time under the care of one whom they themselves knew, and in whom they could place implicit trust. Undergraduates have earnestly desired to find a Minister with whom their relation might be more intimate than with their College Tutor. This plan, which we earnestly recommend, was in the first instance suggested by men of the highest eminence in the University, and has been favourably received by all with whom we have conversed on the subject. The relation between such a Minister and those under his care would not admit of great strictness of discipline, but would open a field for influence of the most powerful and beneficial kind, which would last long after the undergraduate had passed into a College, or had left the University. An appointment of this kind would, we believe, be favourably regarded by the University authorities, and would be welcomed by many who were not themselves inmates of the House. The plan, if it proved successful, might with advantage be extended to Oxford."

III. The Special Committee also adopted and referred to the Conference the scheme proposed by the Rev. Frederic Greeves, and sanctioned by the Sub-Committee, for the improvement of Methodist Trust-Property in Oxford. On this subject the Sub-Committee reported

"The enlargement and alteration of the Chapel, the extinction of the existing debt, the erection of vestries and a Minister's house, will require an expenditure amounting to nearly £5,000. The deputation appointed to visit Oxford had the opportunity of examining Mr. Greeves's plans; and we join in heartily recommending that he be authorized to carry them into effect, and that efforts be made to raise the requisite funds. The proposition before us is characterized by great moderation and practical good sense: if it receive the sanction of the Committee and the Conference, we cannot doubt that the interests of Methodism in the University and in the city of Oxford will be greatly promoted."
